POLICE FIRE SHOTS TO DISPERSE RIOTERS

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Police today opened fire on crowds of rioters in Patna. Unofficial reports said at least five persons were injured and two may have been killed.

The rioters were protesting against rising prices, India's foreign policy, and increased tuition fees.

Among the injured was Bihar State's inspector general of police, the region's top-ranking law enforcement official.

DRIFTING DEATH SHIP was sighted Sunday by U.S. Coast Guard patrol aircraft. Three bodies were found on the 125-foot Panamanian cargo vessel, Seven Seas, adrift about 100 miles south of Miami. A crewman was found alive hiding in a chain locker. The vessel was bound for Tampa.

FRIGHTENED CREWMAN WITNESS

Murder on High Seas

Eight men were on the Panamanian flag vessel Seven Seas when it left Miami Saturday bound for repairs in a Tampa dry dock. It was due to arrive today.

The seaman, Elvin Burywise, 25, was hiding in the vessel's chain locker room when the coast guard boarded the Seven Seas shortly after noon Sunday.

Burywise told them he saw a crew member shoot the first mate in the bunk. He said he then ran to the bridge to notify the captain, and found Capt. Rogelio Diaz of Miami dead.

Burywise said four men had been shot to death, but there were only three bodies. The coast guard surmised the fourth had been thrown overboard.

A coast guard patrol plane first sighted the Seven Seas at 11:45 a.m. Sunday, drifting approximately 100 miles south of Miami.

The coast guard cutter Cape Shoalwater, already on patrol in the Florida Straits nearby, rushed to the scene.

Coast guard aircraft and a boarding party immediately began a search for the vessel's missing 14-foot skiff and the three persons believed to be aboard.

Island to Renew Indonesian Ties

SINGAPORE (CP)—This island state pulled out of the 23-month-old Federation of Malaysia today and immediately became embroiled with federal prime minister, Tunku Abdul Pahman, over relations with Indonesia.

Premier Lee Kuan Yew of Singapore told a press conference Singapore wants to be friends with Indonesia, which has sworn to crush Malaysia. Singapore once carried on a flourishing trade with Indonesia and obviously wants to regain it.

Lee declared, however, that co-operation with Indonesia would be impossible unless the Indonesians recognize Singapore as a sovereign, independent nation.

In Jakarta, Indonesia Deputy Premier Subandrio said Indonesia was ready to recognize Singapore but would continue its hostile policy toward the federation.

In the federal capital of Kuala Lumpur, Rahman was asked at a press conference what would happen if Singapore established diplomatic relations with Indonesia and Red China.

HARM INTENDED

"If they do that, the obvious intention is to harm our interests," Rahman replied. "We can't allow that to happen. We would take action."

Rahman did not elaborate, but he noted that the separation agreement signed by his government and Singapore included a pledge "not to undertake to enter into any treaty or agreement with a foreign country which may be detrimental to the independence and defence of the territory of the other party."

Lee said nothing about seeking diplomatic recognition from Peking in charting a neutral course for his new nation, but said Singapore would trade with all nations, including Red China.

Rahman told Parliament in Kuala Lumpur that Singapore and Malaysia would continue to co-operate in defence and economic affairs despite secession of the federation's chief port and metropolis.

In Singapore, riot police stood guard in Malay sections of the largely Chinese port ready for any demonstrations against secession.

Singapore's 1,200,000 Chinese, 70 per cent of the population, began exploding firecrackers as soon as the break was announced.

There were no immediate reports of violence, but police were on guard against any outbreak of Malay-Chinese rioting similar to that in which 23 persons were killed in July, 1964.

Racial differences have been one of the major causes of friction between predominantly-Chinese Singapore and the rest of Malaysia in recent months. The federation has been accused of giving preferential treatment to Malays.

The split is the outcome of political rivalry between the Malaysian Chinese, who dominate the economy of the federation, and the Malays who control the federal government in Kuala Lumpur.

MALAYS MINORITY

The Chinese made up about 42 per cent of the federation's population of 11,000,000 and slightly outnumber the Malays. But the constitution gave 104 of

SECESSION SHOCKS WHITEHALL

LONDON (Reuters)—Singapore's secession from the Malaysian Federation came as a shock in British diplomatic circles today.

"In formal terms our defence agreement with Malaysia and possibly other aspects of our relations may have to be reconsidered," a Commonwealth relations office spokesman said.

He said Britain was informed in advance of Singapore's decision to secede, and added:

"We cannot anticipate our decisions. We are seking clarification of the position from our high commissioner in Kuala Lumpur (Malaysia's capital)."

YUKON, B.C. BORDER

Forest Fire Threatens 15 Families

LOWER POST, B.C. (CP)—A major forest fire more than doubled its size during the weekend, moving within two miles of the homes of 15 families at Mile 543 of the Alaska Highway.

The families packed their belongings in cars and trucks, ready to flee if they had to.

Late Sunday an east wind blew the fire back on itself to lessen the threat. The weather was cool with a possibility of rain, but residents feared a strong prevailing wind could cause a new sweep of fire in their direction.

ALL NIGHT GUARD

Men stood guard all night on the fire, burning just south of the Yukon Border in B.C.

The blaze spread from 12,000 to 30,000 acres Saturday, crisscrossing the Alaska Highway several times, bringing down telegraph lines and approaching within 300 yards of a microwave tower.

An Otter water bomber, several tractors and 70 men fought the flames. Wind carried sparks as much as a mile ahead, starting smaller fires, and a dozen water trucks soaked buildings through the night at Mile 543.

The blaze at dark Sunday covered an area 15 miles long and one to two miles across.

PACKED EVERYTHING

"We all packed everything we could in the cars and waited to see what would happen," said Mrs. Margot Windrum, in a telephone interview from the lodge she runs with her husband at the tiny community.

"It was two miles away, but the roaring of the fire was terrific, and the smoke was choking.

"The fire has wreaked havoc along the road," she said. "We saw bewildered animals standing on the road trying to escape the fire."

The hazard dropped across the rest of the province with the spread of cooler and moist weather.

There were eight new fires reported on the Island between Friday night and this morning. All are extinguished or under control.

B.C. Hydro Issues New Parity Bonds

VANCOUVER (CP) — Premier Bennett today announced the issue of $100,000,000 worth of five per cent parity development bonds to finance the British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority.

The premier told about 300 representatives of the financial community that Hydro development bonds will be issued in future on a five-year cycle basis.

He told the financiers at a breakfast meeting that a B.C.-packed parity bond is "the best piece of paper in the world."

The bonds are cashable at par at any time.

The issue replaces the $100,000,000 series issued Sept. 1, 1961.

Bonds are available in two forms.

Coupon bonds are available in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.

Fully registered bonds are issued in denominations of $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.

The five per cent interest is payable quarterly.

The bonds are unconditionally guaranteed by the province. Half the issue matures Sept. 1, 1969, and the other half one year later.

Mr. Bennett said demand for the bonds will be such that "It'll be hard to hold back the rush" for them.

Heavy Water Project Dims For City Firm

By JIM HUME
Times Business Editor

Western Deuterium Ltd., the Victoria based firm organized by Harold Husband of the Victoria Machinery Depot, is in danger of losing a $46 million contract to build a heavy water plant at Estevan, Sask.

Mr. Husband said today that negotiations between the company and officials of Atomic Energy of Canada were still continuing, but that as yet no contract for the building of the plant had been signed.

"The main problem lies in our inability to promise delivery of heavy water 31 months after we sign the contract," Mr. Husband said.

Failure to produce heavy water on time would result in heavy penalties for the company involved.

Mr. Husband stressed that mass production problems were the main stumbling block at present.

"Our process for making heavy water is new and untried," Mr. Husband said. "Basically the problem is that the process is not far enough advanced to guarantee delivery on time."

$14 A POUND

Experimental work by Western Deuterium experts indicated that heavy water could be produced at $14 a pound as compared with the $20 a pound cost estimated at the heavy water plant being built in Nova Scotia.

"The problem is in the technical feasibility of producing heavy water at that low cost in a $46 million plant," Mr. Husband said.

Saskatchewan Premier Ross Thatcher said today that a new British process which extracts heavy weater at a cost of between $7 and $8 a pound could be the reason behind the reluctance of Western Deuterium to go ahead.

"The project isn't dead yet as far as we know," he said. "But if their process is obsolete we can't blame them for dropping it."

Mr. Husband said his company was studying the feasibility of using the British method to reduce costs.

The Saskatchewan government guaranteed up to $45 million in bond financing to get the plant located at Estevan.

Mr. Husband said many of the

'Folly' For UN To Start

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Martin appealed today to United Nations members to drop the dispute which has tied up the general assembly and deal with important international problems at the next assembly session.

"It would be folly to go through the inflexible positions of the previous few years," Mr. Martin said at a press conference in reference to a dispute over non-payment of assessments by such members as Russia and France.

He has summoned home Canadian Ambassador Paul Tremblay to review the agenda and prospects of the assembly getting down to work.

Chinese Against Ceasefire

HONG KONG (Reuters) — China today declared itself against a ceasefire in Viet Nam and said a peace call from Yugoslavia and India was an attempt to gain time for the United States.

China's opposition to a ceasefire was stated in the Peking People's Daily, official mouthpiece of the Peking government. The article was written by "Observer," cover-name for a leading Chinese official.

It said that the ceasefire call by President Tito of Yugoslavia and Prime Minister Shastri of India was made in the hope of hoodwinking public opinion and duping those who do not know the true position.

'Serious' Proposals Made to End Tieup

VANCOUVER (CP)—A federal mediator travelled between company and union rooms at a luxury waterfront hotel during the weekend, trying to harvest an agreement in the Vancouver grain strike.

Dr. G. Neil Perry, choosing his words carefully, said both sides were "studying serious proposals." He said nothing about specific progress or specific issues.

Hours ran late in a series of separate meetings with the presidents of five grain companies and with leaders of the striking grain handlers.

Dr. Perry said it "would prejudice our discussions" to say whether the personal participation of the company presidents had brought the dispute nearer settlement since their arrival Friday.

Montreal Strike Over

MONTREAL (GP) — Some 1,000 grain-handlers in the port of Montreal today voted to return to work following a strike that has lasted seven weeks.

The workers voted 90.3 per cent in favor of the move, which takes effect Tuesday morning.

NOT ME, SAYS JACKIE

Who Was That Woman on Yacht?

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI)—Who was that woman aboard the Sinatra yacht?

It was NOT Mrs. John F. Kennedy, a family spokesman said today.

Even Mrs. Kennedy is curious.

"I wonder who that woman was? It wasn't me," Jacqueline was quoted as asking Pamela Turnure, her private secretary.

The mixup, which baffled veteran newsmen who have long covered the meanderings of the Kennedy clan, began when a woman boarded the Sinatra yacht Saturday as it anchored off this summer resort. Sinatra personally welcomed her aboard.

She was dressed in light colored slacks, a black sweater, white sneakers and had a white kerchief on her head. She carried a white handbag.

To the trained — and untrained eye — it looked like Jacqueline.

Photographs of the woman showed a remarkable likeness to the former first lady.

A more careful study of the pictures today disclosed that the woman might have been Pat Lawford, Jacqueline's sister-in-law and wife of actor Peter Lawford.

A long-time friend of Sinatra's, it was reported that Pat visited the yacht this weekend.

Miss Turnure said the mysterious woman "looks like Pat to me."

Increased Shoe Allowance Given to Letter Carriers

MONTREAL (CP)—The city's 4,100 postal workers were all back at work early today—the postmen carrying back-breaking loads of first-class mail sorted during the weekend.

The return to work—after a 17-day strike—followed a unanimous vote by 3,000 sorters and postmen who attended a meeting Saturday during which their leaders reported Ottawa had agreed to a $22 increase in the $38 shoe allowance for letter carriers.

This was on top of salary increases for letter carriers of $510 a year. Inside postal workers won increases of up to $550.

The agreement raised annual salaries for all postal workers to maximums from $4,470 to $4,930, which, including the $22 increase in shoe allowance, will cost the government an additional $5,000,000 a year.

Workers at the meeting Saturday cheered when union leaders announced the government was soon going to establish a system of collective bargaining.

The lack of collective bargaining for civil servants was scored by Postmaster-General Rene Tremblay during a press conference Saturday, and he blamed the strike on the lack of such a system.

GIVE BARGAINING RIGHTS

"Fundamentally, the reason for this strike was a lack of collective bargaining machinery. This is in the process of being rectified—as speedily as possible as far as the government is concerned," he said.

William Houle, Montreal president of the Postal Employees' Association, told the meeting that failure to win retroactivity to Oct. 1, 1964, for the whole increase was "unsatisfactory," but that otherwise he was happy.

The government had earlier agreed to an increase of $300 to $360 retroactive to Oct. 1 but would not bulge on its stand that the additional increase based on Judge J. C. Anderson's report would only be effective as of Aug. 1.

Judge Anderson was appointed a one-man commission to study federal government Class D salaries in the wake of the postal workers' strike which started July 22 and spread to 75 centres, including 70 per cent of the country's postal workers, and affected B.C., Ontario and Quebec. There are 35,000 other federal government employees in Class D occupations.

STRATFORD-ON-AVON, England — Wreckers today crushed a beautifully-preserved 1932 automobile into a solid lump of metal to serve as its owner's tombstone.

The owner, who wanted her name kept secret, had cared lovingly for the 1932 Austin and could not bear the thought of anyone else driving it.

"Everyone who saw it wanted to buy it," said a spokesman for the firm which crushed the car.

"But the owner had given instructions for the car to be crushed. It was a horrible decision for her to have to make, but she had had the car for years and did not want anyone else to have it.

"The column of metal will stand in her garden until she dies. Then it will be moved to her grave as a headstone.

"It was a pity," the spokesman said. "It was heartbreaking to see the car go through the crusher."

the 159 seats in the lower house of Parliament to mainland Malaya, and the Malays had most of these.

The secession agreement gives Britain continued use of its extensive military bases in Singapore as long as necessary for the defence of the area and the preservation of peace in Southeast Asia.

Britain has some 50,000 troops committed to the defence of Malaysia.

Lee said his government will be neither pro-Communist nor anti-Communist and will trade with all countries, including Communist China. He said the Communist Bank of China will be allowed to continue its Singapore branch — which the Malaysian government had ordered closed by Aug. 14—but no officials from Peking would be allowed to direct its operations within the state.

Lee agreed to the split Saturday at a meeting in Kuala Lumpur with Rahman. He said Rahman told him the only way to solve the problems of Malaysia was for Singapore to leave the federation.

"I told him that I thought there was another way out, that we could remain in the federation if if were a little looser," Lee said. "But Tunku said if we insisted, he would not be able to control events."

Lee pledged that Singapore will be a multi-racial nation and "not a Chinese nation," he said.

As Lee spoke, the Malaysian Parliament approved 126-to-0 a constitutional amendment separating Singapore from the federation. One member abstained. All but one of the 15 members representing Singapore were absent.

"There have been so many differences with Singapore and now we have come to this breaking point. . . . In my mind there is no other solution," Rahman said.

He told Parliament Malaysia's ruling Alliance party tried every available means to gain the co-operation of the Singapore government and its People's Action party but that this had been a hopeless task.

Rahman added that the announcement of Singapore's secession from Malaysia was the "most painful and heartbreaking" one he had ever made during his leadership.

In an address directed to the people of Singapore, Lee said:

"We will have a multi-racial society. Everyone will have his place. Everyone will be equal in language, culture and race." He added that his government would continue to protect the interests of Singapore's Malay minority.

Malaysia was stablished Sept. 16, 1963, as a federation of the former British territories of Malaya, Singapore, Sarawak and Sabah (North Borneo.)

The new state was opposed from the start by President Sukarno of Indonesia who ever since has waged a campaign of infiltration by guerrillas and saboteurs against it.

Lee has been campaigning for an end to the Malay domination of political life. His demands for a better deal for the Chinese brought a demand from a Malay political leader for Lee's arrest.

A spokesman for the British government said in London Britain was informed in advance of the split. But the announcement caused surprise in London, and the government was reported seeking clarification of its effect.

major problems could be removed of Western Deuterium could get permission to build a fertilizer plant in conjunction with the heavy water plant.

"It is a major factor that our heavy water process depends heavily on ammonia and lends to the production of ammonia," he said. "It is an important aspect of the present negotiations. A plant producing ammonia and fertilizer could solve some of the problems."

Mr. Husband said he did not know at the present time whether Atomic Energy of Canada would be able to extend their 31-month time limit.

"They have to meet their demands," he said. "It may be impossible for them to change the time limit. It is one of the aspects of present discussions. We are trying to see what can be done along all lines connected with the program."

The Western Deuterium method of extracting heavy water had the approval of AECL scientists.

Last April the AECL president, J. Gray, said he was satisfied that though Western Deuterium plans were different from others they were technically sound.

Estevan is 110 miles southeast of Regina.

START THIS FALL

The $46,000,000 plant was slated to produce about 300 tons a year of heavy water, starting production in late 1967. Construction was scheduled to start this fall.

The first heavy water plant approved in Canada is under construction at Glace Bay, N.S., and will have a production capacity of about 200 tons a year.

Western Deuterium's process itself was new at the time plans for the plant were announced in February. Sales of 300 tons a year for five years were guaranteed by Atomic Energy of Canada Ltd., which controls heavy water sales in Canada.

NEGRO DEMANDS TO GROW

Political Revolution Likely With Voting Rights Bill

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — The southern United States will never be the same again.

The Voting Rights Act of 1965, throwing the door open at last for additional thousands of Negroes to vote, should create a political revolution if followed up by Negroes themselves.

Immediately after President Johnson signed the act last Friday his administration got busy to make it work.

The estimated number of whites of voting age in 11 southern states outnumber Negroes by four to one—roughly 20,000,000 to 5,000,000—but in some sections Negroes outnumber whites.

Eventually it can be expected that in those areas, at least, Negroes will be sending representatives to state legislatures and to Congress. As more of them vote, white politicians will have to cater to them and their needs.

As Negroes grow in voting strength their demands for more say in state and local governments and for benefits long denied will increase.

And the number of white southern segregationists in Congress should decrease as more Negroes go to the polls because in many places they may hold the balance of power.

STIR WHITE VOTERS

For one thing, many whites eligible to vote but indifferent about doing so until now, will surely start going to the polls to offset the increase in Negro voters.

For a while, at least, many white southerners, traditionally Democrats, will probably turn to the Republican party while Negroes cling to the Democrats since Johnson has made a big impression on them.

In 11 southern states only 38 per cent of the estimated number of Negroes of voting age—or 1,907,279 out of 5,000,376—were registered to vote.

In the same state 67 per cent of the estimated number of whites of voting age were registered, or 13,688,899 out of 20,032,661.

There was a tremendous difference in the number of Negroes registered in Mississippi: Negroes 6.7 per cent, whites 70.2 per cent.

If Negro leaders can boost Negro registration to 70 per cent for the south as a whole the effect on elections, certainly in some areas within the states, will be indisputable.

HOME GARDEN

Large Hall Chosen For Flower Show

By HILDA BEASTALL

The Victoria Gladiolus and Dahlia Society has scheduled its annual show for Friday and Saturday, Aug. 13 and 14.

Hilda

A larger hall has been chosen, apparently to accommodate extra entries, since this year the local group will be host to the Canadian National Gladiolis Society. The Old Age Pensioners' Hall on Government Street is the new location.

Now that dahlias have been included, the show will have a far wider appeal both for exhibitors and visitors.

Exhibitors have until Thursday night to get their entry forms in to the secretary of the Victoria society, Mrs. B. A. Setchell, 727 Newbury Street. Any gardener growing gladioli or dahlias would be wise to submit an entry.

I cannot think of a better way to increase one's interest in the growing of plants than the occasional exhibiting of some of the results at the local flower shows.

It seems to add stimulus to greater efforts, especially if the gardener has allowed himself to fall into a rut of monotony.

A really attractive garden is no place for monotony. There is always room for improvement, always the urge to try something new whether it be a new plant or a new arrangement of plants.

At this week's show, there are entry classes for designs and arrangements using both dahlias and gladioli in imaginative fashion.

If you are one of the many who have in the past wondered how to use these two kinds of flowers effectively when cut, this will be your chance to get ideas.

The admission fee of 50 cents includes refreshments and a corsage for the ladies.

It cost him an extra $55 and he lost his licence.

Court was told Larsen sped through the intersection of Foul Bay and Oak Bay at 45 m.p.h. Saturday.

He was stopped by police who found his speedometer disconnected and a 25-oz. bottle of whiskey under the seat of his vehicle.

He said he changed his licence so a U-drive agency would rent him a car.

Negro Tactics Adopted

AMERICUS, Ga. (AP) — The Ku Klux Klan, adopting a tactic of Negro demonstrators, staged a silent march and massive rally Sunday only a few hours before Negroes held their own demonstration.

State troopers and city policemen stood by in large number as each group gathered. There were no incidents.

Klan members and white sympathizers marched 600 strong to the street corner where Andrew Whatley, a 21-year-old white man, was shot during a civil rights demonstration. Two Negroes have been indicted on murder charges in his death.

After marchers knelt for a brief memorial service, they followed flags of the United States and the Confederacy along a seven-block route to the Sumter County courthouse where another 400 persons waited.

Seventy-five robed and hooded Klansmen were scattered along the procession. Others wore sport coats emblazoned with Klan emblems.

The demonstrators included many women and some teenagers.

"We're here to let the people know the Klan is on the move," said Calvin Craig of Atlanta, Georgia Grand Dragon. "The Klan is the only salvation of the white man."

URGES SOLUTION

Klan leaders at the same time said they wanted no part of racial violence, and Craig urged white residents of Americus to try to work out problems with Negroes.

When about 300 Negroes gathered a few hours later they renewed demands for a biracial committee. Civil rights leaders have promised to march on the home of Mayor T. Griffin Walker if one is not formed today.

Earlier Sunday, police arrested 22 demonstrators when they attempted to integrate two white churches. John Lewis, head of the Student Non-violent Co-ordinating Committee, was among those jailed.

The demonstrators — 11 Negroes and 11 white persons—were charged with blocking a sidewalk and disturbing worship services.

Pakistani 'Infiltrators' Clash With India Troops

NEW DELHI (AP)—India is rushing security forces to Kashmir to cope with Pakistani "infiltrators," who already have clashed with Indian troops in several places, an official spokesman said today.

He said there has been "extensive infiltration" of armed men from Pakistan since Aug. 5 at several points along the ceasefire line, and the number of infiltrators has swelled to considerable strength.

The official Indian statement, issued at the end of a four-hour meeting of the emergency committee of the cabinet in Prime Minister Lal Bhadur Shastri's official residence, said in part: "From information gathered from prisoners and from the nature and quantity of arms recovered, it is clear the operation has been planned and organized in Pakistan.

"Most of the infiltrators belong to Pakistan-occupied Kashmir forces, though in civilian clothes, and have been obviously sent out with arms and explosives to conduct acts of sabotage and foment disturbances.

"At the same time, Pakistani troops have been firing across the ceasefire line."

PEACE ARCH RALLY URGES WAR HALT

BLAINE, Wash. (AP)—Petitions asking for an end of the war in Viet Nam were circulated Saturday as 500 to 700 persons held a demonstration at the International Peace Arch on the Canadian-U.S. border.

The petitions were addressed to President Johnson, Prime Minister Pearson and Secretary General U Thant of the United Nations.

The demonstration was orderly and included a number of speeches decrying the United States role in southeast Asia.

'KING ALCOHOL' WAR

WCTU Pops Its Cork Over LBJ's Cellar

CHICAGO (UPI)—The Women's Christian Temperance Union has popped its cork about President Johnson's plan to install a wine cellar in the White House.

And to serve beer to teenagers. For shame.

Mrs. Fred T. Tooze, president of the ladies abstinence, scolded President Johnson personally on both counts Saturday night at the opening session of the WCTU's 91st convention.

"John Barleycorn's boot is in the White House door," she said, "and the president of the United States is helping to keep it there."

The president's plan "to put a wine cellar in the White House and the White House innovation of serving beer to teen-agers is to be condemned," she told women delegates.

In a mixture of nostalgic fervor and plans for a big centennial in 1974, the WCTU celebrated the 91st year of their war on "king alcohol." The group's name to the contrary, it does not advocate temperance but total abstinence.

The ladies noted several signs of a grim future:

- A total of 10 million "problem drinkers" in the United States and an increase in the number of alcoholics by 250,000 a year.
- An increase in alcoholism among housewives; admission of female alcoholics to mental institutions up 34 per cent in the decade.
- Since repeal of prohibition, a total of $24 billion spent for "strong drink," according to Mrs. Tooze.

Sato, Pope Renew Appeals for Ban

75,000 VICTIMS REMEMBERED

NAGASAKI (AP)—The citizens of Nagasaki bowed their heads in prayer today to mark the 20th anniversary of the American atomic bomb which left their ancient Japanese city in ruins.

The bells of Buddhist temples and Christian churches tolled and sirens wailed at 11:02 a.m., the time the second of America's wartime nuclear weapons exploded over Nagasaki and killed an estimated 75,000 persons.

Three days earlier a U.S. bomber had dropped the first bomb on Hiroshima.

Eighteen thousand persons crowded into Nagasaki's Peace Park to hear a message from Prime Minister Eisaku Sato. He promised that Japan, as the only nation to suffer the ravages of the bomb, would redouble its efforts to get a worldwide ban of nuclear weapons.

Pope Paul VI, in a new appeal Sunday for a ban on nuclear weapons, described the atomic bombing of Hiroshima as an "infernal massacre" and an "outrage against civilization."

The head of the Roman Catholic church spoke at his summer residence at Castel Gandolfo, Italy, before 10,000 tourists and Italians.

"We pray that the world may never again see such a wretched day as that of Hiroshima; that never again may men put their confidence, their calculation and their prestige into such disastrous and dishonorable weapons," he said.

Peace Marchers Would Recruit Uvic Students

Peace marchers Saturday erected signs at University of Victoria campuses inviting students to take part in a two-day protest rally at RCAF Comox Aug. 28-29.

Other signs were set up around the city.

What's Biting in Tokyo?

TOMORROW REPRESENTATIVES of the United States and Japan are to resume in Tokyo talks about aircraft overflights and North Pacific fishing they adjourned last month in Washington.

The Japanese want to fly planes from San Francisco to New York so they can forge the missing link in a world-girdling air service. They also want to fish further east in the Pacific than the convention of 1952, signed by the two countries and Canada, permitted.

Beyond all this, they would like to extend their textile exports in the United States.

On all three of these issues Canada has a direct or indirect interest. On over-flights and textiles, any agreements reached between the two countries may be of oblique concern only to Canada. On fishing the debate should be of primary interest. Salmon that mingle in the North Pacific with those of Asian origin frequently come from British Columbia natal streams. This makes conservation and control discussions important to Canadians.

It is quite conceivable that North American fishing interests are well represented in the United States-Japanese talks—and that easy communication exists between Canadians and Americans on points at issue. Certainly there seems to be close liaison between the two countries on this side of the ocean.

At the same time a new relationship is arising between the United States and Japan which alters the position existing when those countries signed with Canada the earlier treaty. In 1952 Japan followed with relative obedience where the United States led. Japan now is exercising more of its own will and it runs counter in many instances to that of the United States. For political reasons the Tokyo talks which may lead to negotiation on fisheries could follow lines divergent from earlier treaty discussions when Canada and the United States walked the same, or parallel, fisheries roads.

It might be valuable if Canada's fisheries minister took the people of this country into his confidence on any changes that are in the offing. Changes are coming. Of that there can be no doubt. If misunderstandings are to be avoided, the Canadian public should be given some briefing on what to expect. Here, it seems, the Heeney-Merchant theory of continuous communication might be expanded to take in the public of the two countries as well as the leaders.

Example In B.C.

QUEBEC'S PREMIER JEAN Lesage has reportedly assured other premiers at the Winnipeg meeting that the federal government is prepared to turn over to his province responsibility for Eskimos in northern areas and for treaty Indians. He adds that Ottawa would be prepared to do the same for other provinces, "but most provinces are not ready to accept them."

The Lesage announcement adds a little more confusion to the general picture already obscured by contradictory statements from Quebec and Ottawa. At last reports from the national capital, Indians and Eskimos were still under the jurisdiction of the Canadian government and would stay there until they, the natives, after full consultation, decided they wished their status changed.

But if there is a difference of opinion between federal authorities and the premier of Quebec and his lieutenants, absence of jurisdictional agreement should not prevent sensible co-operation for the good of the Indians and the Eskimos.

Such co-operation has been practiced in British Columbia for years. This province, under the previous Liberal administration, welcomed Indians to the public non-denominational schools whenever the Indians wished to come.

The arrangements with Ottawa were amicable. When natives sought entry to the department of education's schools, federal authorities met per-pupil costs. When new buildings had to be put up, Ottawa paid on a pro rata basis. School integration is an accomplished fact proved by shared accommodation at such points as Alert Bay, Alberni, Hazelton, Lytton and a dozen other locations where Indians have chosen to send their children to regular day school.

This does not transfer the jurisdiction of the native peoples. It merely affords them education opportunities for their young ones in the same schools as white children—if the Indians want it, and a very large number do.

Presumably other provinces in Canada will find the British Columbia arrangement preferable to that suggested by Quebec. Without provoking hostility, that point might be made to Mr. Lesage, with a reminder that British Columbia also showed notable leadership in extending the franchise to Indians, and that this province is deeply aware of the fact that much more should be done to assist the natives when they express reasonable wishes for such help.

Mr. Sukarno Is Not Convinced

EVER SINCE HE PULLED Indonesia out of the United Nations, President Sukarno has been making it evident that he intends to break all ties with the West.

His latest indication of that intent came recently when a new United States ambassador, Mr. Marshall Green, presented his credentials to the president in Jakarta. Although this is normally only a formality, Mr. Sukarno used the occasion to deliver a strong denunciation of American policy in Viet Nam and a condemnation of United States support of the Federation of Malaysia, which Indonesia is committed to destroy.

As if that weren't enough, Mr. Green was subjected to a noisy demonstration by some 2,000 students shouting the usual "Yankee Go Home" slogans when he returned to the American Embassy following the ceremony. Since demonstrations do not take place in Jakarta without government approval, it must be assumed that President Sukarno wished to underscore strongly the point he made to Mr. Green that American-Indonesian relations "have now reached their lowest level."

In Washington, officials had hoped, according to reports, that President Johnson's announcement of further strengthening the American position in Viet Nam would convince Mr. Sukarno that his dreams for a power vacuum in Southeast Asia which could be filled by Indonesia were in vain.

It seems, however, that the Indonesian leader is unconvinced. Domestically he has further strengthened his alliance with the powerful Indonesian Communist Party and externally he has thrown in his lot completely with China and its Communist allies.

FROM WASHINGTON

By JOSEPH ALSOP

Viet Nam and the Korean Example

THE history of the American role in the war in Viet Nam has thus far been stamped all over, in large letters, "Too little and too late!" A good illustration is President Kennedy's 1961 decision to make an important increase in the American contribution. The people who were carrying on a personal vendetta against the late President, Ngo Dinh Diem, elaborately pooh-poohed the results of this decision by President Kennedy. Gen. Harkins and Secretary of Defence Robert McNamara were bitterly denounced for over-optimistic estimates of the war situation in 1962.

Alsop

By now, however, prisoner interrogations and other undoubted intelligence have revealed that the Viet Cong came fairly close to defeat at that time. The modern weapons the United States supplied to the South Vietnamese army, and the major step-up in South Vietnamese fighting power, knocked the Communists temporarily but rather completely off balance.

Instead of being criticized for over-optimism, in fact, Secretary McNamara should have been attacked on another point—the failure to act on one of the 1961 recommendations to back up the South Vietnamese army with American tactical airpower.

Very few people are aware of it, but the fact is that the most important part of President Johnson's Pleiku decision this winter was not the order to bomb North Vietnamese targets. As the decision was implemented, the bombing sorties against the North were more for show than effect for many months on end. But President Johnson's simultaneous removal of all wraps from the use of American tactical airpower in South Viet Nam had a profound effect.

Without this other much less publicized step, the war might well have been lost by now. And if this same step had been taken when the American contribution was increased in 1961, the war might well have been won in the period when the Viet Cong were so badly knocked off balance.

These facts are relevant at the moment because the increase in U.S. troop strength in Viet Nam, which President Johnson announced last week, is currently being denounced as "too little and too late." For once in a way, however, this appears not to be true.

In brief, the U.S. field commander, Gen. Westmoreland, was given quite literally everything he asked for. The armed services were not, however, given all that they asked for as soon as Gen. Westmoreland's requests were in. Thus the call-up of reserves was deferred, for instance.

In these circumstances, the really disquieting aspect of the President's press conference was the interminable and effusive discussion of negotiations with the North Vietnamese. This has left the impression, in the country and throughout the world, that the United States is prepared to stop fighting the next morning after being asked to begin talking.

The big "if," of course, is whether enough progress can be made in Viet Nam to force the Communists to ask for negotiations. If that happens, one may be quite certain the circumstances will broadly resemble those in Korea in June-July, 1951, when the Chinese Communists asked for negotiations.

Reason for Talk

The reason for the Chinese request was simple. The U.S. and South Korean armies had made a superb recovery in the months following the disaster on the Yalu. In June-July, 1951, a powerful offensive threatened the whole Chinese and North Korean front. That was why the Chinese were ready to begin talking.

Unhappily, the offensive was stopped dead in its tracks when talks were requested. The Chinese got a respite. Two more bitter years of fighting followed before the signature of the unsatisfactory peace. The war in Viet Nam is a direct sequel and result.

It is a serious matter, therefore, if the impression is conveyed that the United States is again ready to commit the same silly folly that was committed in Korea in the summer of 1951.

In reality, this impression that President Johnson conveyed is almost certainly misleading. He talks of "unconditional negotiations" because the intention is to keep the pressure on the enemy until an acceptable settlement is agreed upon. But the President will still be wise to remove the false impression, for there are plenty of people who have forgotten the Korean folly and will howl like banshees for a repetition of it, unless the President clears the air in advance.

FROM OTTAWA

By MAURICE WESTERN

Claude, Meet Tommy

MR. CLAUDE JODOIN, president of the Canadian Labor Congress, has taken prompt and vehement exception to the announcement that the government is deferring a number of public construction projects in various parts of the country. His statement, which almost qualifies as a reflex action, contains this remarkable paragraph: "The government says that serious inflationary pressures make the cut-back necessary. We say, where is the evidence? The government has presented no convincing evidence that we are in danger of runaway inflation . . . Repeatedly in this country governments have panicked at the first hint of rising costs and have adopted measures which choke off economic expansion. Now it is happening again. The lessons of the past have not been learnt."

Western

This is a strange mixture of facts and fiction. Mr. Jodoin plainly is the wrong person to level this particular reproach at the government. As one of the godfathers of the New Democratic Party, he must surely be aware that Mr. Douglas, the party leader, has for some months been reproaching the government for exactly the opposite fault—its failure to recognize the strength of inflationary forces in our economy.

Mr. Douglas, it is true, has presented no very convincing anti-inflationary program. But he has been in no doubt that something must be done, and that the government was negligent for not getting on with it.

Douglas Position

The record shows that Mr. Douglas as early as last March was troubled by the advance in steel prices and the effects it was likely to have throughout the economy. He brought the matter up repeatedly and on March 10 declined to be comforted by Mr. Gordon's soothing assurance that Canada's record of price stability was excelled only by that of the United States.

When it was announced on March 22 that the economic council had been asked to make a general study of the relationship of prices, costs and incomes to sustained economic growth, Mr. Douglas doubted that it would be able to bring in recommendations quickly enough "to prevent the spiral of inflation, which is undoubtedly going to follow the increase in the price of steel."

On April 9 Mr. Douglas noted with alarm that the cost of living index had advanced 2.7 percentage points, exceeding the 2 per cent annual increase which the economic council had found tolerable. Mr. Gordon, he felt, should set up machinery in his department to ascertain whether these price increases were justified.

A similar exchange between Mr. Douglas and Mr. Gordon is recorded in Hansard for May 7.

On June 9 Mr. Douglas was back on the same subject. Would the minister of finance say "whether the government has any plans to deal with the situation in the event that this trend continues beyond the danger point, which it has already passed."

But two months later Mr. Jodoin will not admit that the danger point is even in sight. Does labor's right arm consider that its political arm has been shaking with panic?

Studiously Avoided

It is true, of course, that "the government has presented no convincing evidence that we are in danger of runaway inflation." Mr. Gordon for the past year has been unwilling to admit that the inflationary pressures in the economy were serious enough to be of concern to anyone. He allowed himself no margin for inflation in his last budget. The most recent statement on government construction, issued on Tuesday, studiously avoids the word inflation, insisting that "there are no hidden problems, financial or otherwise."

But the latest DBS report released on the same day shows an increase in the consumer price index of .4 per cent in the last month of record.

The government is faced now with an interesting problem. It wants to convince private enterprise of the need for a stretch-out to relieve the pressure on the economy. But it is difficult to be convincing when Mr. Gordon, embarrassed by six months of soothing words, is unwilling to admit that an inflationary threat exists.

MARKED for READING

Part of the attraction of Downing Street, in a way, was that during school holidays, for example, one would go in through the famous front door of No. 10 to find the hall stacked up with children's tennis racquets and hockey sticks and all these sort of things, and know that the children had arrived. And this, you know, gives a sort of humanity to the business of government, which I think has a certain charm, and even a certain usefulness.

U.S. WHEAT

Ship Law Sales Bar

By RICHARD PURSER

From Washington

THE presence of a Soviet trade delegation in Canada has caught the attention of American wheat belt politicians. New attacks are being mounted on the laws that force American wheat exporters to stand by helplessly while Canada and other allies win all the contracts for wheat sales to Communist countries.

Purser

A 1963 U.S. administration ruling decreed that 50 per cent of any wheat sold to Soviet bloc countries must be shipped in American vessels. The result has been that no U.S. wheat is shipped to Soviet bloc countries at all. Shipping rates from the Gulf of Mexico to the Black Sea are about 48 cents per bushel in American vessels and 25 cents per bushel in foreign ships. The difference of 23 cents means that on an order shipped half on American vessels, the U.S. price must be 11½ cents per bushel higher than the comparable Canadian price.

The situation was aired last week by Senator George McGovern of South Dakota, a state which contributed more than a bit to the 800 million bushels of surplus wheat now held by the U.S. government. There are millions of acres of idle U.S. wheatland, and economic depression has struck many wheat producers. Yet, Sen. McGovern complained, the U.S. sold no wheat to east Europe in 1964-65 while Canada and three other western countries sold overe 200 million bushels.

Contradictory

Small wonder under present law, said the senator, that the Soviet wheat men in Canada are not adding the United States to their itinerary. The law itself is contradictory. The Export Control Act (ECA) says that the 50 per cent American shipping rule can only be attached to commercial sales of agricultural products for security or foreign policy reasons. But the administration had officially declared wheat sales to the Soviet Union to be in the national interest.

The shipping restriction "was concocted for domestic political reasons and is one of the most irrational, self-defeating regulations ever devised," said Sen. McGovern. It loses at least $100 million worth of business annually, loses an equal contribution to the U.S. balance of payments, and does nothing for the American shipping industry, since it gives it 50 per cent of no business.

"This foolish restriction," as the senator calls it, was a commerce department sop to the militant anti-Red sentiments of maritime industry labor leaders. The agriculture department is quietly agitating against it. Mr. Raymond Ioanes, administrator of the Foreign Agricultural Service (FAS) recently wrote that Communist countries are likely to continue to be importers of free world wheat. He doubts the theory that their recent large-scale buying is merely a temporary phase in their own development.

Potential Market

The Soviet Union itself, he said, includes much high-risk wheat land. The growing season is short and the growing area susceptible to drought. The production trend "at present appears to be downward," but there will be nearly 20 million more Russians to feed in 1970. China has similar problems, and even more than Russia has "suffered from underinvestment and overregimentation." Its population will increase 77 million by 1970. The Chinese, said Mr. Ioanes, "seem to be resigned to continue wheat imports."

From 1961 to 1964, Canada and Australia supplied 62 per cent of the 1,440 million bushels of free world wheat sold to the Communists. The United States sold only 19 per cent, and virtually all of that before the 1963 ruling.

Drunk Tests

I am appalled by the official apathy in B.C. that continues to ignore the drunk driving problem. With the death rate (62 up to 120 per cent for July this year over july last year.) I feel that I must again raise my voice, unpopular though it may be. Safety council figures say more than half the fatalities involve drinking drivers.

On Sept. 1, 1964, when I had a meeting with Neil McDermid of the AG's department and Ray Hadfield, superintendent of Motor Vehicles, I asked just what the department was going to do about the drunk driver and suggested that B.C. might follow Saskatchewan where Implied Consent laws were enacted and later challenged but upheld in the Supreme Court of Canada in 1962.

The answer, "Sorry, but this is a federal matter!" Mr. Bonner chooses to ignore this problem and says that Saskatchewan is wrong in defying federal law. Nevertheless there will probably be over 500 traffic deaths in B.C. this year and Saskatchewan has created the precedent in law. Mr. Bonner has the same authority.

First Objective

As a signatory to the petition which was presented to the Pollution Control Board by a strong and vigorous group known as the Portage Inlet Gorge Waterways Association, I am greatly distressed to note some of the published material concerning the association.

May I quote below, for the benefit of Mrs. B. Basich, whose letter you published on August 3, the text of the brief which attracted more than 7,000 signatures? It reads:

> "We, the undersigned, oppose the recent decision of the Pollution Contorl Board to allow waste materials to be deposited into the Colquitz Creek and we hereby demand that no further pollution of the Portage and Gorge Waterways be permitted now, or in the future."

We must first strive toward the goal for which the association was formed which is to prevent further pollution, eliminate present pollution and, for the safety of all people, free these lovely waters of possible infection. That aim achieved, we may then extend wholehearted support to any group or body desiring our support to promote a worthwhile and beneficial scheme for the betterment of the community.

May I suggest that Mrs. Basich might serve the community by urging all citizens to attend the general meeting of the association at Craigflower School tonight at 8?—Dorothy A. L. Bell, 2894 Murray Drive.

Looking Back

From The Times of Aug. 9, 1890:

Praise was heaped on clergymen who have preached sermons on the last two Sundays on the rights of labor and the eight-hour day. Nearly every delegate to the Victoria Trades Assembly spoke favorably, and if the clergymen themselves had been present they would have been hard put to avoid blushing. Unanimous votes of thanks were moved for the hearty response to calls for an opinion from church leaders.

Premiers Took the Hook For Vote on Medicare

By DOUGLAS FISHER
NDP MP for Port Arthur

Fisher

There is one issue (and a half-made decision) which the government wishes to keep under the rug in the next eight to 10 weeks as federal politics inches to the inevitable election. There is another issue, complicated by decisions on it made by others, which the government hopes will become much sharper and clearer.

The first issue is what form of aid (or more properly, what mite of solace) to give the Americans on their Viet Nam burdens.

The second issue is medicare. The scale of provincial criticism directed towards the proposals put before the premiers by Mr. Pearson three weeks ago is important in giving him the hook his conscience needs to hang an election on.

The capital is a hard city to keep secrets in and cabinet government not the easiest guarantee of a silent band of brothers.

It has leaked out that one of our most conscientious and responsible ministers, Paul Hellyer, has been stewing about the absence so far of a Canadian military response to the invitations from the U.S. to stand with it on something more substantial than words. Mr. Pearson has said that he is working out Canada's reply to the invitation for advice and assistance on Viet Nam given by President Johnson.

Canada has some excuse for resting on mere words because of her participation (if one can call it that) in the three-country truce supervision of that embattled region of Southeast Asia.

On the other hand, Mr. Hellyer has the dour kind of responsible thinking which argues that Canada, to be a useful dove, a dove whose coos are heard amidst the shrieks of the hawks in Washington, must present a tangible indication of her willingness to share the load.

The story I have which seems sensible is that Mr. Hellyer and his chief, Mr. Pearson, have talked this question over thoroughly and have reached the stage where they plan to provide transportation and communication services to the forces fighting the Viet Cong. Such assistance would not be large in scale and would not put Canadians directly into the firing line. Of course, this is not to be announced and will be denied until the election is out of the way.

It is not that the proponents of such assistance believe that the majority of the Canadian people would be opposed to such a move. However, there is a vocal, emotional element in the country to whom it would be anathema. They would make it a central issue in the election campaign. This could have disturbing possibilities, especially in Quebec, so it will be ducked until a mandate has been gained.

The mandate demanded from the people needs some reasonable justification of fairly immediate significance. There is too glaring a paradox between a battle cry such as the 1963 election: "Give us a majority government for stability and accomplishment," and the popular litany of Grit boosters which runs: "Look at all we've done since we came to power in '63."

The litany of accomplishment has so many items that the citizen of ordinary intelligence is very likely, especially when encouraged by opposition voices, to conclude that there may be a magic, favorable relationship between a minority government and government deeds.

This is where medicare comes in to provide Pearson and friends with a request for a mandate against easy enemies, "easy" in the sense that they won't be among the rival federal politicians, with the possible exception of the Bob Thompsonites.

There has been much elation among federal Liberals at indications that Mr. Manning of Alberta, who at first seemed the lone recalcitrant against the Pearson medicare scheme, is being joined in disapproval by Messrs. Bennett, Roblin, Stanfield, and the diffident Mr. Robarts.

Before the federal-provincial conference a cabinet minister told me that the strategy was to come out of it with an issue where Quebec would be on the side of the angels and several non-Liberal premiers from the West with the devil, in whole or in part.

This has now been achieved, rather blatantly, as the forthright Mr. Kierans from Quebec has pointed out. To him the conference was embarrassingly a pre-election performance. Predictably, Mr. Manning took the hook: more reluctantly Robbin bit, and after returning home, "Wacky" Bennett grabbed the bait.

Now Mr. Pearson is to tour the West. He will stress the noble nature of the federal medicare offer, the need for a national set of standards, a need which he knows the people want and support.

At some time near the end of the Western tour, probably among some old pals of like spirit at a sylvan B.C. retreat, he will decide and announce that he must have a mandate in '65 for medicare by '67.

Prop Crew 'In the Picture' Dressing Stage Productions

By ELIZABETH FORBES

Forbes

Last lap before the big push, is how Maurice Johnson describes the mammoth shifting of scenery and props he supervised on the weekend.

Working all day and far into the night, on Saturday and Sunday, he and his four-man crew broke down sets prepared for three plays to be presented this month in Victoria Festival Theatre's "Show Parade '65."

Then they trucked these sets and props from the vacant store where they were assembled to McPherson Playhouse.

At the theatre, the resident manager and his crew do the erecting and striking (breaking down). Once they have everything arranged, however, Maurice Johnson and his men come into the picture again to adjust scenery and dress the sets.

To tell the truth, they've been very much "in the picture" as far as "Show Parade" is concerned for the past three months.

Working nights (all five have daytime jobs) in a big one-floor store at the corner of Douglas and Chatham Streets, they have constructed the sets, designed by University of British Columbia student Robbie Robertson, and assembled the furnishings.

Rehearsals for all three plays, also held in the store, started at the beginning of July. "That was our deadline," Mr. Johnson says, "and we honored it in every detail."

This doesn't mean their work stopped when rehearsals started. Faults still had to be ironed out, some props changed and many small details completed.

Most of the "kinks" were eliminated in the store, where floor space allowed all three sets to be assembled and left standing.

When the "exodus" took place this weekend there was only one "big problem" left. That's in McPherson Playhouse itself, where storage necessitates "flying" the sets. This means lifting them to the roof with fly irons, battens and rope bridles and lowering them again when they are needed.

"The sets were pre-planned to fit the stage," Mr. Johnson points out, "but even then there must be some adjustments. That's why we are going into the theatre now. The earlier we get there, the easier it is to find last-minute gremlins."

Although Maurice Johnson calls this particular stint with "Show Parade" a "summer hobby," he's been creating sets and planning stage decor for outstanding amateur productions for more than 20 years.

And while it is a hobby, it is also a dedicated work that he thoroughly enjoys.

When he took on this present assignment be gathered around him "the best" men he could find. They include Jonathan Raitt and Peter Bell, stagehands; Ed Burkholder, stage carpenter, and Alan McKenzie, lights manager.

"Fantasticks," modern in concept, gave the crew "the most scope"; "Hobson's Choice," with an 1870 setting "borders on farce" and "The Winslow Boy" is a drama "set in the year 1912."

"In all three cases we were able to take an educated guess on the pitfalls," Mr. Johnson tells you, as he looks back to many nights of strenuous work. "It's been a challenge. We think we meaured up to it."

Today the big store at Douglas and Chatham is empty. The two upright pianos used for rehearsals have been returned to their owners.

A piece of bright wallpaper and a shred of gay silk is all that remains to attract the dust motes that still dance in the air.

Tonight and every night in this last week of rehearsals, Maurice Johnson and his crew will be down in McPherson Playhouse, looking for gremlins.

When "Fantasticks" opens on Saturday, the sets will all be ready to "fly" and the props will be "on hand."

The play itself is "terrific" according to those privileged to "look in" on rehearsals.

Next move is up to you . . . the Victoria public!

Crusading Citizens Battle To Save Edmonton Parklands

By JEAN BECKER

EDMONTON—A committee of 500 citizens has squared off against city fathers in a fight to save the city's 5,800 acres of parkland, ravine and river valley from the developer's swath.

If it wins, it will be an unusual victory in the current Canadian story of urban growth, but the committee is optimistic.

"We've finally persuaded the alderman to review the situation before going ahead with freeways through two ravines," says Paul Bassett, president of the Save-Our-Parks committee.

After receiving a committee petition with 2,000 signatures, the city also agreed to delay a bridge through a city golf course until a public hearing is held.

Recently the road base for one ravine expressway was flooded by heavy rains and the builders hit quicksand. Mr. Bassett says that too helped make the committee's point.

Jack Wright the city's former parks director, began assembling the committee quietly about two years ago.

"This is the only way any city on the continent has ever been able to keep its parkland," he says.

Caught in a continuous test of strength with city administrators, Mr. Wright resigned as parks director last May. However, he denied frustration prompted the move. The city still has no replacement for him.

The committee's action was spurred by a large and expensive report on future transportation needs, prepared by a Chicago consulting firm and accepted in principle by the city last fall.

The report recommended that all future major traffic arteries be built through scenic ravines which cut through the city and lead down to both banks of the North Saskatchewan River. The river winds the length of the city and the report suggested roads be built along both banks to speed access to downtown and residential areas.

The committee has held frefrequent public meetings, written weekly letters to the Edmonton Journal and sent at least one member to every city council meeting.

Mr. Bassett says the committee has obtained about 4,000 signatures on a petition asking all public parkland be kept free of encroachment.

Alternatively, the petition suggests that park administration be placed in trust and the land protected permanently from encroachment by means of an overall zoning bylaw overseen by an "independent parks committee."

Venezuela Pushes Demand For B. Guiana Territory

By CLYDE SANGER

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana—A lengthy dispute between Britain and Venezuela over Venezuela's claim to more than half the territory of British Guiana is likely to come to a head shortly.

The recent demonstration by Venezuelan students outside the house of the British ambassador in Caracas—during which they scattered leaflets saying "English go home" and "we shall return to Guiana"—may well be the forerunner of more official Venezuelan action.

In an interview before this demonstration the Venezuelan president, Senor Raul Leoni, said:

"We believe in the principle of self-determination for the people of British Guiana as everywhere else. But we insist that this issue be settled before that country gets its independence."

Meet In London

(The premier of British Guiana, Forbes Burnham, is calling for independence in February and a constitutional conference is due to open in London, Nov. 2.)

The Venezuelan government has been angered by recent reports that the British Guiana government is engaged in negotiations to give exploration concessions to oil companies in the area west of the Essiquibo River which is claimed by Venezuela.

No agreements have yet been signed for concessions in this area but President Leoni said that his government would not recognize any such agreements.

He also said that his government was considering sterner action. He said it had warned the oil companies that they would have to choose between operating in Venezuela or in this other area.

Two Companies

The companies concerned are the Continental Oil Company and the Globe, a smaller company based in Britain. The Shell company is not affected by the threat. It produces about one third of Venezuela's oil but its new interests in British Guiana are safely east of Georgetown.

The Venezuelan claim to 45,000 square miles of British Guiana goes far back into the 19th century and is based on the Spanish principle that claims derive from discovery and royal grant while the British contend that actual settlement should be decisive.

In 1899 a compromise was made which gave Venezuela the mouth of the Orinoco River but 16 years ago an American lawyer's papers, published posthumously, opened the way to assertions that a Russian on the five-man arbitration commission was bribed by Britain.

In 1962 Venezuela brought its claim before the United Nations political committee. President Leoni said they did this after Dr. Cheddi Jagan, then premier of British Guiana, had taken the issue of his country's independence to the UN.

For some time British officials believed that the Venezuelan concern about this territory, which is wild and virtually deserted except for a few tribes living on the plateau, was inspired by fear that Dr. Jagan would be an awkward Castroite neighbor as leader of an independent government.

BURNHAM
. . . independence?

But the claim has persisted after the change of government here last year. In maps given to President Frei of Chile on his recent visit to Venezuela this area of British Guiana was marked with stripes as part of Venezuela with the words overprinted: "Zone of Reclamation."

President Leoni himself was born close to the border 60 years ago and said with a grin: "If Queen Victoria had pushed her borders a little further I would have been a British subject."

The British Guiana government has not been drawn into any conversations on the issue but there is no question of its attitude.

The area, although scarcely populated, has great hydroelectric potential and could turn this country which now exports bauxite into a producer of aluminum.

BLACK MARKET IN URANIUM

By FLORA LEWIS

Lewis

GENEVA — While disarmament delegates here talk of safeguards to prevent the spread of nuclear weapons, a kind of world black market has developed in uncontrolled uranium supplies.

Few details are available here and perhaps the full picture of world uranium trade is not available anywhere.

It is done almost entirely through bilateral deals between governments and there is no world commodity board for uranium as there is for wheat, rubber, tin and such goods.

The International Atomic Energy Agency in Vienna has developed a program of safeguards to see that research and electricity-producing reactors submitted to its inspection are not used for clandestine military efforts.

In Infancy

But the program is in its infancy and has not yet reached to the point of watching trade in atomic raw materials.

Some countries, notably Canada and the U.S., have themselves insisted on attaching safeguard conditions to their foreign sales of uranium.

What can be called a black market development has come through the discovery that other countries can get a higher price for their uranium by selling it without safeguards and there is competitive pressure for them to do so.

So far as various experts on disarmament delegations here have heard, among the countries selling at added safeguard-free prices are Argentina, Spain, and possibly the Congo.

Pay More

There is nothing sinister in itself in the sale of uranium, with or without safeguards, but the fact that some countries are willing to pay more to avoid obligations and inspection reflects the difficulties of the whole atomic control problem.

Switzerland was said to be one of the countries that has sought safeguard-free uranium. It is not supposed that this was because Switzerland wants to stock up for possible military use, but simply that the Swiss, like many others, do not want outside interference in their atomic program.

A certain degree of military potential is an unavoidable consequence of building atomic reactors. This is because reactors produce plutonium in the course of the chain reaction which releases atomic energy.

The basis of the international safeguard program now worked out is to keep track of the fuel and be sure what happens to it. When it has been used, it goes to a chemical separation plant where the plutonium is extracted.

There is always a certain wastage. Accuracy of checking calculations is estimated at within five per cent, so the possibility exists of countries sneaking out small quantities of plutonium and writing it off to wastage.

Few countries now have chemical separation plants and most send their used atomic fuel to one of the nuclear powers for processing and return.

The recovered plutonium can be used in building a new reactor or, if the country doesn't need it, sold to someone who does.

End Secrecy

So far, no international procedures have been worked out for inspecting chemical separation plants because these are of definite importance to any military nuclear program.

And inspection of any military atomic processes would destroy the secrecy which is an essential element in making it hard to get the bomb.

To get around this problem, the U.S. is beginning to consider the idea of proposing the construction of internationally owned separation plants in various regions of the world.

The nuclear powers would probably build them on processes no longer secret to each other, and would also probably have to pay for them.

Such international plants then handle the atomic fuel of countries in their region and keep certain track of everybody else's plutonium. It would be a big and expensive project.

Meanwhile, for purely economic reasons, 13 European countries have started construction of a jointly owned chemical separation plant at Mol, in Belgium.

The 13 are France, Turkey, Austria, Belgium, Holland, Italy, West Germany, Sweden, Norway, Denmark, Portugal, Spain and Switzerland. France has a chemical separation plant of its own as well.

Apart from the reluctance of industrialists and reactor operators to be inspected—partly on grounds of commercial secrecy and partly because they don't like the extra complication of their job—the international safeguard program is getting launched slowly for sheer lack of facilities.

'U.S. Can Afford Prestige Loss Of Withdrawal From Viet Nam'

NEW YORK—Historian Arnold J. Toynbee has advised the United States to withdraw from South Viet Nam rather than pursue a policy of "colonialism" based on a destructive pride.

Writing in Fact Magazaine, the English historian urged the American people to "stand aside and allow self-determination in Viet Nam to have a free play even if this leads, as it most certainly will lead, to the reunification of the two artificially sundered parts of Viet Nam under a Communist regime."

Toynbee said U.S. policy reflects the reluctance of the American people and their government "to admit making a mistake and paying for this mistake by accepting a reverse."

"This is—I see it, a wrong kind of pride—a kind that is a symptom not of moral strength but of moral weakness," he said.

"Suppose that the United States withdraws from Viet Nam and does lose prestige by doing right . . . my answer would be: America can take it. Her conscience will be clear. Her prestige can look after itself."

The U.S. should limit its intervention to countries where a great majority of the people are anti-Communist and an invitation to intervene comes by a stable local government representing most of the people.

The historian said the view that the war in Viet Nam is being waged solely by Communist intervention from without is false.

"It does not explain the existence or the tenacity of the Viet Cong. The guerrillas are not Russian or Chinese or North Vietnamese. They are South Vietnamese."

Strontium 90 Level May Hit Peak This Year

NEW YORK (CP)—The level of strontium 90 on the earth's surface has continued to rise since the 1962 signing of the nuclear test-ban treaty and may reach its peak this year before beginning to subside, the U.S. weather bureau reports.

The report explains that bomb-produced fallout rose to the stratosphere to form a pool and gradually filtered back to earth, principally in the spring.

The report says the reservoir is thought to have been drained by now, but that a considerable amount of the material is unaccounted for.

Even without further explosions, the level of radioactivity of carbon in the air and on the earth will remain twice as high as normal for a long time. It is estimated the pre-bomb level will not be re-attained for thousands of years.

The strontium level is of special significance for it is absorbed into human bones and teeth due to its chemical similarity to calcium.

The level in milk, watched closely by the U.S. public health service because it constitutes a rapid delivery of strontium to the population, has dropped since reaching a peak in early 1964.

Levels of the material in the bones of those less then five years old were highest in 1963. Studies show the maximum intake of the fallout particles was in 1964.

Church Council Backs Appeal By Blood Clinic

Victoria Council of Churches has asked Greater Victoria residents to support the Red Cross appeal for blood donors.

Tuesday and Wednesday special clinics will be open at Red Cross House, 1040 Fort St. near Cook, 1:30 to 4:30 and 6:30 to 9 p.m. to meet the urgent need of hospitals for plasma.

In Greater Victoria, the Red Cross needs 1,500 blood donors every week. These donations are given free of charge to any patient in need, in any hospital in the area served. In Canada, one blood donation every 15 seconds of every working day is needed, officials say.

NOVA SCOTIA HARDEST HIT

10,000 Acres Burned in East

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

More than 10,000 acres of woods and timberland were ravaged by forest fires through the Atlantic Provinces and eastern United States during the weekend.

Nova Scotia and Maine were the hardest hit areas.

Fire-fighters put out 11 of 16 fires burning in Nova Scotia Sunday, but of those still burning three had reached serious proportions by night.

In Maine's Washington County, a blaze which had destroyed more than 13,000 acres in five days was also brought under control Sunday. It was the worst fire since 1947.

In Newfoundland two fires were burning through new timber growth.

In Ontario, the lands and forest department reported 12 forest fires burning Sunday in the Sioux, Kenora, Sudbury, North Bay, Parry Sound, Tweed and Lindsay areas.

MYSTERIOUS DISEASE KILLS EIGHT

WASHINGTON (UPI) — A mysterious respiratory infefction that apparently seeks out diabetics has been blamed for the death of eight patients at a District of Columbia mental institution.

Epidemiologists from the public health service's communicable disease centre are attempting to trace the source of the disease which has stricken 35 persons, all diabetics living in the St. Elizabeth's Hospital's west area.

The are about 6,100 patients in the hospital, 2,500 of them in the west area.

The most recent death from the ailment was Sunday night. Three others died Saturday.

RETRACE FRASER'S ROUTE

Students 'Walk' Hell's Gate

BOSTON BAR (CP) — Five McGill University students, attempting to run the Fraser River by canoe and raft, said Sunday they won't attempt to navigate the boiling rapids through Hell's Gate.

They arrived at the Fraser Canyon community Sunday night and said they decided to walk around Hell's Gate and continue their journey to Vancouver.

Hell's Gate is the name of the nearby spot where the Fraser churns through a narrowing in the Fraser Canyon. It is one of the roughest stretches of water on the Fraser River.

They arrived here after a 15-day trip downstream from Tete Juene at the river's source high in the Rockies. They are attempting to retrace the route taken by explorer Simon Fraser in 1808.

Walter Harrington, owner of the Boston Bar Hotel, said the youths will not be deviating from Simon Fraser's route by walking around Hell's Gate. He said the explorer also walked around.

The students are Mark Longhurst, Duncan Anderson, Michael Stranger, and John Hoey, all of Montreal and Eliot Scull of Denton, Md. All are second year medical students.

They expect to reach Hope, 90 miles east of Vancouver, today, and arrive in Vancouver by mid-August.

Now—B.C. Tel's TWX lets you cut the oceans down to size

We must feel rather sorry for the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans. For 40 years or more they have been made to feel smaller and smaller. First, Alcock and Brown, then Lindbergh, cut the Atlantic down to size. Then, the "Queens" and "Empress" luxury cruise ships pared down travel times; and today, the arrogant jetliners whisk you to other continents between meals.

And now . . . B.C. TEL'S "dial-'n-type" TWX service across North America has been linked with the corresponding systems in Europe, Africa, Central and South America, Asia and Australia. In just seconds you can send your own messages across the oceans (as well as across the street!)

This means that you, as a B.C. businessman, can now have more than 128,000 potential customers, prospects and suppliers from 103 countries RIGHT AT YOUR TYPIST'S FINGERTIPS. This, of course, is over and above the 65,000 already available to you throughout B.C., Canada and North America.

The only ticket you need for this globe-trotting service is a profit-making TWX installation from B.C. TEL.

ROYAL COMMISSION

Thatcher Told Cut Inefficiency

REGINA (CP) — A well-run business firm could tell the Saskatchewan government a thing or two about efficiency, a royal commission said today.

The commission, headed by Mr. Justice F. W. Johnson, made public a 1,040-page report, the result of a year-long study of how the government conducts its day-to-day business.

The report said the government needs a large dose of "modern management science" to streamline its operations. Savings could amount to as much as $15,000,000 a year, it said.

The commission was set up by Premier Ross Thatcher's Liberal government shortly after Mr. Thatcher took office in mid-1964. A major election campaign promise of the Liberals was that they would streamline government operations.

TAKE YEARS

The commission said it will take some years to carry out most or all of its 177 specific recommendations.

The commission suggested that a new government department, under a cabinet minister, be set up to supervise day-to-day government operations.

The new department would co-ordinate the programs of existing government departments such as health and education departments. It would provide advice to the existing government departments on how to manage their programs day-by-day.

It would co-ordinate the construction of government buildings, taking over the functions of the present public works department, and co-ordinate the hiring of civil servants.

BRAINPOWER POOLS

The new department, to be called the department of central government services, also would help set up pools of brainpower and talent to tackle the government's programs.

A government program that would make use of such a pool of talent and brainpower might be, for example, a new medical care insurance scheme.

The royal commission said it was "surprised and disturbed at the lack of program planning in government."

The commission said inefficiency and lack of long-range planning are making the government clumsy and slow in meeting the needs of the province's citizens.

SAVE $12 MILLIONS

The commission said the day-by-day administration of government programs and services in Saskatchewan now costs about $25,000,000. This could be halved if the government spends $800,000 in applying modern management techniques, the commission said.

It said the new department of central government services could provide computer services for other departments. The new department could handle purchases of equipment and supplies such as typewriters, pencils, file-cards, paper, automobiles and trucks.

The commission recommended that a management adviser be appointed to continue the work of the commission on a permanent basis.

"It is not good enough to leave reassessment of management techniques and methods to an occasional royal commission," it said.

Problem Smaller To Youth

Canada's youth has more faith than the older generation in a bilingual Canada.

That's the consensus among 15 young French-speaking Canadian scouts at the conclusion of a six-week tour of the country to sample public opinion on bilingualism and biculturalism.

The 15 Rover Scouts from Nicolet, Que., made the tour on a $3,500 grant from the Canadian Confederation Centennial Commission.

Spokesman Eloi Arsenault, 21, said the group found young people "generally see fewer problems with bilingualism than older people.

OLDSTERS ENTRENCHED

"I don't know why, but a lot of older people seem to be against it while the young people are for it."

They also found the problem was magnified as they came west.

"I think it is because there are fewer French minorities in B.C.," Arsenault said.

"For this reason I feel that exchange visits and trips such as ours are essential to keep Canada's unity intact. All Canadians must be aware of the problems of minority groups."

UNTRUE CLAIMS

Minister Challenges Diefenbaker

OTTAWA (CP) — Revenue Minister Benson challenged Opposition Leader Diefenbaker Saturday to take him to court for saying Mr. Diefenbaker made untrue statements during the postal strike.

Mr. Benson, who headed a federal cabinet postal strike committee, also accused the Progressive Conservative leader of irresponsibility and of encouraging the striking postal workers to stay off the job during the dispute which ended Saturday.

He said Mr. Diefenbaker had stated that the civil service commission's pay research bureau had recommended a $660-a-year pay boost for the postal workers.

"He (Mr. Diefenbaker) made a statement that was just not true—and I repeat it was not true—and any action he would like to take against me, I am making this statement outside of Parliament and he can, of course, take action against me in the courts if he wants to, for that statement."

Mr. Benson said Mr. Diefenbaker acted irresponsibly "in encouraging postal workers to stay out on strike, when the government had already taken action to resolve the matter."

Sunshine Camp Seeks New Site

Sunshine camp property at Sooke will be sold and the camp relocated.

Dr. Hugh Borsman, board president of the family and Children's Services, said the camp will be established at a more remote site and with swimming facilities.

He said the decision to move the camp to another site was based on two years of careful study.

The water was too cold for swimming and the surrounding area was rapidly become residential, he explained.

"We want a more remote location with a true camp effect and also a place to swim," he said. "We are not going to abandon the camp, just relocate it."

GEN. TAYLOR
. . . depressing

SAYS TAYLOR

Bombing Hanoi No Help

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, retiring U.S. ambasador to Saigon, contends the United States does not need to bomb Hanoi to win the war in Viet Nam.

"We need the leadership in Hanoi to make agreements" on a peace settlement, Taylor said.

The general's thinking followed the line of other U.S. officials, who have said that China is not likely to enter the war unless the very existence of the Hanoi government is threatened.

So far, American warplanes have steered clear of both Hanoi and the nearby industrial port complex of Haiphong.

Defending the effectiveness of the air strikes, Taylor admitted that the raids had not stopped Communist infiltration from North to South Viet Nam. But he said they were having a "depressive" effect on Red attempts to bolster the strength of the Viet Cong guerrillas.

On the whole, the results of the raids were "reasonably" good, Taylor said in a television interview.

Group Pickets South Africa Prison Boss

STOCKHOLM (Reuters)—Demonstrators protested the presence of South Africa's prison commissioner, Gen. Johannes Steyn, as the third United Nations congress on crime prevention opened today.

About 20 demonstrators outside the congress building carried placards saying:

"Gen. Steyn — Your prisons are a crime against human rights," and "Gen. Steyn—Stop torturing political prisoners."

Steyn, who arrived shortly after the nine-day congress opened, walked into the building without answering reporters' questions.

Lightning Kills Four Under 18

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Four young persons, all under 18, were killed by lightning while on camping trips in Ontario during the weekend. Another youth was electrocuted while repairing his car.

Dennis, 8, and Donna Palmateer, 7, were killed Saturday when lightning struck their tent during a thunder shower while they were camping in the Sharbot Lake area, 50 miles northwest of Kingston. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Palmateer of Belleville, escaped unhurt.

Two United States Boy Scouts were killed and another injured Saturday when lightning struck the canoe they were using as shelter from a rainstorm on a small island in Fish Lake 30 miles southwest of Sudbury.

Dead are James Robert Tritton, 17, and Charles Leviom both of Shaker Heights, Ohio. James Markus, 12, was flown to hospital with burns on his leg, neck and eyes.

CANOE TRIP

John Brick, 20, of Formosa, 35 miles southwest of Owen Sound, was electrocuted Saturday while repairing his car with an electric drill.

Provincial police said the drill was faulty and the ground was still wet following a heavy rain in the area.

Lightning Kills Golfers

LOUISVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Lightning killed two golfers Sunday during a sudden storm at the Louisville golf course. The men had taken shelter under a metal shed when lightning struck apparently jumped from the tree to the shed and then to an umbrella the men were holding.

THE ISSUE IS OVER-SPENDING VERSUS LOWER TAXES!

VICTORIA'S MILL RATE IS UP approx. 10% this year, despite the MANY LARGE PROPERTIES ADDED to the tax rolls and the $2,000,000 GIFT from the McPherson Estate.

THE INCREASING DISPARITY of the city mill rate (62.9) compared with the much lower mill rates in the neighboring municipalities tends to depress city property values—EXAMPLE: Nearly all senior city employees find our taxes too high and so buy homes in the municipalities. Most people have just paid their taxes and the 10% increase still hurts.

IF TAXPAYERS REMAIN INDIFFERENT, taxes will continue to spiral upwards—UNTIL taxpayers wake up, and use their votes to show disapproval.

WHAT CAN YOU DO?

B.C. Faces Shortage Of Power

VANCOUVER (CP) — Dr. Gordon Shrum, co-chairman of B.C. Hydro and Power Authority, said today B.C. is starting a three-year shortage of electric generating ability.

At a meeting to announce a $100,000,000 bond issue, Dr. Shrum said B.C. will be short of generating ability until the Peace River development starts supplying power in 1968.

He said present facilities for generating electric power will not be sufficient this year to maintain a full 10 per cent reserve during peak-load periods.

In 1966 and 1967, peak-load requirements will take all the generating reserve and more, he said.

Dr. Shrum said the authority "doesn't know at present where we'll get that peak power.

BUY POWER

"We hope to buy some power from Bonneville (in Washington State) and perhaps some from Aluminum Company of Canada (at Kemano.)"

He said lack of power at peak load periods may cause "brown-outs," in which some electric facilities like traffic lights won't work.

"We've never had this before in B.C.," he said.

Dr. Shrum spoke to the meeting outlining Hydro's progress on the Peace River project, one of the development projects for which the government agency wants the $100,000,000 to be financed by the bonds.

He said costs on the project are running "well below feasibility estimates."

H. L. Keenlyside, Hydro's other co-chairman, said work on the Columbia River project is ahead of schedule, and progress is "of a very satisfactory nature."

He said the difficulties being encountered are less than anticipated.

ARROW DAM

Mr. Keenlyside said Hydro has treated "fairly and even generously" the 2,000 persons in the Arrow Dam area who must be moved to make room for the giant project.

He said 400 properties have been acquired, and Hydro has resorted to expropriation five times.

In the two expropriation proceedings completed, estimates of property worth have been upheld, he said.

ALUMINUM DIVIDEND 83 CENTS

MONTREAL (CP)—Consolidated sales and revenues of Aluminium Ltd. for the first six months of 1965 were $420,000,000 compared with $366,000,000 a year earlier, the company said today.

Net income, before preferred dividends was $27,100,000 against $26,200,000. Profits available for common shares were 83 cents a share compared with 80 cents for the corresponding period last year.

Accounts for Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. were consolidated with those of the parent firm, Alcan said.

Terms Listed In Probe Of Atlantic

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario Attorney-General Arthur A. Wishart has announced terms of the recently-announced royal commission into the affairs of troubled Atlantic Acceptance Corp. Ltd.

Terms were not announced when the commission was appointed. Mr. Justice Samuel H. S. Hughes is the royal commissioner.

He has been empowered to "investigate, inquire into and report upon:

1. "The events involved in and the causes of the recent failure of Atlantic Acceptance.

2. "The effect the failure has had on the money market in Ontario and on the affairs of any person, company, corporation or organization.

3. "The existing legislation relating to loan and trust companies and to corporations ingaged in the finance business and the money market generally and to consider what, if any, additional legislation may be required in regard thereto."

Mr. Wishart said Mr. Justice Hughes is also empowered to examine anyone who has had any connection with the firm, "including British Mortgage and Trust Co."

GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP)—Most prices were firm to higher near the close of moderate trade today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

There was some buying in rye, which gained about a cent. Gains were attributed to aggressive whet demand which touched off speculation that rye would also be in demand.

Oats and barley were firm in light routine trade.

Oilseeds were firm to higher. A parcel lot sale of rapeseed to Japan was reported.

Export loadings of Canadian wheat included: Russia, 2,000,000 bushels; Polard, 1,270,000; China, 700,000; Britain, 550,000; Venezuela, 400,000; India, 375,000; West Germany, 140,000; Formosa, 100,000, and Guatemala, 50,000.

Lakehead prices for class two, IWA and domestic wheat were all unchanged.

CHICAGO (AP)—Demand was fairly brisk for wheat futures in the early afternoon today and gains ranged to well over a cent a bushel but all other commodities on the board of trade were weak.

Brokers credited a good deal of the support for wheat to speculators who, they said, may have been impressed by rather pessimistic reports about the crop in Europe.

Corn and soybeans came under selling pressure at the start as the trade became generally bearish on reports of additional rainfall during the weekend. Advices said the soil in much of the major producing area now is well soaked.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Speculation Spree Features Trading

Speculative trading moved to the forefront and overshadowed other aspects of the Toronto market in moderately heavy mid-afternoon stock exchange dealings today.

The speculative spree was led by Radiore, which traded 916,750 shares and was unchanged at $1.30. The stock opened at 91 cents a share after the opening was delayed for five minutes this morning, and sank to 83 cents.

It rebounded in a splurge of trading in the first hour. Louvicourt traded 313,500 shares and gained 11 to 33 cents, while White Star churned up 195,608 shares and rose 3 to 62 cents. Obaska rose 5 to 24 cents on 352,000 shares.

Industrials bounced higher.

AT VANCOUVER trading was light to noon today as losses edged out gains.

Consolidated Skeena was up one cent at 75 cents after hitting a high for the year of 79 cents. Pine Point gained $1.25 to $50.50 while Utica dropped nine cents to $1.83 and Fort St. John fell five cents to $1.70.

Major trader was Sileurian, which dropped one cent to 66 cents of 17,500 shares.

AT MONTREAL stocks were beginning to rise with the exception of banks and utilities toward 2 p.m. today trading was moderate.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4,500,000 shares, compared with 4,210,000 Friday.

Aircrafts, airlines and gold were the strong spots in the list.

Boeing and Douglas advanced about a point and United Aircraft was up about half a point. Eastern Air Lines spurted 3 points. Braniff, KLM and Northeastern Airlines gained more than a point.

Among the golds, American South African advanced more than 3 points.

RCA, up nearly a point, appeared headed for the top of the day's most active list. Eastern Air Lines and Fairchild Camera also were active.

The averages slipped into the minus column, depressed by losses of a point or so by Du Pont and General Electric.

The motors eased after having been up a bit. General Motors was down about half a point.

Eastman Kodak added nearly 2 points.

AT LONDON the Financial Times daily index of 30 London industrial stocks was 324.0, off 0.9.

Seven-Week Strike Ends At Western

VANCOUVER (CP)—Approximately 60 employees of Western Gypsum Products Ltd. returned to work today after a seven-week strike.

Norm Larkman, president of Local 385 of the United Cement, Lime and Gypsum Workers International Union (CLC), said the agreement provides an average 31½-cent raise over two years.

He said wage increases vary according to a system of job evaluation and are retroactive to March 1.

Base rate for probationary labor will be increased annually to $2.25 and $2.35 from the present $2.15. Top wage for skilled labor will be increased annually to $2.88 and $3.06 from the present rate of $2.65.

The agreemnt was ratified by a vote of 43 to 7 by union members Sunday night.

Nigel Puttock, president of Western Gypsum, said regular customer service to the greater Vancouver area, Vancouver Island and the B.C. interior will be resumed within three days.

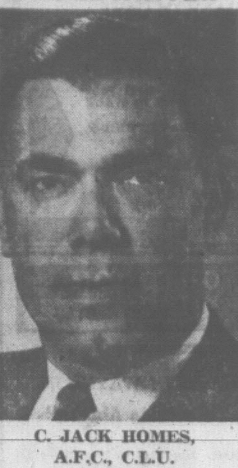
CHARTERED LIFE UNDERWRITER



C. JACK HOMES, A.F.C., C.L.U.

The Institute of Chartered Life Underwriters of Canada has announced that C. Jack Homes, Victoria, a General Agent of North West Life Assurance Company, has been awarded the coveted Chartered Life Underwriter designation.

Mr. Homes has demonstrated his ability to provide sound life insurance counsel and estate planning assistance to his clients. He has successfully completed the three-year course in modern life underwriting which is administered by the Institute of Chartered Life Underwriters of Canada under the direction of the Extension Department, University of Toronto.

Mr. Homes is associated with Homes, Adams Insurance Agencies with offices in the Montreal Trust Building, 1061 Fort Street, Victoria, B.C.

High Price Really Low, He Explains

MONTREAL (CP)—The average Canadian motorist spends a smaller proportion of his income on car insurance today than he did 25 years ago, E. H. S. Piper, general manager of the All Canada Insurance Federation, said Saturday.

"Back in 1940, the average wage earner was making $23.44 weekly," Mr. Piper told a suburban service club. "If he had a car and lived in a high accident area like Montreal, he worked anywhere from 2½ to 3½ weeks to pay his insurance."

"Today this average Canadian earns $87.32 weekly and, in the same area, he works an average of less than 1½ weeks to pay for his insurance — in some cases, a little as half a week."

"Finally, he gets at least three times the insurance protection now because protection minimum limits have gone up to $35,000 from $11,000.

Pound Test Looms

LONDON (Reuters) — British newspapers say the pound sterling faces a crucial test this week with July's trade figures, expected Thursday, a key factor.

Financial editors, while noting signs of an easing of pressure on sterling at the end of last week, saw Britain's economic situation as serious.

"The government is engaged in a battle with time," says the Conservative Daily Telegraph. "The measures already taken should produce the desired effect eventually, but the question all along has been whether they will work quickly enough before the deterioration in sterling goes too far . . .

"All eyes will be on sterling this week, particularly on its reaction to the crucial overseas trade figures . . . Pressure on the currency eased last Friday and the assurance of further support from the United States should help."

The Liberal Guardian comments: "With luck we may find this week that the worst of the storm has blown over. Already on Friday there were signs of the pressure against sterling easing."

The mass-circulation Daily Mirror says in a two-page editorial:

"Britain is in a thundering economic mess . . . financially as broke today as it was in 1931 when the pound collapsed against the dollar from 4.86 to 3.83 to the pound . . .

"Britain has been living on tick (credit) for more than two years and we are reaching the end of our overdraft limits . . .

"The world does not owe Britain a living and our rivals in trade are not particularly susceptible to the cry of 'brother, can you spare a dime?'"

U.K. Trade Prospects 'Gloomy'

LONDON (Reuters) — A report by British business men said today that the country's merchants are "clearly gloomy" over their country's foreign trading prospects.

The Association of British Chambers of Commerce said only one-tenth of 295 merchants who took part in a survey reported improving prospects.

Merchants engaged in foreign trade with an annual turnover of £430,000,000 ($1,290,000,000) gave their views in a questionnaire.

The report said: "Half are less optimistic about the general business situation than they were four months ago, when confidence was already at a low ebb."

The reason given was that prices had been and were likely to remain the biggest obstacle to increased export sales.

All export groups, except those dealing in engineering products, reported improving prospects in North America.

FIRM LOSES $1 MILLION OVER ATLANTIC SHARES

STRATFORD, Ont. (CP)—A loss of about $1,050,000 has been taken by British Mortgage and Trust Co. on shares of Atlantic Acceptance Corp., says a letter sent to shareholders during the weekend.

A substantial but as yet undetermined have been losses on notes of Atlantic, notes and other securities of subsidiary and associated companies, and notes of individuals on similar security, says the letter, signed by British Mortgage chairman, W. H. Gregory, and its recently appointed president, H. R. Lawson.

The letter, which gave formal notice of a shareholders' meeting Sept. 14 to consider an amalgamation proposal from Victoria and Grey Trust Co. based in Lindsay, Ont., was the company's first direct communication with shareholders since Atlantic collapsed in mid-June after failing to meet about $12,000,000 in short-term obligations.

U.S. OUTLOOK

Battle in Viet Nam Bolsters Business

NEW YORK (AP)—This summer appears to be shaping up better economically than expected.

Some economists are raising their sights on U.S. business' likely attainments during a period usually considered the doldrums.

President Johnson last week called the economy "good and strong" and expressed the belief that employment will be high throughout the summer.

Total employment reached a record 74,900,000 in July and the unemployment rate fell to an eight-year low of 4.5 per cent.

Louis T. Harms, a Temple University economist, said: "I thought at first the economy would slip down during the second half but now I think it will be up."

Richard Peterson, a Bank of America economist, in May raised an earlier estimate of this year's gross national product—total of all goods and services—and now says he is "inclined to raise it slightly more today."

BOOSTED BY WAR

The escalation of the war in Viet Nam is expected to have a bolstering effect on the economy during the second half of this year. Defence Secretary Robert McNamara has asked Congress for an additional $1,700,000,000 now to carry out the war and said he will be back for more in January.

A major factor in keeping the economy rolling at a high level has been the record rate of automobile sales. They have kept on booming despite predictions of a slowdown from the record first-quarter rate.

Sales of 710,182 U.S.-made cars in July marked a record for the month. The total was up 18 per cent from 603,274 in July, 1964.

Industry sales for the first seven months of the year totalled 5,278,361 cars, a gain of 14 per cent over last year's record pace.

Production last week slumped to an estimated 105,500 cars—lowest weekly total of the year—as more plants closed for changeover to 1966 models. This compared with 147,230 the week before and 12,333 a year ago.

Output in July set a record for the eighth straight month. Automakers turned out 739,956 cars, up 26 per cent from 586,239 in July, 1964.

A new threat of a steel strike hangs over the economy. Negotiations continued this week after the United Steelworkers of America set a Sept. 1 strike deadline.

However, President Johnson was expected to do everything possible to avert a strike in view of the intensifying Viet Nam war.

Steel production increased last week to 2,607,000 tons from 26,603,000 the previous week.

Two Unions Seeking Nod As Agent

OTTAWA (CP)—The Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen (CLC) has asked the Canada Labor Relations Board to certify it as the bargaining agent for the 2,800 engineers of the CNR, replacing the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers (Ind.).

A vigorous battle between the two unions is expected when the issue comes to a vote this fall.

Art Gibbons of Ottawa, a vice-president of the BLF and E, said today his union has signed more than 1,700 of the CNR engineers which represents better than 60 per cent of them.

"We are not at war with the ELE," he added. "But it is apparent that enginemen want one orgnization in Canada. BLE leaders turned down every overture at unity and it was left to the BLF and E to give CNR engineers the opportunity of having one union."

The BLF and E now bargains for CNR firemen. But it also represents engineers in the CNR's Newfoundland district and on a number of small railways in the country.

Both unions are affiliates of U.S. unions. The BLF and E has about 7,000 members in Canada; the BLE about 8,800.

John Graham of Lethbridge, Alta., another BLF and E vice-president, said the certification move was "dictated by the men on the locomotives" in the interests of unity.

Labor Suffers Jitters After Ruling by Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — Organized labor is suffering a severe case of the jitters over a recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling that could shake up the system of collective bargaining as it now is carried on.

At worst, labor lawyers fear, the long exemption of unions from federal antitrust laws may be ended and the growing pattern of industry-wide labor contracts may wither on the vine.

At best, they foresee a rash of lawsuits over labor contracts until the courts iron out the full implications of the decision.

Former Justice Arthur J. Goldberg—who disagreed with the majority ruling—hinted it could mean the sharpest setback for organized labor since the modern era of labor relations began with the 1935 Wagner Act that guaranteed unions the right to organize and bargain.

WAGE SCALE

The Supreme Court ruled a labor union is subject to triple damages under antitrust laws if it conspires with one set of employers to set a wage scale designed to drive other companies out of business.

The hitch, labor lawyers say, is that the court left unclear what is sufficient evidence of a conspiracy to send the case to a jury.

Three justices in the six-man majority said any industry-wide wage scale too high for some employers to pay is enough evidence; the other three said there must be some further evidence but didn't say what.

This, said Goldberg in one of his last cases before resigning to become ambassador to the United Nations, could lead to judges and juries setting wage scales throughout the nation.

Goldberg, steeped in a lifetime of labor experience as a union lawyer and secretary of labor, said this is something judges and juries are not competent to do.

Brazil Has Problem With Coffee Surplus

LONDON (AP)—The world's coffee-producing countries are trying to develop a new scheme to curtail their own production and liberate themselves from boom-and-bust price cycles. The key to the scheme will be a combination of self-discipline and international finance to develop new products.

If successful, the plan will have wide implications for international agreements covering other commodities. Price for most of them now are in a worldwide slump, with serious repercussions on the economies of underdeveloped countries.

That old song about "an awful lot of coffee in Brazil" has come woefully true for the Brazilians. Millions of tons are being held off the market to keep prices from collapse. This is also true of Ghana's cocoa, sugar from the Dominican Republic, Malaysia's rubber and other products.

The coffee countries, however, have fared better than most, because they meet regularly with consumer nations to set annual export and import quotas. These keep prices relatively stable. The executive council of the International Coffee Organization, meeting here last week, outlined the quotas for 1965-66.

Consumer countries agree with the producers that since it began in 1962 the quota system has worked well. But the problem remains—what to do with the surplus?

The answer lies in the new plan to cut down production, and this is organization's task starting today. The plan is for coffee-growing countries to put ceilings on their coffee acreage. The extra economic capacity would go into other crops or light industry to make good the loss of revenue caused by cutting down coffee.

Transport Head Named

OTTAWA (CP)—Appointment of Gerald Morisset, 52, as chairman of the federal Air Transport Board, was announced Friday by Transport Minister Pickersgill.

Mr. Morisset, former vice-chairman of the three-member board, fills the vacancy caused by the death from cancer last week of Frederick T. Wood, 57.

Named to succeed Mr. Morisset as vice-chairman for a 10-year term is John R. Belcher, 53, who has been executive director since June. The other member of the board is G. Russell Boucher.

Mr. Morisset is a native of Lorrainville, Que., and Mr. Belcher is from Pincher Creek, Alberta.

Gas to Get Two Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Power Commission has established a two-price system for producer natural gas rates.

The decision in the Permian basin area case is expected to be the pattern ultimately for orders to apply to all major producing areas in the United States.

A commission spokesman said it was estimated the decision would require refunds of something like $30,000,000 to $35,000,000 by producers in the Permian basin area—three counties in New Mexico and 55 counties in Texas railroad commission districts 7-C and 8.

GOLD TOUCH MISSING

My Fair Lady may miss the golden treatment during its run which starts at the Odeon Wednesday.

Theatre manager Jack Armstrong said the lobby has been painted gold but contractors haven't had time to decorate the auditorium.

He had hoped the work would be completed for the premiere, but work on the auditorium will probably start in about a month.

NORTHERN CHARGE

Official Visits Waste of Money

FROBISHER BAY, N.W.T. (CP)—Thousands of dollars are wasted annually by visits of government officials from the south into the Arctic, a northern health service doctor said Saturday night.

Dr. Sylvester Drabbit told the advisory commission on the development of government in the Northwest Territories that such money would be better used buying food for Eskimos who still starve to death despite the presence of the white man.

Now in his fourth year in the north, Dr. Drabbit said the visit here last November of Health Minister Judy LaMarsh was an illustration of how money is wasted by official visits. Miss LaMarsh presided over the opening of a 30-bed hospital during her stay.

"All she did was grumble that the nurses would want bathtubs next. She said the nurses were having the greatest time of their lives in the Arctic, that they were better off here than in Ottawa."

"This is a doughhead talking, not a leader."

ESKIMO NOT CONSULTED

Dr. Drabbit said government officials conferred with heads of departments here but never with the Eskimos themselves. Nobody thought to ask the Eskimo what kind of house he wanted to live in, what education his children should have. Everything was being done without the Eskimo being consulted.

A total of 3,822 Canadian children under 10 died from accidents between 1959 and 1961.

HARKNETT FUEL LTD. CUSTOMERS:

Shell and Harknett Fuel Ltd. have worked together amicably for many years. Today the partnership is dissolved. Harknett Fuel has negotiated an agreement with another oil company.

Shell would like to serve you directly.

We would like you to continue to use Shell Products, to receive the Shell quality of service, which is outstanding—and unique. And there are some very excellent reasons why it is in your best interest to be a Shell customer.

Nobody else in Victoria—or anywhere else in Canada—offers its heating oil customers the depth of service that Shell gives. See below.

Shell Heating Oil Customers are automatically members of the Shell Home Comfort Club. Here are some of its exclusive benefits.

1. You receive a $10.00 cheque from Shell when you move to a new home—simply for remaining a Shell customer.
2. You can choose from an amazingly wide range of Shell branded Home Comfort products. And pay for any of them in low monthly installments on your oil bill. A new furnace, for example, can cost less than $5.00 a month.
3. You can spread your annual heating cost over 10 months with Shell insured budget plan. And there's no interest.
4. You get complete free heating service by Shell experts. Free annual heating system conditioning service. Free inspection service. Free emergency service calls — 24 hours a day.
5. $10.00 free. Every time you have a friend, relative or neighbour agree to become a Shell Heating Oil customer, Shell sends you a cheque for $10.00.
6. Shell uses an automatic delivery system that makes sure you never run out of heating oil and assures error-proof fuel bills.
7. Perhaps most important of all: you will continue to receive the same pure, clean-burning Shell Heating Oil you have been getting all along. There are differences in heating oils, in purity, in clean-burning. Stay with Shell and be sure.

Do Not Pass Up This Opportunity to Stay with Shell.

Colt League Final Goes Down to Wire

Oregon's champions kept alive their hopes of winning the regional Colt League baseball title this morning by blanking Hawaii's Kaneoha Colts 5-0 at Royal Athletic Park.

The poised youngsters from Tri-Cities, Wash., thus forced a deciding game that was scheduled to get under way at noon.

Mike Sheeran's three - hit shutout stopped the previously-unbeaten Hawaiians this morning.

Rain, which fell steadily Sunday afternoon, kept the two finalists in Victoria for an extra day after officials were forced to postpone Sunday's scheduled windup in the double-loss elimination tourney.

Since the winner must be ready to step into action Thursday in the divisional tournament at Ukiah, Calif., officials of the regional meet were ready with alternate plans in case rain again washed out this morning's game.

It had been agreed in an emergency meeting Sunday night that if the game was unable to start promptly at 10 this morning, the clubs would leave Victoria at 10:30 and decide the title Tuesday at Richland, Wash.

The Kaneoha kids went into the final round needing only one victory to sew up a berth in the divisional playoff.

Tri-Cities became the other finalist Saturday night by blanking Victoria 9-0 after the local club had hopes alive with a pulsating 1-0 triumph over Penticton.

The Victorians played their best game of the tourney to oust Penticton but they couldn't find the pitching or the batting to cope with the Oregon champs in the evening tussle.

It was the second straight shutout win for Tri-Cities, which again looked like the most solid club in the rain-plagued meet. But in between their two shutouts, the Tri-Cities lads ran into Hawaii and in that one their poise and polish vanished when the fleet Hawaiians started dashing around the basepaths and turned a 5-0 deficit into a 7-6, extra-inning triumph.

Thus, the question going into the final was whether or not the bigger Tri-Cities lads could retain their composure against the daring runners from the Islands.

MIC THE MASTER

They looked capable of doing just that in the romp past Victoria, which couldn't muster pitching skill or defensive strength to stay in contention. And the Oregon champs sent Mic Hunt to the mound. The cool righthander breezed along to a two-hit win for his second shutout in his two games.

Hunt's mates made things easy by pounding out seven hits, stealing seven bases and capitalizing on five wild pitches, seven bases on balls, five errors, a balk and a few mental mixups in the Victoria defence.

KNOWLES DOUSES FIRE

It was a vastly different Victoria squad from the one which had eliminated Penticton, which had its best scoring chance in the sixth inning.

John Knowles, who had won a no-hitter over the interior club in Victoria's opening game, came on with the bases loaded and none out. He struck out two batters to end that threat and repeated the two-strikeout escape in the seventh after a base on balls and passed ball had put the tieing run on second base.

Brian Paul started on the mound against Tri-Cities and Knowles, who had only five innings of pitching eligibility remaining for the tourney, came on in the second with four runs in.

He allowed one run in his five innings and Brian Craig was the victim of a four-run, Tri-Cities uprising in the seventh.

PRACTICE HELPS NICKLAUS

Take This Tip From the Top

Two strokes behind after 54 holes in the $125,000 Philadelphia golf classic Saturday, he went out and practised for about an hour and a half.

"I was hitting the ball lower than I wanted to and worked on getting it up higher," he said Sunday after overtaking the leaders for his second straight victory in the Philadelphia tournament.

The practice paid off with the $24,300 first prize, boosting his 1965 earnings to $114,000 and just $14,340 off the single-season money record set by Arnold Palmer in 1963. He can surpass it this week in the PGA championship.

Deadlocked with three others at nine under par with two holes to play he rammed home a 45-foot putt for an eagle three on the 515-yard par five 17th hole. Nicklaus made a key shot on the 17th. His drive was in the rough behind trees. He used a wedge to loft the ball onto the green, 45 feet past the cup, from where he putted in for the win.

Nicklaus carded a 71-65-73-68—277 over the par 36-36—72 Whitemarsh Valley Country Club course. His 11-under-par 72 hole total gave him a one stroke win over Joe Campbell and Doug Sanders. Randy Glover was fourth with 280. Gary Player and Tony Lema were next at 281.

Not All Kicking Needed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Buffalo Bills are getting a boot out of a Billy Joe but the American Football League champions could do without some of Pete Gogolak's kicking.

Gogolak, who has been kicking about his contract and has threatened to play out his option, booted three field goals in his soccer - style fashion, and Joe rambled 38 yards for a touchdown Sunday as the Bills opened their exhibition schedule with a 23-0 victory over Boston Patriots.

Joe gained 61 yards in seven carries against the Patriots and also grabbed three passes for 25 yards.

Cookie Gilchrist, a former Canadian Football League star, scored two touchdowns on short runs but Denver lost to Kansas City Chiefs 30-24. In other AFL exhibition games, Don Trull stole Joe Namath's thunder, as Houston Oilers defeated New York Jets 21-16 and Kent McCloughan led Oakland Raiders to a 10 - 3 victory over San Diego Chargers.

Larks Just Miss Upsetting Tricats

HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton Tiger - Cats minus Bernie Faloney turned out to be better than Faloney minus the Ticats—but just barely.

Wearing the unfamiliar uniform of Montreal Alouettes, the 33 - year - old quarterback came within less than four minutes of humiliating the team that traded him away last season. But the defending Eastern Football Conference champions rallied for an 18-9 victory Saturday night in the regular schedule opener for both clubs.

Joe Zuger and Frank Cosentino, Faloney's understudies before an eight-player deal that sent Bernie to Montreal, floundered against a formidable Alouette defence that included three more former Tiger-Cats. Cosentino engineered two late touchdowns that snatched victory from the underdog visitors in the game's dying minutes.

Up to that point, Faloney was making the most of a Montreal offensive alignment in which perennial all-star George Dixon was the only effective halfback.

Dixon's one-handed grab of a Faloney pass resulted in a 28-yard touchdown play in the first quarter after Don Sutherin's field goal had given Hamilton an early lead. Montreal stretched the lead to 9-3 before the quarter ended on a field goal by Bill Bewley, playing his first game after a three-year retirement.

COSENTINO CLICKS

Zuger, replaced by Cosentino at quarterback when he was unable to move the club in the first quarter, reduced the margin to 9-5 with singles in the second and third quarters but the Hamilton offence continued to sputter until Cosentino's passes suddenly began to click in the fourth.

Moving the club 76 yards in 10 plays, the 27-year-old backup man for Faloney in five of his seven years in Hamilton eventually found Stan Crisson with a six-yard end - zone pass at 11:38 for the winning touchdown.

Halfback Johnny Counts scampered over from 11 yards out with the clinching score 15 seconds before the final whistle after the Alouettes lost the ball on a third-down gamble deep in their own territory. Sutherin kicked the only successful convert of the night to close out the scoring.

Faloney completed seven of his 18 passes for 102 yards. Several others were dropped by jittery receivers. The combined Hamilton total was 105 yards as Zuger and Cosentino completed eight of 17 attempts. Both sides intercepted once.

SMOGY DEW SCORES . . . . . . AT EX PARK

Longden in Limelight

VANCOUVER—The world's winningest jockey is scheduled to ride at Exhibition Park on Wednesday.

B.C. Jockey Club officials announced Saturday that Johnny Longden would arrive in Vancouver today and would accept mounts for Wednesday's card.

Longden has announced that he will retire when he has ridden his 6,000th winner.

At Del Mar track in California last week he rode his 5,996th victory.

Smogy Dew, a Washington State-owned filly, won the $5,260-added "Stepping Stone Handicap" before a crowd of 7,834 at Exhibition Park Saturday.

Smogy Dew moved into the lead on the final bend and won by a neck over the fast-closing Gladys Ann.

The winner ran the mile and 70 yards in 1:42 1/5, just two-fifths of a second off the track record.

Welcome Pardner managed to crack the track record for six and one-half furlongs in the fifth race with a time of 1:17, one-fifth of a second better than the record set by Veteran Observer.

Lions' Top Tune? It's 'Hello Willie'

Fleming Sparks Patented Attack

By BILL WALKER
(Times News Editor)

EMPIRE STADIUM—All's right with the world in the home of the Grey Cup football champions—and will be at least until Monday night next.

The B.C. Lions saw to that with a vengeance on Saturday night as they whipped Edmonton Eskimos 38-13 before 32,055 fans.

This was the first home start for the Lions after last year's 34-24 victory over the Hamilton Tiger-Cats in the Grey Cup final.

And it followed a 23-21 defeat in the season's opener by the Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

The word in that one was "thrashed," with the inference being that the Lions were "fat" from last year's cup win and fit to be had.

But such was not to be on Saturday.

They were fit, yes, but fat, no!

And in victory they simply rewrote a chapter (that is fast becoming a book) out of last year's success story.

LIONS' SYSTEM

The patent then was:
Kapp to Fleming;
Fleming by himself;
Swift up the middle;
Kapp on a keeper.

Saturday there were the usual two bucks and a kick to start things off.

Then it was "Hello Willie" after a well-known musical of similar name.

Joe Kapp hit Willie Fleming with a 45-yard pass and it was Bob Swift up the middle for one yard and the touchdown.

PESKY TYPES

The Eskimos still argued and even as late as the 12-minute mark of the third quarter were much alive although trailing 14-7.

Enter Grey Cup hero Bill Munsey.

He intercepted a Randy Kerbow pass on the 45 and bulled his way over the defenders to the nine.

Kapp kept, and kept again and the Lions were leading 21-7.

BULLOCKS SCORES

Reserve quarterback Steve Shafer engineered the final major with newcomer Amos Bullocks doing the honors.

For Edmonton, Bill Tobin smashed over from the one for the first half score and Kerbow kept after an 80-yard march in the second half.

The other point was on a 65-yard kick in the first quarter.

And they were good in this one;

And good with a hard-charging offensive unit.

FLEMING TERRIFIC

But best of all from a spectator's standpoint, on this night Fleming was terrific, and in Canadian football.

Fleming was terrific, and in the words of the trade . . . "did everything asked."

He made 99 yards in eight carries.

He set up two touchdowns.

He scored one.

But best of all, he ran all over the field as only Willie Fleming can do—and there's no prettier sight in Canadian football.

AERIAL SUCCESSES

On the other hand the Eskimos did probe the Lions' pass defence succesfuly for 20 completions in 36 attempts and caught the Lion defenders napping on two trick plays.

One was a long pass off a double reverse and the other a long gainer off a fake kick which helped to set up a touchdown.

In a close game they could have spelled trouble.

At any rate the real showdown is soon due.

ESKS' DEFENCE SURPRISES

Lions were suprised by a staunch Eskimo defensive line but they effectively skirted it for a total ground gain of 250 yards.

Fleming ran 99 yards and covered 70 yards on passes. Edmonton's Tommy - Joe Coffey never missed a chance all night taking 11 passes for 138 yards.

Fans witnessed 10 B.C. penalties at a cost of 112 yards, as well as a sparring match that sent Edmonton's Charlie Brown and B.C.'s Greg Findlay out of the game.

ROCKS PLAY TONIGHT

'Big Letdown' Does It Again

COQUITLAM — This has been the year of the "big letdown" in more ways than one for Victoria Shamrocks of the Inter-City Lacrosse League.

The unhappy Irish have rarely lived up to pre-season notices this season. As a result, they're out of the playdowns.

A case in point was offered Saturday night. Victoria led 3-2 after the first quarter, and looked good doing it. Then came the letdown.

SCHOOL'S OUT

Coquitlam Adanacs rammed in six goals in the second quarter, five in the third, and simply waltzed to a 14-4 victory.

The two clubs tangle again tonight in Victoria's Memorial Arena, re-scheduling last Wednesday's postponement.

Jack Barclay was the game's top scorer with three goals and two assists. Ken Oddy, Bill Bradley and Rod Kilduff each scored twice for Coquitlam. Playing-coach Gordie Gimple scored one goal and added three assists. Mike Gates added one goal and two assists.

TWO FOR REG

Reg Foster scored twice for Victoria. Tom Black and Bill Gray scored the others.

Alf Shuker stopped 34 shots for Victoria. Coquitlam used two goalies successfully, Merv Schweitzer played 30 minutes and didn't allow a goal. Joe Comeau stopped 15 shots in his 30 minutes in the Coquitlam net.

Morrisons Claim Junior Ball Title

Morrison pitcher Rollie Clark, who had been charged with a 6-5 loss in the first game, won the title-clinching contest with a five-hit pitching performance.

Blue Boys Best In Softball Ranks

Blue Boys, who will play in the Canadian tournament in Calgary August 13-15, defeated Vancouver Fraser Arms 3-0 to reach the final. Eldorados eliminated Nanaimo with a 4-1 win in their semi-final bout.

Sparked by a two-hit shutout by Howie Chang, Nanaimo eliminated Victoria's Century Inn from the championships Saturday night.

Bob Squires scored Nanaimo's winning run with a home run over 250-foot mark at the right field foul line. A fifth inning single by Earl Robinson provided an insurance marker.

Ron Clarke's single in the third inning drove home the winning run for Blue Boys. Victoria narrowed the lead to one run in the sixth inning but failed to score in the seventh.

Glenn Bullen and Geoff Hett were tagged with Victoria's losses.

Hamptons Nip Oak Bay In Extra-Inning Battle

Hampton All-Stars today have a chance to become the first western club to earn the title of Canadian Little League baseball champion.

They earned their chance Saturday at Hampton Park by nipping Oak Bay 2-1 in nine tension-packed innings to win the Vancouver Island crown.

Victory in the Island tourney sends Hampton into the B.C. playoff against five other clubs. The provincial meet starts Wednesday at New Westminster.

The winer at Queen's Park will step into a sudden-death struggle with the prairie champion to decide who will meet the eastern kings in the first true Canadian final.

Canada's champion will play in the Litle League World Series at Williamsport, Pa., later this month. In previous years, B.C. clubs have played off with western U.S. teams.

In Saturday's thriller, Hampton scored its winning run in the third extra inning without benefit of a base hit. Allan Warren drew a base on balls, moved to third base on a pair of wild pitches and rode home on a grounder by Doug Marshall.

Both the clubs scored in the opening frame. Oak Bay went ahead on a double by pitcher Walt Burrows and Hampton came back in the bottom half of the inning with a run-scoring hit by Dennis Echart.

Marshall, who moved from behind the plate to take over from starting pitcher Tim Jordan in the sixth inning, picked up the victory. Burrows went the distance for the Bays, allowing five hits while his mates were collecting 10.

Sharp fielding highlighted the game. Oak Bay turned in an errorless performance and the Hamptons, although committing two errors, pulled off two double plays to thwart Oak Bay scoring bids.

Perry's Spring Gamble Pays Summer Dividend

By UP International

The Minnesota Twins were ignoring Perry, who had only 3 2/3 innings of work in the first six weeks of the season, while they decided whether to trade, demote, or keep the 28-year-old righthander.

Perry was far from idle, however, working long hours in the bullpen on his pitching.

"It was a gamble, pitching so often," said Twins' coach Johnny Sain, who helped improve Perry's curve, "but when he got his chance, he was ready."

His chance didn't come until injuries forced the Twins to hand Perry his first starting assignment in more than a year on July 5. He hasn't been out of the regular rotation since, and in the last month he has won four games and carved a 2.41 earned run average fifth lowest in the league among starters.

TWO-HITTER

Perry hurled a two-hitter Sunday, blanking the Boston Red Sox 8-0 and did not allow a hit until two were out in the seventh inning. The victory was his eighth in 10 decisions and boosted the Twins into an eight-game lead over second-place Baltimore, which lost to Kansas City 4-3 in the nightcap of a doubleheader after beating the A's 9-5.

New York Yankees toppled Detroit 6-5, Washington overcame Los Angeles Angeles 6-4 and Cleveland tripped Chicago White Sox 6-4. The second game at Chicago was rained out.

The Twins' management was considering Perry for trade bait back in May and even entertained notions of selling him outright to their Denver farm team in the Pacific Coast League. Hard work and a couple of injuries made them reconsider.

MANTILLA SPOILS IT

Felix Mantilla ruined Perry's no-hit bid in the seventh with a double to center that Jimmie Hall nearly caught. The only other safety off him was a Texas double in the ninth by Jim Gosger.

Warren Spahn, 44, also enjoyed a great day Sunday.

Maybe it wasn't a precision masterpiece like most of his 361 victories, but Spahn's 6-4 triumph over the St. Louis Cardinals was very important to the hawk-nosed lefthander—and to the surging San Francisco Giants.

The win was the first in almost three months for Spahn and boosted him alone into sixth place on the pitchers' all-time victory list. It also enabled Spahn to establish an all-time National League record for the most innings pitched by any hurler, 5,192—breaking Grover Cleveland Alexander's mark of 5,189, set in 1930.

ONLY ONE UP

The San Francisco victory sliced the National League-leading Los Angeles Dodgers' margin to one game. Cincinnati bombarded the Dodgers 18-0, Milwaukee swept two from Houston 8-5 and 8-3 to move within two games of the top and Chicago Cubs tripped New York twice, 7-6 and 14-10.

Spahn was picked up for $1 on waivers from the New York Mets July 19.

He worked 5 1/3 innings against the Cardinals, allowing six hits and only one earned run. Masanori Murakami and Jack Sanford finished up to protect Spahn's fith wfin this season against 13 losses. The Hall of Fame-bound lefty is 1-1 since joining the Giants, and the triumph snapped a personal string of nine setbacks.

Vicettes Gain Split With Cats

Vicettes spun out a 4-0 win in the second game of the day after falling behind 8-0 in the opener.

Gail Archibald handled Victoria's pitching in both games. After a stormy beginning, when Webb Cats scored eight run in three innings, Gail settled down to pitch 11 frames of shutout ball.

Canuck Amateurs Snap American Golf Streak

WINNIPEG (CP) — The experts said experience would win the 1965 Americas Cup and Canada backed them up Saturday by winning the coveted amateur golf prize for the first time in eight matches.

The giant killers as Canada ended the United States' streak—the Americans were seven-for-seven before Saturday — were Calgary veterans Doug Silverberg and Keith Alexander.

Both playing in their fourth Americas Cup, Silverberg and Alexander scored impressive singles wins and, in sixsomes play, led the way to four more team wins, accounting for eight of the 12½ points Canada gained in Saturday's play.

The Canadians finished the two-day biennial competition with 22 points, 2½ better than the Americans, who fell down in Saturday's sixsomes play and failed to recover sufficiently in afternoon threesomes.

Third for the seventh time was Mexico, with 12½ points.

AMERICANS BRILLIANT

Canada's victory erased brilliant performances by Americans Bill Campbell and Mark Hopkins. Campbell was unbeaten in either singles or team play during the two days while Hopkins, only 22, was eight under par for 14 holes Saturday in winning both his singles matches on the St. Charles Country Club course.

Canada had only a half-point lead after Friday—9½ to nine for the U.S. and 8½ for Mexico — but came on Saturday morning to take five of six possible sixsomes points while the Americans managed three and Mexico, one.

Campbell led the U.S. in afternoon singles play as the Americans scored eight points, but Mexico failed to come through and halt the Canadians who picked up 7½, enough for victory.

PIDLASKI WINS

The five-point sixsomes drive was led by Silverberg and Winnipeg's Bill Pidlaski, who took Mexico's Mauricio Urdaneta and Roberta Halpern 5 and 4 and stopped Americans Dale Morey and Don Allen 3 and 2.

Alexander and Nick Weslock of Burlington, Ont., whose game was off both days, stopped Hopkins and Dave Eichelberger 4 and 3 and caught Juan Estrada and Augstin Silveyra of Mexico 3 and 2.

The other Canadian sixsomes point came from Gary Cowan of Kitchener, Ont., and Johnny Johnston of Vancouver, 2 and 1 over Mexico's Tomas Lehmann and Jorge Molinar.

Cowan, another Americas Cup veteran, was hardly less spectacular than Hopkins in threesomes play as he went five under par to trounce Eichelberger 5 and 4 and Molinar 3 and 2.

Silverberg was 4 and 3 over both Estrada and Ed Tutweiler of the U.S. Alexander took Mexican gallery favorite Ricardo Vega 3 and 2 and was 2 and 1 over Morey.

TWO LIVES SNUFFED OUT IN CANDLESTICK RACES

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A racing car driver was killed in a flaming crash Sunday in the Candlestick Park road races, the second fatality in as many days at the event.

Ken O'Neill Jr., of San Jose, Calif., was killed Saturday during qualification time trials when his car lost a wheel and flipped over a guard rail.

Switching Twins Stop Carnarvons

PRINCE GEORGE—Twin brothers Ted and Bob McAneeley sparked their club to victory Saturday as Prince George wrecked a bid by Victoria Carnarvon All-Stars for a fifth B.C. Pony League baseball title in six years.

The twins took care of most of the pitching, all of the catching and a good share of the hitting while helping Prince George to an 8-5 triumph in the provincial final.

Ted, who slammed a two-run homer, relieved starting pitcher Willie Wagner in the third inning and then took over the pads in the fifth frame while Bob moved from his catching spot to the mound and blanked the Victorians the rest of the way.

Carnarvons twice came from behind to take a one-run lead but each time the home club replied with two-run rallies before adding a pair of insurance runs in the sixth.

First-baseman Elwood Thomas was the hitting star for Victoria. He blasted a two-run homer in a three-run third inning and stroked a run-scoring single in the fifth as Carnarvons went ahead for the last time at 5-4.

Prince George will represent B.C. in the regional tournament, which starts Wednesday at Portland.

Pagnotta Takes Angling Award

John Pagnotta is the July champion among members of the Victoria-Saanich Inlet Anglers' Association. Pagnotta weighed in a 37-pound, six-ounce salmon to top the club's monthly contest.

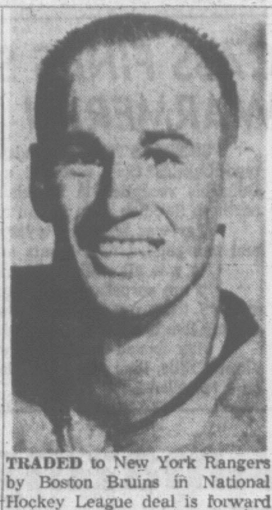
Hidden-weight awards went to C. Robins, G. Watkins, N. Basso and A. Olson.



TRADED to New York Rangers by Boston Bruins in National Hockey League deal is forward Reg Fleming, according to Boston Herald. Bruins will receive Earl Ingarfield, 31, who has scored 75 goals in four seasons with Rangers. Fleming, 30, had 18 goals and 23 assists for Boston last season after being obtained from Chicago.

CASS FINDS SWEDEN WARMER IN THE NORTH

SKELLEFTEAA, Sweden (AP)—Heavywegiht champino Cassius Clay received a warm reception—a far cry from his reception in Stockholm—when he arrived in this northern Swedish town for an exhibition match Saturday.

Clay was booed by a large crowd in Stockholm Friday and had replied with taunts and anger.

He was all smiles and friendliness Saturday.

"I am surprised and delighted with the audience," he said. "I think my reception has been grand. They are treating me like a king."

Clay boxed a four-round exhibition with lightheavy Jimmy Ellis, then joked and clowned with the crowd, putting on a tasselled Lapp cap.

From CP Reports

Wheeling into the lead at the stretch turn, Tom Rolfe scored an easy four-length victory over Gummo in the $100,000 Chicagoan at Arlington Park in Chicago Saturday.

It was the third stakes victory of the season for the Powhatan color bearer, who earlier won the Preakness and the $50,000 added Citation at Arlington Park.

The triumph was Tom Rolfe's seventh in 10 starts this season. He won $65,000 to boost his earnings for two years to $372,605, and took a giant stride towards the three-year-old championships.

TURNS IN POWER

Buckpasser, a stretch-running son of the great Tom Fool, turned on the power in the last one-eighth of a mile Saturday and won the $112,185 Sapling Stakes at Monmouth Park in Oceanport, N.J.

The favored Our Michael finished third in the field of seven two-year-olds.

At Saratoga Springs, N.Y., mighty Kelso, flashing his former winning form, stormed from behind in the stretch Saturday to win the Whitney Stakes by a nose over Malicious and again barge into contention for an incredible sixth straight horse-of-the-year title.

The eight-year-old gelding owned by Mrs. Richard C. Dupont picked up $35,360 for his third Whitney triumph and pushed his record earnings to $1,954,144.

At Edmonton, Weed Bender, a horse from the Rand J. Howe Stables in North Burnaby, won the Canadian Derby Trial Saturday and broke a track record in the bargain.

The horse, ridden by Frank Inda, led the field from the start. He covered the mile and ⅛ course in 1:54 2/5, 1 3/5 seconds better than the previous record.

Solar Apex was second, followed by Salty Sultan, but neither challenged the definitive five-length lead of Weed Bender.

Victory was worth $1,890.

Bisley Squad Has Its Share Of New Faces

CONNAUGHT RANGES, Ont. (CP)—An Air Canada employee from Winnipeg will lead a relatively "new-blood" Canadian team to the Commonwealth shooting championships at Bisley, England, next summer.

Don Sewell, 38, a tall, slender marksman who has been to Bisley twice, failed to win a single major match at the Dominion of Canada Rifle Association Championships, but was close enough to the winning pace in all of them to top the field of 550 in the Bisley aggregate.

Eight members of the 20-man team are newcomers. Of the 12 repeaters, only three have made the trip to Bisley as often as three times and only Bill Brown of Virden, Man., has gone four times.

DCRA secretary Gordon Switzer of Ottawa commented:

"It won't be the same old crew of veterans going over there next year."

Sewell, who scored 865 of a possible 925 points in the nine matches that contribute toward the Bisley total, was making his seventh appearance in the annual week-long DCRA championships.

He came close to winning only one match, the Connaught, in which he tied three other shooters for first place and lost the shoot-off to Sgt. Ralph Cathline of Camp Borden, Ont., who also qualified for Bisley.

SHOOTS STEADILY

Sewell's total of 865 points was one better than that of Derek Daines of Calgary.

Daines, a 36-year-old tool and die maker who moved to Calgary from Toronto because a friend told him the Alberta city had Canada's best shooting facilities, won the main event of the matches and the event considered the most colorful in Canadian shooting, the Governor-General's, Saturday.

He scored 198 of a possible 200 points to beat the field of 30 who qualified for the final and took the first prize of $200 and a gold watch.

Both Sewell and Daines have been to Bisley twice.

CADET THIRD

Third in line in the Bisley aggregate was Ralph Grant, a sea cadet who attends Dartmouth, N.S., high school. Grant, a newcomer to the team, and at 18 the youngest member, scored 861 points, one more than Phil Isaac of Winnipeg who has made the Bisley trip once.

The most experienced Bisley shooter on the 1966 team will be Dick Hampton of Alliston, Ont. Hampton, a former army major, has qualified to make the trip 17 times.

The husky shooter had a total of 859 in the aggregate, the same as Arne Sorensen, one of five Calgarians on the team. Sorensen has been to Bisley once.

In addition to Hampton, only Cathline and Lac Jim Hennok of RCAF Station Cold Lake, Alta., have been to the Commonwealth championships at least three times. Cathline has gone five times and Hennock three times.

KITCHENER, Ont. (CP)—Jocelyne Bourassa, 18-year-old winner of the Canadian womens open golf championship, was hoping her family would be able to come from their home in Shawinigan, Que., to root for her in Saturday's final round.

They couldn't, so the five-foot-six brunette who plays out of Trois-Rivieres, Que., took the championship home to them.

"I hoped my brother, Gilles, could come too. But he did not. My parents didn't either, so now I'll just have to take the trophy back to them."

Miss Bourassa, the third junior-age player in the open's 65-year history to win the championship, learned her golf from Gilles, a professional in Shawinigan.

She used her knowledge and a putter her brother gave her for a 5-and-3 victory over Mary Ellen Driscoll of Saint John, N.B., in the 36-hole match-play final.

And she beat Miss Driscoll on her own favorite hole, the par-three 12th, to turn the tide in the final played before more than 600 fans in humid weather which neared 90 degrees.

"MANAGERS" HELP

In place of her family, Miss Bourassa drew support from several other golfers. She mentioned Cathy Calusha of Red Deer, Alta.; Carol Boyes of Toronto, Joann Riddell of Montreal, Marilyn Palmer of Kamloops, B.C., and Vicki Woodcock of Vancouver.

"They were my managers, she said.

Miss Driscoll, a 27-year-old teacher at a private school for girls in Ottawa, also found time to encourage her young opponent during their gruelling match. Several times when Miss Bourassa made good shots Miss Driscoll congratulated her.

"She was very nice and I like people like that. I want to be like her, not a fussy girl," Miss Bourassa said after wrapping up the title on the 33rd hole by winning four holes in a row.

The 30th, a par-three, was a favorite of Miss Driscoll's all week. She had birdied it four times in a row until Saturday, when she parred it twice.

The only birdie on the hole went to Miss Bourassa, who hit the green with her tee shot on the 30th and sank a 12-foot putt for a two.

Both golfers agreed that was the turning point in the battle.

The only other players to win the open at 18 or under were Gayle Hitchens of Vancouver in 1962, when she was 18, and Marlene Stewart Streit of Fonthill, Ont., who won it in 1951 when she was 17.

England Batting In Unhappy Spot

NOTTINGHAM (Reuters) — South Africa was poised to win the second Test against England after a day of fluctuating fortunes Saturday.

Dismissed in their second innings for 289, the South Africans set England to score 213 runs in a little more than two days. Peter Pollock struck an early blow and dismissed England's Bob Barber with only one run one the board. Then Fred Titmus was out to McKinnon for only four runs. Wicketkeeper Lindsay made fine catches to retire both Englishmen.

England was 10 for 2 wickets at the close of play and not in too happy a position.

Othter matches:

At Cheltenham: Kent 284 for 6, vs. Gloucestershire.
At Portsmouth: Yorkshire 325, vs. Hampshire.

Oldest Tourney Starts Tuesday At Cowichan Club

DUNCAN — Play in the 78th annual Vancouver Island tennis championships will open Thursday at the South Cowichan Lawn Tennis Club near Cowichan Bay.

Oldest continuous tennis meet in the Pacific Northwest, the tourney will be directed by official referee Tony Staples.

Running concurrently with the Island tourney will be the northwest regional championships, which are open only to representatives of clubs in the Pacific Northwest.

Finals are scheduled for Saturday.

Kershaw Gets Win In Jalopy Thriller

Gary Kershaw captured the A main event in Jalopy racing Saturday at Western Speedway when leader Fred Anderson was disqualified. Kershaw had finished second in the thrilling duel.

After taking over the lead from Roy Smith, who moved to the front on the 12th lap, Kershaw and Anderson had most of the 3,200 fans on their feet with a see-saw struggle in the final five laps of the 25-lap event.

Armand Theberge won the "B" main event.

Results:

A Main—1. Gary Kershaw, 2. Roy Smith.
"B" main—1. Armand Theberge, 2. Clarke Price, 3. Wally Allison.
First heat—1. Fred Anderson, 2. Bob Bissenden, 3. Gary Kershaw.
Second heat—1. Fred Hewitt, 2. Roy Haslam, 3. Barry Cook.
Third heat—1. Bill Williams, 2. Bill Courier, 3. Larry Walker.

Jonathan, Hady Take Tag Verdict

They picked up the decision in a tag tussle Saturday night at Memorial Arena when their opponents, Art Nelson and Ivan Kameroff, were disqualified after both teams had taken one fall.

In an earlier bout, Hady and Kameroff grappled to a draw.

Tony Parisi defeated The Mighty Ursus and Paul Jones downed Sandor Kovacs.

OAK BAY WINS

Sparks Hot, Tate Great

Strong batting by Jack Sparks and slick bowling by Walter Tate were the big weapons for Oak Bay Saturday as the Bays tripped league-leading Cowichan by eight runs in a Victoria and District Cricket Association match at Windsor Park.

With Sparks contributing 37, Oak Bay collected 95 runs while batting first. Cowichan was all out for 87 as Tate took six wickets at a cost of 41 runs and Sparks toppled the remaining four while yielding 38

Jack Dickens did his best for Cowichan. He scored 20 runs and took three Oak Bay wickets for 26 runs.

FINANCIAL TROUBLES

Curlers at Courtenay Join Exhibition Group

COURTENAY — Curlers here have agreed to amalgamate with the exhibition asociation after finding their club in financial difficulties.

Both groups were in favor of the new arrangement at an organization meeting held to discuss the operation of Centennial Park.

After completing plans to amalgamate the groups, the exhibition association decided to operate with three committees—fair, curling and financial. It is expected the committees will be named at an October meeting.

Until October, a joint group of curlers and association officials will handle administration.

DIRECT CONTROL

Amalgamation was considered advisable following discussions with the B.C. Central Credit Union, which loaned funds for building the curling rink.

The curling club has been leasing the building on a year-round basis, except at fair time. It had assumed responsibility for operating costs and repayment of debt. The new arrangement will place the building under direct control of the exhibition association.

All funds raised by the building and park will now go into a common fund for improvement and repayment of a debt of more than $60,000.

Gorge Planners Meet Tonight

The executive of the Portage Inlet and Gorge Waterway Association has declared itself in support of "beautification, development and improvement" of the area.

The decision was reached at a board meeting Thursday night and text of the resolution was disclosed at the weekend by an association spokesman, Howard Roberts.

A development plan by two Portage Inlet residents, turned down by the Centennial committee, has been vigorously opposed by some residents of the area.

The executive of the association, in its resolution, reaffirmed the aim has been to fight present and threatened pollution following signing of petitions by more than 7,000 persons.

". . . And further, that we are in support of beautification, development and improvement of the waterways and that any plans proposed for same shall be subject to the fullest possible investigation by the association."

Mr. Roberts asked that proposals for improvement and development be submitted either to the present, James Gorst, or the secretary, Mrs. Betty Henrickson.

A meeting restricted to association members will be held tonight at 8 in Craigflower School.

RUSSIAN BOAT LANDS IN ALASKA

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Two Soviet fishermen, whose 28-foot boat was running low on gas, landed at the Eskimo village of Cape Prince of Wales on the Seward Peninsula early Saturday.

The air force planned to fly a Federal Bureau of Investigation agent and a man from the U.S. customs office to check the incident.

Eskimos at the village reported difficulty in understanding the Russians, but said the men indicated they wanted to go home.

FOUR CHARGED IN HOLDUP BID

'Aw, You're Kidding' . . . Then Bang

EDMONTON (CP) — An Edmonton woman suffered a slight gunshot wound to the head Sunday when she looked a holdup man "right in the eye" and pushed aside his .22-calibre revolver.

Four Edmonton men were charged with attempted armed robbery and possession of stolen goods following the incident. They are Gary Schrofell, 23, Wayne Mottet, 19, Kenneth Cranna, 22, and Michael Davey, about 22.

Mrs. Goldie Mayer, whose family operates Mayer's grocery store, said two men walked into the store about 11 a.m. Sunday.

"To me they looked like kids.

"I kept saying, 'can I help you?'

"One of them kept telling the other: 'Tell her what you want.'

"Finally they came over to the counter and one pulled this revolver.

"He said, 'This is a holdup.' I said, 'Aw, you're kidding' and brushed the gun away. There was a bang and those kids pretty near broke their necks getting out of the store."

Police said two men waited outside the store in a car during the holdup attempt. They said nothing was taken from the store. Police said they seized a revolver which had been stolen in a breakin here two weeks ago.

Mrs. Mayer said she didn't realize she had been struck by the bullet until she heard "a dripping sound like rain" while telephoning police. She said she was "soaked" in blood from the headwound, which proved minor when it had been cleaned up at hospital.

She declined to say how much money was in the till at the time of the holdup attempt.

FISHERMEN MISSING

Chinese Claim Ships Attacked

TOKYO (AP)—China charged today that United States warships and military planes attacked Chinese fishing vessels in its territorial waters twice in the last 22 days and that six fishermen and one vessel are missing.

The New China News Agency said in a broadcast dispatch, monitored in Tokyo, that the incidents occurred in the South China Sea southwest of Hainan Island. That would be in the 150-mile-wide strip of the sea between the Chinese island and North Viet Nam.

"Three U.S. warships suddenly entered the fishing ground fired flare shells and then heavily bombarded and strafed the Chinese fishing boats at about 11 p.m. July 19," the agency said. "The boat No. 2140 was hit and its whereabouts, with the six Chinese fishermen who were aboard it, remains unknown."

STRAFE SHIPS

"At about 8:30 p.m. on Aug. 1, a U.S. military airplane dived on two Chinese steamboats Nos. 208 and 214, and strafed them three times, while they were fishing in the sea of Yulin habor off Hainan Island. At 8:12 a.m. Aug. 3, when the Chinese steamboats were returning to port, another U.S. military plane followed them, circling low over the steamboats and taking photographs.

"These wanton bombardments and strafing attacks against Chinese fishing boats have been carried out at a time when the U.S. imperialists are intensifying and expanding their war of aggression against Viet Nam.

"They are piratical acts, openly sabotaging the peaceful work of fishermen at sea, and are deliberate provocations against the Chinese people."

BRIDGE RESULTS

North-South: Evelyn Lamont and Freda Small, Ricki Nickells and Joe Lukas, Maria Collm and Leslie Stewart, Bill Simpson-Baikie and Jack Goldie and Eric Horwood and Walter Allen.

Playing East-West: Phil Hagel and Tony Marsh, Florence Curran and E. G. Robertson; tied for third and fourth were Will Brown-Cave and Les Isaacson and Marjorie Fortye and Marianne Powell; fifth place went to Minna Loomer and George Morgan.

A total of $84 was raised for the charity.

Winners of the weekly duplicate bridge tournament held Saturday in the Broughton Building club rooms were: Marjorie Fortye and Erice Goodwin, Don Auld and Tony Marsh, Dorothy and Steve Jennings, May Errington and Ruby Randelsome, Denise and Fraser McColl, and Laura Tingley and Dorothy Mulcahy. George Morgan was game director.

Volunteers' Quick Action Halts Fire

Prompt action of three volunteer workers stopped a fire Saturday from spreading to buildings on the Luxton Fair grounds off Happy Valley Road.

The fire started when wood shavings were being spread about the fair's horse ring by a tractor.

Alex Chidlow, driver, a luxton 4-H Ctlf Club member working on the fair grounds, jumped to safety.

John Williams of Glen Lake Road, Robert Campbell and M. G. Puszka, both of Happy Valley Road, helped him put the fire out with gravel.

Mrs. W. W. Moran, wife of the fair's manager, said the flames were right under the gas tank and it was "a miracle the tank didn't explode."

Four More Injured In Violent Crashes

One Man Remains Critical

Death brushed close to four persons in two spectacular accidents on Victoria district streets Sunday.

Two cars met in head-on collision on Patricia Bay Highway.

Sidney RCMP said Verley's auto was in collision with a car driven north on the highway by John Corbett, Patricia Bay Highway, early Sunday morning.

Corbett was treated for minor injuries at Resthaven Hospital and later released.

Police said the crash occurred just south of the intersection of Beacon Avenue and the highway.

ENGINE FLEW OUT

The impact of the collision flung the motor from the mountings in the rear of Varley's foreign-built car. The engine landed in a nearby ditch.

The Americans were hurt Sunday afternoon on rain-slicked city streets when their rented motorcycle was in collision with a bus.

The collision occurred at Yates and Fort at the entrance to the Dardanelles as the bus was proceeding toward town.

TRAPPED UNDER WHEEL

But in doing so, the rear double wheels of the bus trapped the right leg of the girl between them, swinging her around with them as they turned.

She suffered a compound fracture and lacerations. Driver Worthington received a broken left leg.

Both cyclists ended up underneath the bus. A wrecker had to be employed to free Miss Marsh.

When the bus swung around it slammed into the curb but no passengers were injured.

Law Hits Back For Victims Of Bullying

Jail Term, Fine Levied at Pair

Stiff sentences and stern lectures were handed two "bully boys" who appeared on assault charges today in city magistrate's court.

Ronald Lamontagne, 18, of Duncan, was sent to jail for three months.

Lamontagne was also ordered to pay $70 damages to the complainant whose dentures were broken and fined $15 for being intoxicated in a public place.

'DISGRACEFUL'

"It is disgraceful a decent young couple can't go to a drive-in without being subjected to obscenities and assault," Magistrate William Ostler told him.

"These bully-boy tactics must stop."

He pleaded guilty to the charge a week ago.

Marsh also was ordered to pay $85 damages as he broke the man's upper and lower dentures.

NO EXCUSE

Magistrate Ostler told him there was "no justification whatsoever" for his conduct of street rowdyism.

"It is the duty of this court to take steps to reverse the trend of contempt for law and order in this community.

"It is an alarming thing to see, both for this court and for the public," the magistrate said.

MUSICAL RIDE FILM SHOWING AT CIVIC ELECTION MEETING

The only "all-candidates'" meeting prior to Victoria civic election Aug. 12 will be tonight.

The eight men and one woman seeking the 18-months unexpired term left by the late Ald. Austin Curtis will speak in order of lots drawn under JC supervision.

First part of the meeting, from 7:30 to 8 p.m., will be devoted to a film The RCMP Musical Ride, following which the candidates will speak.

MOTHER IRKED

Rescued Man Faces Blast

The fiery, grey-haired Scotswoman said today: "I'm going to try and persuade him to let that blessed boat go.

"I've been worried sick all weekend."

The 63-year-old mother of six had good cause for worry after her son was reported missing Friday night off Vancouver Island's west coast.

Her father and two of her sons have already been claimed by the sea—one last month at Bamfield.

SAME AREA

It was in almost the same spot that John—her eldest—disappeared in thick fog Friday.

After he radioed for help the batteries aboard his 42-foot home-made craft went dead.

With no way of signalling his position or knowing in which direction to steer, he drifted helplessly.

It was Saturday night before he was found by the coast guard vessel Ready, 35 miles southwest of Cape Beale, near Bamfield.

GOOD CONDITION

The 42-year-old man was in good condition.

Said his mother at their home, 3066 Albany, today: "I've not heard from him since he was found. He doesn't realize the agony I've been through.

"To him it's just one of those things. He's an adventurer.

"I suppose I should have faith."

Although she holds out little hope of talking John away from the sea she will try and persuade him to join deepsea ships.

HE'LL LAUGH

She added with a sigh: "I don't suppose I'll persuade him. He'll just laugh and say I worry too much."

John sailed from Victoria July [illegible] in the Bon-Accord, a boat bought for him by his mother and rigged out by himself.

He intends spending the fishing season around the Bamfield-Ucluelet area.

Youngest member of the seafaring family, George, of Alberni, was found unconscious in his boat off Bamfield last month.

He died shortly afterwards in hospital.

Another of Mrs. Ryles' sons, Marshall, died two years ago off the north of Scotland. He was master of the ship.

Funeral Held For Colquitz Staff Doctor

Funeral service was held today for Dr. Leonard d'Easum, 67, 1494 Beach Drive, a former medical superintendent of the Colquitz Mental Hospital.

He died Saturday at home.

Dr. d'Easum retired in January, 1964, after 17 years as medical superintendent of the hospital.

He was a prominent athlete in New Westminster during high school and later at the University of Toronto.

During the First World War he served with the Princess Patricia Canadian Light Infantry and was wounded at Vimy. In the Second World War he served as a medical officer with the RCAF.

Survivors include the widow, Margery; a daughter, Mrs. G. M. de Rosenroll, Norfalk, Va., and a son, Geoffrey of Agassiz, B.C.

Topics of the Day

A program of municipal entertainment for National Youth Orchestra members Sunday evening includes toasting hotdogs on the beach and dinner at the YMCA.

Receptions and entertainment chairman Ald. Robert Baird said the youngsters will leave the Royal Theatre at 5 p.m. and attend a dinner for 110 persons at the "Y".

At 7:30 they will board buses for Willows Beach—or alternatively in case of rain—go to the student union building at University of Victoria for entertainment by the Alma Mater Society.

Pistol Pointing Charged In Detention Home Strife

Victoria city police have charged an acting night supervisor with two counts of pointing a firearm.

The charges followed a disturbance at Greater Victoria juvenile detention home a week ago.

Charges against Kenneth Russell, Chandler Hotel, are the latest in a series of events surrounding juvenile detention home superintendent Charles Etchells who, with Russell, was suspended from duty Saturday.

Russell, who is a stepson of Mr. Etchells, will appear in city police court Wednesday in answer to the charges.

VARIED REPORTS

There was a disturbance and it is alleged that a youth snatched up a piece of ping pong table, was disarmed and then grabbed a can-opener to make threats against the supervisor, who was alone on duty at the time.

A further report alleges that a shot was fired.

City manager Dennis Young said in view of what had happened the juvenile detention home committee had no alternative but to suspend pending study and investigation.

Mr. Etchells today was going over details of a report to be delivered to the detention home committee.

ON VACATION

The superintendent was away on vacation when the incident occurred. He had left the home in charge of Charles Ball, night superintendent, to whom Russell, a regular supervisor, was responsible.

Regular committee members are Mrs. Wilson; Coun. Gerald Horne, chairman, Esquimalt; Coun. J. D. Watts, Oak Bay; Coun. Doug Crosby, Saanich.

Mr. Etchells said he saw no reason for the suspension order and has placed the matter in the hands of lawyer Dermod Owen-Flood.

NOT PRESENT

The superintendent was not called to the Saturday meeting to be suspended. He was notified by Mr. Young of the order when the manager went to the detention home, Saturday night.

Mr. Etchells said he was ordered out of the detention home, although he could still live in the adjoining apartment.

He said he was not a city employee and therefore was not responsible to Mr. Young. He also denied that he had gone on vacation without informing anyone, that the committee had been told July 7.

Mr. Young today said Mr. Etchells' report covering matters last week should be delivered to the detention home committee, not to him.

He pointed out, also, that it was the committee's decision that Mr. Etchells be suspended, not his own.

Youths Fined For Uproar After Drinking

Alcohol caused the downfall of two youths who pleaded guilty today in city magistrate's court to causing disturbances over the weekend.

Eric Leslie Longland, 19, of 4051 Granville Ave., was fined $75 for shouting and swearing in front of the Government St. liquor store Saturday night.

He was also fined $35 for being a minor in possession of alcohol. Court was told he attempted to hide a bottle of beer behind a lamp standard when police interviewed his companion.

Edward Arnold Erdman, 18, of 4524 West Saanich Rd., was also fined $75 for swearing in the Tally-Ho parking lot Saturday night.

In addition he was fined another $50 for entering a licensed premises while a minor. Court was told he was sitting in the men's side of the Tally-Ho, 3020 Douglas, with two beers in front of him.

Potato Prices Down Slightly Due to Imports

A spokesman for the Coast Vegetable Marketing Board said both white, rose and red potatoes were being purchased for $80 a ton, down from $120 a ton paid two weeks ago.

He said prices hit a peak in April of $180 a ton for the California crop, then dropped to $168 a ton in June when the B.C. crop came on the market.

He said the Alberta crop expected soon could push prices even lower this month.

Prices paid throughout B.C. usually follow the Vancouver trends, he said.

Calm Day, Calm Race; 65 Boats Crawling

Annual regatta of the Esquimalt Squadron, Royal Canadian Navy Sailing Association, on the weekend turned into an endurance test for skippers and crews.

A practically non-existent wind and strong, adverse tides turned most of the races into drifting matches.

There was a record entry of 65 boats. Buoys in the harbor at Munro Head became as crowded as the highway on a Sunday afternoon as skippers vainly tried to pass them, crowding each other, falling back, being forced sideways by the tide.

The last of the three-race series, held Sunday morning, was called off after boats had vainly tried to force their way out of the harbor. All of the three races found the larger yachts being forced into a shorter course than the planned eight-mile one because of the weather conditions.

FRUSTRATION

The weekend started off with a 12-mile race from Cadboro Bay to Munro Head. Here again, lack of wind brought frustration to skippers. Finally, the finish line was drawn at Brotchie Ledge.

Only ones to finish were:

C Class—Doxy, Peter Coombs, RVYC, first; Blue Goose, C. R. Miko, RCNSA, second.

Thunderbirds—Lemolo, Rod McBride, RVYC, first; Westerly, Jim Johnson, RCNSA, second. (Ned Ashe, this year's winner of the Juan de Fuca race, was among the huge fleet that capitulated to the weatherman halfway through).

Thunderbirds—Lemolo, Rod McBride, RVYC, first; May D II, Ned Ashe, RVYC, second.

Cal 20s—Windless Too, H. M. Young, RVYC, first.

X Class—Sid Halls, RVYC, first; B. McGee, RVYC, second.

Service Dinghies — Russell Jeffs, RCNSA, first.

Eviction Order Sent When Lease Unsigned

The reluctance of the owners of the Underseas Gardens to sign a new lease is the reason for their eviction order, the "landlord" said today.

Bob Wright, Oak Bay Marina manager, said the notice to quit was given after months of frustrating negotiations between Marina and Garden officials. Sign-or-get-out date is Aug. 28.

"The new lease does not increase the rental or change the financial situation one bit," Mr. Wright said this morning. "The old lease called for payment of a percentage of the take, the new lease calls for the same percentage. But Mr. White (Charles White, president of the Underseas Gardens) appears unprepared to sign the lease. It is most unfortunate and we made the move with regret."

FIGURE DENIED

Mr. Wright denied statement attributed to William Starkey, manager of the Gardens, that the annual payment made to the marina was $25,000.

"It is untrue that the sub-lease agreement costs the Gardens $25,000 annually," he said "The fact is that during the last two years of operation the yearly average was less than half of that amount. And I repeat, the lease agreement is based on a percentage with no minimum requirement."

Asked if he had any plans for development of the area if the Undersea Gardens should locate elsewhere, Mr. Wright said he would "cross that bridge when we come to it."

Mr. Starkey said the Undersea Gardens had officially applid for an unassigned water lot about 200 feet from their present location.

Granting of such a lot could take months to process.

If successful it would place the sunken aquarium along the breakwater just off Marina property.

Ask The Times

Q. Where in Victoria can I get a "demo" record made? J. S.

A. One of the city's recording studios is that of Gary Wilcox, 2080 Allenby.

'Demo" records are frequently used by musical groups to send to record companies, for an audition.

Q. Where do I apply for a visa to the United States?

A. U.S. Consul at 1030 West Georgia, Vancouver B.C.

Team Marks Anniversary

EDMONTON (CP)—Members of the Edmonton Grads, a team which dominated women's basketball throughout the world in the 1920s and 1930s, celebrated the club's 50th anniversary at a reunion here recently.

Thirty-four players joined the team's coach, Lieutenant-Governor J. Percy Page, in the festivities which included a prominent role in the city's Klondike Days exhibition parade.

The women, who long have graduated to the roles of mothers and grandmothers, came from as far as Hawaii and Libya and throughout Canada and the United States. The team disbanded in 1940 but in recent years the Grads met annually for reunion celebrations.

Grads won the world crown four times — in Paris in 1924, Amsterdam in 1928, Los Angeles in 1932 and Berlin in 1936. Mr. Page acted as coach, banker, bookkeeper and baggage supervisor on the club's many tours, and his wife and daughter assumed the roles of chaperone and mascot, respectively.

The team, formed in 1915, disbanded after winning 17 consecutive international crowns. It has permanent possession of five trophies — the world, international, French, Canadian and Alberta women's championships.

In the 25 years of active competition the club won 502 of 522 starts. Only 38 players wore the club colors.

WHY GROW OLD?

By JOSEPHINE LOWMAN

Lowman

Last August I inaugurated my National Group Therapy Week. It proved to be so popular and seemed to be so helpful to my readers that I am repeating the idea again this year.

Today group therapy is being used with great success in many different ways: By Alcoholics Anonymous, in physical rehabilitation, in mental health and many other ways. Group therapy has even invaded the reducing field. Such organizations as TOPS (Take Off Pounds Safely) are so highly successful because of the incentive and encouragement which sharing similar problems and shooting for similar goals provide.

Therefore it occurred to me that many of you would profit by reading some of the success stories which other readers have written me. Some of these describe the difficulties the reducer encountered and how she overcame them. I am sure you will find them interesting and stimulating. I will print a few of these letters this week. Here is the first one.

"Dear Mrs. Lowman:

"You'll never know how happy I am! I have been overweight for years and was always unhappy about it. I knew some women do not seem to mind but I was always self-conscious and miserably uncomfortable. It actually affected my life in serious ways for years.

"I gave up swimming and dancing which I had loved. I found myself making excuses in order to avoid meeting new people. Oh, I saw a few good friends but I actually became almost a social hermit. This was very hard for my husband who likes people and makes new friends easily. You can imagine what this did to my personality.

"Through the years my husband had urged me to diet 'for my health.' He now admits that he also longed for the slim gay woman he married, the one who loved to swim and make new friends.

"I love my husband and he is a very attractive man. I tried to reduce, but always half-heartedly, until I began to read your columns last January about your Beauty Improvement Plan. Then I decided to surprise my husband. That was the real trick, the fun of surprising him. I wrote for BIP but didn't say a word to my husband. He did not notice that I was taking smaller helpings and skipping a few items at meals. Once or twice when he asked why I wasn't eating dessert I said I was saving it for a snack just before going to sleep.

"It was almost four weeks and 10 pounds lighter when he looked at me in a puzzled way and said, "There's something different about you. You look younger, and prettier. WHY YOU ARE LOSING WEIGHT!" I lost 20 pounds and many inches in the eight weeks. I have 15 more pounds to lose but there is no longer any doubt that I will do so."

Overweights must have a strong incentive in order to stick with a reducing diet, and I think that surprising someone you love, is happily one of the strongest. Also talking about dieting makes a woman's mouth water for the foods she cannot have.

If any of you would like to have my eight-week Beauty Improvement Plan this reader used in order to get ready for fall clothes send 25 cents, plus 15 cents for postage and handling. Send your order to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper. Ask for the BIP KIT.

TODAY'S RECIPE

PEACH CHEWS

One can (1 lb.) cling peach slices; ¾ cup sifted all-purpose flour; ½ teaspoon baking powder; ¼ teaspoon salt; ½ cup melted butter or margarine; 1½ cups light brown sugar, packed; 1 egg; ½ teaspoon vanilla; 1 cup puffed wheat and whipped cream.

Drain peaches. Reserve nine slices for garnish; chop remainder finely. Sift flour with baking powder and salt. Blend ⅓ cup butter with 1 cup brown sugar. Blend in egg and vanilla; stir in flour mixture, chopped peaches and ½ cup puffed wheat. Turn into greased 9-inch square pan. Mix remaining butter, sugar and puffed wheat; sprinkle over batter. Bake in 350-degree (moderate) oven 20 to 25 minutes or just until edges pull away from pan. Cut into nine squares; serve warm or cooled with whipped cream and garnish of peach slices.

DEAR ABBY . . .

So Write a Letter!

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

DEAR ABBY: Please tell Flo, the good cook, who refuses to give out her recipes, it's what her friends DON'T do that makes their results different from hers. As an example, take this recipe which I have used for 25 years and have given to innumerable guests:

INFALLIBLE RICE (serves four hungry or six polite people):

1 medium onion, minced
2 tablespoon butter
1 cup long grain, raw, white rice
2 cups chicken broth (hot).

Saute onions until transparent. Add rice and hot broth. Bring to a boil on top of range. Cover and place in 325-degree oven for 20 minutes. Serve and listen to the compliments.

Simple enough? Well, you ain't heard nuthin' yet. I have had people complain that theirs wasn't like mine. Upon questioning them, I have learned why. Here are a few reasons:

a. Used instant rice.
b. Used another shortening not butter.
c. Left out the onions.
d. Failed to cover the rice in the oven.
e. Stirred the rice while on the range.
f. Used water instead of broth.
g. Allowed rice to "boil" for some time before placing in oven.
h. Let broth cool before using.
i. Baked for 40 minutes.
j. Liked onions, so added second onion.

Now I ask you! Why can't some people just follow directions?

"RESIGNED"

DEAR RESIGNED: For some people, directions are something they read carefully to find out what they did wrong.

DEAR ABBY: I have a very good friend who sews very well. It's her hobby, but it has also become my problem. She admires my "taste" in clothes, so every time I get a new dress or suit, she copies it. We go to a lot of the same places, and it looks ridiculous for us to be dressed like "twins"—especially since I am a size 10 and she is a size 18! It's partly my fault because when she asks me if I mind letting her have something of mine for a few days so she can match the material and then copy it, I don't have the nerve to say no. How can I get her to quit copying my clothes without hurting her feelings and losing her friendship? My husband says that "imitation is the sincerest form of flattery," but I can't see it that way. I am sick of being a "twin" to this copycat.

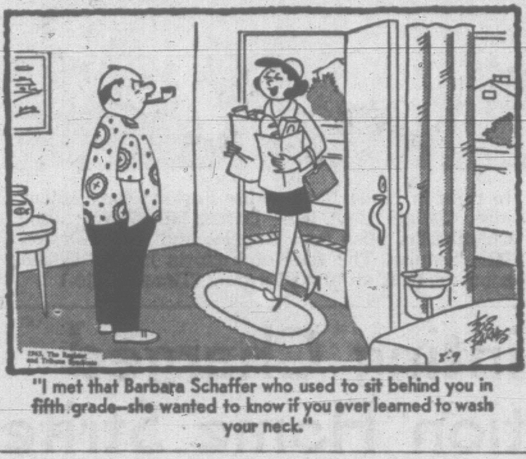
COPIED

DEAR COPIED: Tell your unimaginative friend that since she apparently likes your taste in clothes, you'd be happy to go shopping with her for either clothes or patterns. Then tell her in a gentle and friendly way that you think each of you should maintain your own individuality.

Troubled? Write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif. For a personal reply, enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

For Abby's booklet, "How to Have a Lovely Wedding," send 50 cents to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Calif.

THE BETTER HALF By Bob Barnes



"I met that Barbara Schaffer who used to sit behind you in fifth grade—she wanted to know if you ever learned to wash your neck."

They're Really Isolated

YELLOWKNIFE, N.W.T. (CP)—Mrs. Bill Haerr has to be painstakingly careful with her shopping lists—the items come from at least 250 miles away and she has to wait a week longer for anything she forgets.

Mr. and Mrs. Haerr and daughters, Sue, 18, and Sandy, 16, operate an isolated fishing lodge on McTavish Arm of Great Bear Lake. Their guests arrive by air, often from distant parts of the continent.

"It's like a travelogue with changes each week," says Mrs. Haerr.

She oversees the cooking and house staff and says ordering supplies is the most important part of her work since "there aren't any stores around the corner."

Heavy items are trucked into Yellowknife and ferried by air 250 miles to the lodge. Perishables and meat are flown in each week with guests.

They come to the lodge in a Second World War flying boat fitted out like an airliner. The old bomb bays are used as observation areas and are useful for taking photographs.

This is the second summer for the Haerrs, who come from St. Paul, Minn. During construction last year they lived in tents, but now they have a permanent building with room for 24 guests.

Feathered Friends Find Fun With Toys

By Penny Saver

For a birthday present recently my little niece received what's been her heart's desire for a long time—a six-month-old budgie bird.

A cocky little fellow with gorgeous green and yellow plumage, the budgerigar (that's the correct name for the species) is as vain as any peacock.

We discovered this when he was let out of his cage one day, and immediately flew over to the mirror to admire himself for as long as we would let him.

However, he's not all that tame yet, so we decided it would be best to get him a mirror of his own, so he will have less chance to escape.

A three-inch mirror with colorful plastic frame that budgies or canaries love sells for 49 cents at a local store. It hangs from a chain, with a hook on the end to attach it to the cage, and at the bottom is a little bell. A smaller version of this mirror sells for 39 cents.

Part of the value of getting my niece the pet is to teach her to take good care of it—to see that food and water are always available, and to clean his cage daily.

Besides the regular feed for the budgie, and the occasional tidbit he gets from the table, she gives him a candy made especially for birds. Three little heart-shaped biscuits of seed and honey costs 35 cents, and the budgie loves them.

They last for ages, too, because, as someone in our family quipped, "He has a birdlike appetite!"

In between his feeding time and his self-admiring sessions in front of the mirror, the budgie gets his exercise by tumbling around with a variety of bird-toys we found for him at the same place. They range from little plastic dumb-bells with a rattle inside, to colored plastic balls for him to roll around. Prices for these toys run from 10 cents for the smallest to 40 cents.

Particularly fun for birds are the colored ladders which they can run up and down, with bells attached. These are 45 cents each, and can also be hooked onto the cage.

Interested? Phone Penny at 382-3131.

SEW SIMPLE WITH Eunice Farmer

Dear Eunice Farmer:
I have a woven skirt that I would like to make reversible, what is the best way to hem it?

Carol J.

Dear Carol J.:
There are two easy ways of treating the hems of reversible skirts. First, you may fringe the hem to make it equally attractive on both sides. The most popular finish is to bind the edges in wool braid. This is usually done in a contrasting color and most skirts of this type are made in a wrap-around.

KNIT, TOO

Prevent the neck of a sweater from stretching! After the sweater has been blocked, take the correct size crochet hook and yarn and slip stitch around the neck at the base of the neck ribbing or collar. This is done on the wrong side of the sweater, picking up each knitted stitch as you crochet. It does not show and, although it gives slightly, it never allows the neck to stretch out of shape. You may also do the same for a ready-made sweater.

Smith, 2007 Kendal Avenue, from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. The couple was married in Chalmers Presbyterian Church, Vancouver, in 1915, and have lived in Victoria since 1921. Mr. and Mrs. Smith also have two daughters, Mrs. F. E. Gray and Mrs. J. G. Heggie, both of Victoria. There are eight grandchildren.

Stewardesses Find Champion

FIGHTS DISCRIMINATION

OTTAWA (CP) — Labor Minister MacEachen is reported to be taking a sympathetic view of complaints from airline stewardesses about the company rules that force them out of their jobs when they marry or reach the age of 32.

The bachelor minister, 44 last month, has written to Air Canada and Canadian Pacific Airlines asking for a complete statement of their policy in this regard.

He recently received protests from the Canadian Airline Flight Attendants' Association (CLC) over the situation. The association says the rules are rank discrimination, contrary to international labor accords.

Publicly - owned Air Canada five years ago began requiring that newly - hired stewardesses sign a form agreeing to leave the airline or take another job within it upon reaching the age of 32.

Most major American airlines allow stewardesses to continue in their jobs after marriage and have no set retirement rule.

The attendants' association has attempted in contract talks with Air Canada to have the rules dropped.

However, Air Canada said it would only discard one and asked the association to make a choice. The stewardesses held out unsuccessfully for withdrawal of both rules.

Mr. MacEachen hinted in his letter to the airlines that legislation may be adopted to ban discrimination against the stewardesses. At least one member of parliament is known to be drafting a private bill to cover this situation.

A few years ago France's highest court awarded a stewardess $2,500 damages from Air France after that national airline fired her for being married.

The French court noted that the main reason the airline did not want to use married women was because of possible pregnancy. It said there is no guarantee against single stewardesses becoming pregnant and ruled that the ban against married women was discriminatory.

Banning-Lane Ceremony Banff Honeymoon Follows

Honeymooning in Banff are newlyweds Mr. and Mrs. George Raymond Banning, who were married in St. Martin's-in-the-Field Anglican Church recently.

Rev. B. Cowan conducted the early-evening service for the former Miss Wendy Joan Lane, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Lane, 2821 Admirals Road, and the son of Mrs. R. K. Banning, 414 Walter Avenue, and the late Mr. Banning.

White gladioli decorated the altar and arrangements of white and yellow gladioli and chrysanthemums decorated the chancel. Pews were marked with white and yellow posies.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father.

A gown of norganza over taffeta was the choice of the bride. In floor length, the dress was fashioned with a fitted bodice and lily point sleeves. Lace flowers outlined the portrait neckline and were repeated down the front of the dress bordering the hemline. A coronet of silk petals and seed pearls held her scalloped veil and she carried a cascade of yellow roses and stephanotis.

Empire line gowns in floor length were worn by attendants, Mrs. H. L. Cronk and the Misses Linda Richmond and Yvonne Banning. The dresses were in lemon-toned ice crepe with floating back panels. Their headpieces were of matching crepe with yellow and white chrysanthemums. They wore silver and pearl pendants, gift of the bride.

W. T. Hart, uncle of the bride, proposed the toast to the bride at the reception in the Tally-Ho Travelodge. A three-tier cake topped with a vase of roses centred the bridal table.

Leaving on the wedding trip, the bride donned an eggshell wool suit with accessories en tone. She wore a pink floral hat and a corsage of pink roses.

BURTONS HAVE OWN SAINT

NEW YORK (UPI)—Elizabeth Taylor calls him "the closest to a saint of any man I've ever known." Her husband Richard Burton says, "I live in daily terror that he will leave us."

The recipient of such high praise and respect from the Burtons is their private secretary, Richard Hanley.

Hanley has been secretary to Miss Taylor for about 10 years. Starting out as secretary to the late producer Louis B. Mayer he later was hired by showman Michael Todd, Miss Taylor's third husband. He stayed with Miss Taylor after Todd's death in an airplane crash in 1958. Burton "inherited" Hanley when he became Miss Taylor's fifth husband in the spring of 1964.

Hanley loves his job. "The Burtons are such reasonable people," he says. "You feel you're working with somebody, not for somebody."

He also loves children, traveling and animals. It's a good thing he does. The Burtons spend much of each year traveling and they generally take along her four children, people to care for them, and from seven to 13 pets, that have ranged from a St. Bernard dog to a "domesticated wild hare."

LEGS ARE THE KEY

Watch Sitting Position— It's Character-Revealing

BOMBAY (CP) — An Indian psychologist says that the way a woman habitually holds her legs when sitting can be a revealing guide to her character.

Psychologist K. P. Saxena, who claims to have made a study of the "character-revealing aspects of the female leg," says that if a woman twists her legs around each other she is imaginative and artistic, with music likely one of her major passions.

On the other hand, a woman who sits with her knees held tightly together and her feet wide apart is more likely to be a self-centred egotist, cold, withdrawn and difficult to get to know.

Publishing his findings in the weekend newspaper Sunday Standard, Saxena reported:

"If a woman holds her legs parallel—knees together and feet well in line—she is a paragon. She is punctual, meticulous, loyal and always well-groomed. She is almost too perfect to be true!"

CROSSED AT KNEE

The Bombay psychologist classifies as "scheming" a woman who is in the habit of crossing her legs at the knees, with the top leg balancing lightly.

Here are some other points from his study:

If a woman stretches her legs out with one foot resting on the other, confidence in herself is her main quality. She is calm and self-assured but has a quick and even violent temper. Not a girl to be trifled with.

And if she keeps her knees together, toes together and heels apart, she betrays a lack of self-assurance. She is shy, nervous and a little frightened of life, "likely to appeal to a man with strong protective instincts."

One foot resting on the other may inspire a shy, self-conscious female with confidence in her own capability.

Saxena's advice to all women: "If in doubt, difficulty or despair, just sit pigeon-toed. It is one of the elementary facts of feminine life that the sweet, shy, timid little girls win every time over the others."

BE SMART—

There's nothing like a little satin next to the skin, we always say, but these acetate satin pettipants serve several purposes. Among them, they eliminate the need for a slip under sheaths, help control chafe, they wash like a hankie, are colored pink or black.

Mr. and Mrs. Alan Ballantyne of Duncross Terrace, Saanichton, were among the passengers who embarked in the P and O liner, Oronsay, when she left Vancouver recently. The Ballantynes plan to tour Australia, making the circle Pacific voyage in the Oronsay and returning to Vancouver in late September.

Shamrocks in Wedding Bouquet Carried by Miss Karen Holland

A cascade bouquet of white roses and shamrocks was carried by Miss Karen Patricia Holland, for her marriage in St. Paul's Naval and Garrison Church, Saturday afternoon, to Sub.-Lt. Norman Robert Anton Smyth, RCN, HMCS Sussexvale.

Rev. J. A. Roberts conducted the service for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John D. C. Holland, 1409 Stanley Avenue, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Smyth of Waterford, Ireland.

White gladioli and ivy decorated the church.

Wearing a floor-length gown of norganza, the bride entered the church on the arm of her father. It was fashioned with a bateau neckline enhancing the fitted bodice and sleeves were lily point. The colonial bell skirt fell into a full train which was appliqued with Chantilly lace. Her three-tier veil of silk illusion net was held by a headpiece of lace and rosebuds.

The bride's two sisters, the Misses Janet and Jane Holland, were her attendants. Their gowns of willow green norganza over satilene were fashioned with short bell skirts and the fitted bodices had scooped necklines and short sleeves. Watteau trains fell from the back shoulders which were highlighted by self fabric rosettes. They carried bouquets of white gladioli and ivy.

R. C. Clerke, the bride's uncle, proposed the toast.

Leaving on a honeymoon motoring to Halifax via New York, the new Mrs. Smyth wore a two-piece ice-blue suit, beige and white accessories and a corsage of white roses.

The newlyweds will make their home in Halifax.

Salt Spring Notes

Recent guests at the home of Dr. and Mrs. E. E. Groff, Sunset Drive, Salt Spring Island, were Mr. and Mrs. Allan Fawsett of Calgary, Alta.

Mr. and Mrs. Dermott Crofton have recently returned to their Ganges home after spending six weeks in Halifax, where they were guests of their son, Lieut. Patrick Crofton, RCN, and Mrs. Crofton, and their son-in-law and daughter, Lieut. R. M. Scott, RCN, and Mrs. Scott. Returning home, Mr. and Mrs. Crofton were joined at Banff by their son, Lieut. Mark Crofton, RCN. The trio motored home, stopping in Penticton and Kelowna.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Stevens of Vancouver recently spent two weeks in the home of Mrs. Stevens' parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Saunders of McPhillips Avenue, Ganges. Also visiting were Mr. and Mrs. Saunders' grandchildren, Miss Dawn Breeze, Castlegar, B.C., and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Orrange and Jeffrey of Burnaby.

9 IN MEMORIAM

ADAMS — In loving memory of William Adams who passed away August 9th, 1963.

"Held by memories jeweled chain"

—Ever remembered by daughters Mabel and Lily.

CORNESS—In loving memory of a dear husband, dad and grandpa, George F. Corness, Aug. 9, 1964.

One year has passed since that sad day,
When one we loved was called away;
God took him home—it was His will;
Within our hearts he liveth still.

—Wife Rose, daughters Wynne, Esther, Mae and families.

PERRY—In loving memory of my dear husband, Jack Perry, who passed away Aug. 9, 1962.

I have lost my soul's companion,
A life linked with my own.
And day by day I miss him more
As I walk thru life alone.
God gave me strength to bear it
And courage to take the blow.
But what it meant to lose you, dear,
No one will ever know.

—Sadly missed by his loving wife Doll, Shawnigan Lake, B.C.

BRIDGE LESSON

By JACOBY AND SON

What does a bridge player mean when he says, "We were fixed!"?

The expression is used by a duplicate player to describe a hand on which he and his partner received a bad score through no fault of their own.

Opening lead—♠ J.

Sometimes a fix results from especially good play by the opponents but mostly a fix results because an opponent has particularly good luck.

South was rather desperate. He wanted to get a top score for himself if he possibly could and when his partner raised him from one to two spades, South reasoned that all other South players would content themselves with a bid of game and that there just might be a slam. Anyway, South saw no danger in bidding three hearts to see what his partner would do. He knew that his partner would not pass since his partner was a good player and good players treat a bid of a new suit after a suit has been raised as a one round force.

South expected that his partner would merely bid three spades, in which case South would bid game and hope that his call would stop a heart lead, but North jumped to four spades.

Now South pursued his top by asking for aces and bidding the slam. The slam was a laydown since North held perfect cards, including the right doubleton. South had to lose one heart, but could ruff his third heart in dummy.

South had his top score. Poor East and West had been fixed.

Andy Stephen Looks at TV

The cost of television production is staggering when one considers that many of the new program series to be launched next month may not live beyond Jan. 1.

Stephen

A record $180,000,000 will be spent by the Hollywood production centres on prime-time series produced for the networks.

This record is being set despite the fact three major networks are to devote more time to the showing of motion pictures in top evening time than ever before. CBS-TV, NBC-TV and ABC-TV have at least two hours weekly of old movies in prime time.

The reason is primarily due to higher production costs following behind new labor contracts negotiated in the past year. Add to this, too, the loss of several series which had been filmed in New York but the time is now to be filled with a made-in-Hollywood product.

Such New York-produced series as The Defenders, For the People, Mr. Broadway, The Reporter and The Doctors and the Nurses have been cancelled and will not be seen next season. Another eastern product, The Patty Duke Show, has moved to Hollywood for the upcoming season.

There is very strong feeling that the record figure may even be topped before the season is over because many of the figures released cover only the series until midseason. It is because option time is midseason. Only such successful shows as The Lucy Show and NBC's Bonanza are figured for the entire season.

The figures are based on standard production costs in the industry today. They, the production centres, report that it costs $60,000 to $80,000 for a half-hour show and from $100,000 to $135,000 for an hour show.

The costs mentioned do not include expenditure on pilot films or on TV commercials, but only on the entertainment film series.

TIDBITS: The first TV special produced to the extraordinary musical comedy talents of Carol Channing will be presented in color on CBS-TV Feb. 18 under the title, "An Evening With Carol Channing," or "How to Watch Television Without Being Plugged In." Miss Channing will have George Burns and David McCallum among her guests.

The National Ballet of Canada's production of Romeo and Juliet, which opened last week in Washington, D.C., to rave reviews, will be seen on CBC-TV's Festival series, Sept. 15.

FIVE BEDROOMS
1800 SQUARE FEET
POSSIBLE IN-LAW SUITE
QUIET FAIRFIELD AVE.
OWNER TRANSFERRED
Reduced Nearly $2000

This is one of Fairfield's larger newer homes, well built with many extra areas. Four or five bedrooms with very large family, rumpus and music room, and extra workshop area make this desirable for large family accommodation. On a non-through street, it is most suitable for children. Even the basement is usable for extra living as it is all finished, with extra plumbing. Back garden is very desirable and it is quite secluded, and also has a double garage. This home has a huge kitchen, large living room and dining room, and is extremely well built. Within walking distance to town, and very close to bus, schools and shops. This home is good value, $24,600.00 with suitable terms. WILLS OF WHITTOMES, EV 2-4255.

PIERS ISLAND

A different world of natural beauty awaits you just 5 minutes away from Swartz Bay and the Saanich Peninsula! Careful planning has resulted in only limited number of lots being offered for sale each year. Lots average approx 100x200 all with waterfront and priced from $3,000 to $4,850. In addition as a member of the Piers Island Association you can enjoy the added amenity of 150 acres of wooded parkland donated to the property owners in perpetuity. Many of the present 87 lot owners are from Victoria and Vancouver and interior points while others are from as far afield as Alberta, Toronto, California, Hong Kong and India. It is getting later than you think to get your share of the beautiful Gulf Islands — considered the finest cruising and recreation areas on the Pacific Coast. With more than two thirds of this unique summer community already sold you may never have a better opportunity to own a choice waterfront lot near VICTORIA at only one third of the price of waterfront on the Saanich Peninsula. All aboard! — Leave your problems behind —. Cast off this weekend and set your course for Piers Island. For transportation call R. 159 GULF ISLANDS PROPERTIES

SEAFRONT FARM

A rare jewel of the Gulf Islands carved out of the wilderness over seventy years ago, located on a Bay offering one of the most sheltered harbours of the Gulf Islands affording not only good anchorage but a safe beach for children and swimming. As you approach the property from the water you feel the leisurely pace of the Islands, where they have the good sense to take time to live. You contemplate the task of clearing such land from primeval forest, and you cannot help but respect the pioneer who came before you to carve out this homesite before the advent of bull-dozer and power saw. As you stroll along forest trails above the beach, through stately maples, cedar and fir you see the sweep of the Bay for almost half a mile yet only a curious seal and the call of the gulls and brandt mark your presence. The property includes the westerly portion of the bay with boathouse, beach and an unspoiled natural point at the westerly boundary. The older farm home with productive small orchard is in excellent condition and ideally situated on a wooded knoll overlooking the gently sloping cleared farm land. A rustic house nearby would be ideal for summer guest house. This unique property with over 100 Acres of land approx half a mile of seafront is offered at $50,000.

DAG'S DEATH STORY BRINGS SUIT

STOCKHOLM (Reuters) — Sten Hammarskjold, brother of the late Dag Hammarskjold, said today he is suing two Swedish publications over allegations concerning the death of the United Nations secretary-general in a plane crash nearly four years ago.

The publications said Dag Hammarskjold "smuggled a bomb aboard the plane and blew himself up with 15 other passengers."

The UN chief and 15 others aboard the plane died when it crashed eight miles from Ndola, then Northern Rhodesia, on Sept. 17, 1961. A UN inquiry shed no light on the cause of the crash.

Welcome by Reds Wows Canadians

LONDON (CP) — Canadian parliamentarians bound for home from visits to Russia and Czechoslovakia say the Communists gave them royal treatment that was sometimes daunting and a trifle puzzling.

Members of an all-party delegation of Canadian senators and members of Parliament who stopped off here Saturday night raved about the caviar-for-breakfast and champagne-for-supper welcome they received during two weeks in Russia and a week in Czechoslovakia.

"They gave us the red carpet everywhere we went," said Conservative Senator John Hnatyshyn of Saskatoon. "For some reason they wanted to impress upon us a great friendliness towards Canada."

Senator Hnatyshyn and Conservative MPs Ken More, Regina City, and Terry Nugent, Edmonton-Strathcona, all remarked that at times there was almost too much hospitality.

Caviar, pickled herring, cold meats, salad, cognac and vodka for breakfast—followed by ham and eggs—had novelty value at first but became awesome on repetition.

The travellers said the overwhelming official welcome clearly was an effort to impress that went beyond even the legendary hospitality of Eastern Europe.

"Perhaps the Russians feel we may serve a useful purpose as a go-between with the United States," the senator said. "It's hard to say exactly what the motive was."

The Canadian party, which had formal meetings with top government leaders in both countries, dispersed following their departure from Prague Saturday morning.

Hnatyshyn, who came to Canada with his parents from the Ukraine as a baby; Liberal Senator David Croll of Toronto, born near Moscow, and Conservative MP Michael Starr of Oshawa, Ont., whose parents came from the Ukraine, all visited old family homes in areas normally out of bounds to foreign visitors. Croll was the leader of the delegation.

Hnotyshyn said meetings with leaders such as Soviet Premier Kosygin and President Mikoyan consisted mainly of formal greetings and reminders of policy. But he did urge both Russian and Czech leaders to loosen emigration machinery to permite reuniting of separated families in Canada.

He said the leaders were noncommittal but he intends to pursue the issue from Canada.

IN SAANICH

Pool Halls, Dance Halls May Be Out

Pool halls and dance halls may be excluded from proposed commercial recreation zones in Saanich.

But municipal planner Tom Loney today said the basic concept of such multi-purpose entertainment areas is sound. And Saanich will press ahead with its plan, he stated.

The planned zone area ran into stiff opposition at a public hearing last week and councillors agreed to consider the matter further.

The commercial recreation zone included 18 separate uses. Among them were golf, archery, bowling, swimming pool, dance hall, billiard hall, tennis courts, marinas and bowling alleys.

The basic objection seemed to hinge on a few uses, said Mr. Loney.

A second look was being made into the proposed bylaw and possibly some uses would be withdrawn or aditional controls put in to govern them.

Two uses objected to at the public hearing were dance halls and billiard halls.

The basic reason behind the bylaw, he said, was to include a large number of uses all closely related which should not demand separate zones.

Golf and archery, lawn bowling and tenis courts were two examples of closely-rated uses.

The proposed zone would apply to existing commercial recreation attractions and would cover further applications.

Mr. Loney emphasized that Saanich would still want to know from any developer exactly what uses are planned when application is made for the zoning.

In addition, building permits and licences would still be needed so Saanich would retain control of development.

The revised zoning plan likely will go before the next public hearing in a month or so. The planner indicated summaries will be available at the municipal hall and the hearing for interested persons.

Rumors Flying On Successor For Pearkes

By JOHN MIKA
Times Legislative Reporter

Lieutenant-Governor George Pearkes' five-year term runs out next month and the rumor mill is grinding out some big names as replacements.

Immigration Minister Jack Nicholson, Dr. Norman MacKenzie, former president of the University of B.C.); B.C. Telephone head Cyrus McLean, and Maj.-Gen. Pearkes himself.

It is understood that the lieutenant-governor, who has proved enormously popular with the public and politicians of all parties, could have the job again if he wants it.

If not, Mr. Nicholson may get the job but this would require a major re-shuffle of the federal cabinet in which he holds the unofficial position of trouble-shooter.

Two B.C. Senate vacancies also are expected to be filled and persistent rumors slate Northern Affairs Minister Arthur Laing for one of the seats.

If the guessing is correct on Nicholson and Laing, Prime Minister Pearson may be contemplating a far-reaching shift of portfolios with which to face an early election.

Mercy Dash Fails

MELBOURNE (Reuters) — A mercy dash by a Canadian woman to the bedside of her dying father in Australia failed by two hours Saturday. Paulette Comdon of Vancouver arrived in Melbourne two hours after her father, Police Superintendent Vivien Thomas, 57, died in hospital.

CLIMBER FELL TO DEATH

ANCHORAGE (AP)—A 20-year-old Harvard student fell 4,000 feet to his death during a descent of 12,240-foot Mount Huntington, members of a Harvard Mountain Climbing Club expendition reported Sunday.

He was Edward Brend, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Brend of Upper Darby, Pa.

The accident occurred July 30 as Brend and Dave Roberts, 22, began descent of the peak 10 miles south of Mount McKinley after they and two other climbers had scaled it.

. . . POSTMEN

Postal Act, which Mr. Houle called "19th century in outlook."

He said: "Nominally we went out for more money, but actually this whole action arose out of an accumulation of injustices and stupid regulations that were worsening day by day."

Also agreed to at a meeting in Ottawa between the Montreal unions, the Postal Workers Brotherhood and the government, was that there will be no reprisals against the strikers, nor against non-union personnel—mostly women—who stayed out in sympathy.

In Ottawa, Prime Minister Pearson said he was very happy the strike was over, and added that legislation on collective bargaining "now is waiting to go before Parliament.

"So that there will be no misunderstanding, let me add this," the prime minister said. "The recommendations made by Judge Anderson were not arrived at to settle the strike in Montreal or to meet strikers' demands in Montreal.

"The recommendations would have been exactly the same—and the government action exactly the same—if the Montreal postal workers had followed the lead of postal workers in other parts of the country who returned to work more than a week ago, pending Judge Anderson's report.

"And, of course, the pay increases apply to all workers in all parts of Canada. They have nothing to do with who went on strike."

The executive of the Postal Workers' Brotherhood has recommended acceptance of the government offer to its three affiliated unions — the Federated Association of Letter Carriers, the Association of Canadian Postal Employees and the Canadian Railway Mail Clerks' Federation.

Bollots have been distributed and are to be returned by midnight, Aug. 20. They will be tallied and the results announced immediately.

SOLUTION WEDNESDAY

VOICE OF BROADWAY

By DOROTHY KILGALLEN

(Dorothy Kilgallen is on vacation. Her guest columnist today is concert pianist John Browning).

By JOHN BROWNING

NEW YORK—The last thing I expected to be asked about on my return to the U.S. after 10 weeks on tour in the Soviet Union and Western Europe as solosist with the Cleveland Orchestra, under George Szell, was teen-agers abroad.

Since two of the works I'd played in the 18 cities we covered had been Samuel Barber's Pulitzer Prize-winning First Piano Concerto in local premieres everywhere, and The Gershwin Piano Concerto in F, I wouldn't have been surprised at questions about reactions to American music abroad.

Little as I like to seem to be offering as authoritative, any conclusions based on the superficial view of a performer in transit, here for what they're worth are my thoughts on teenagers and young people in general as I encountered them in certain cities in the Soviet Union, Finland, Sweden, Poland, Germany, France, Norway, Czechoslovakia, Austria, England and Holland.

A Time Magazine report on the tour, from Tbilisi in the Soviet Union, mentioned that an avid group of young girls followed me about the city and stormed the stage after the concert, crying, "John, John, . . . oh, John!"

The significance of this is not that I had any particular Pied Piper effect on them. It is rather that in the Soviet Union, due to circumstances which I will try to explain, classical music provides the outlet for youthful energy and idol worship which in our society is more often associated with stars of popular music and jazz.

In the United States and Western Europe, teen-agers have an enormous degree of persorial freedom. They are relatively unchaperoned, they frequently live away from their parents' home by the age of 17 or 18, and they have the devastating combination of a good deal of spending money plus a lot of leisure time. Thus they have a tremendous impact, collectively, on the American and European economies. They are the largest record buyers, and they influence fashion greatly.

In the Soviet Union, circumstances prevent the teen-agers from having this kind of influence. Because of the crucial housing shortage, almost no one is allowed to live alone. Even after the teen-ager is married, he usually continues to live either with his own parents or with his bride's family. Since the economic level of the Russians is much lower than ours, teen-agers simply don't have that much money to spend. While jazz and popular music is not frowned upon by the Soviet government, nevertheless almost all of the culture disseminated by the government is serious in nature.

The young people have, to my knowledge, practically nowhere to go in the evening except to concerts, ballet, theatre. Consequently, it is towards these forms of entertainment that their enthusiasms are directed. Great for us!

On the whole, the great majority of young people I met and got to know in Russia were conservatory students in their teens and early twenties. These kids are wonderful. They were warm, generous, and lacking the blase quality some of us in the West are likely to develop with our more pampered lives. They dressed in the general neat-but-not-glamorous approach to apparel of the Soviets. They are fascinated by Western clothes, however, and several of them told me they would give their eye-teeth for a pair of levis.

A group of them in Yerevan gave me a surprise farewell party that I won't soon forget. Music was supplied by two concert piano students who turned out to be masterly jazz artists, too—one at the keyboard, the other plucking the piano's strings as though it were a bull fiddle. They had a repertoire that ran from basic blues to progressive jazz and rock and roll. There was dancing all evening—and I don't mean the Kasotzky. The fundamentals of the Twist, Frug, Watusi, Slop and Mashed Potato presented no problems to anyone.

If there's a conclusion to be reached by Americans from these admittedly superficial observations on world-wide teenagedom, I guess it's the comforting one that we're not alone in being confronted by the Dilemma of the Teens. Various phases of it are found all over—the strange approach to fashion, the defiant uses to which the normal growth of hair is put, the personal approach to the arts, the athletic and frenetic styles in dancing, the hostility, the friendliness—we share the problems.

HE GIVES AWAY GRAND PRIZES

Is there something you want to know? Do you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes.

The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia to Margie Batis, 12, Cleveland, Ohio, for her question:

How Does Nature Take Care of Decay?

On the topic of decay, everyone has a choice. You may shudder and try to forget it as a horrible necessity. Of you may regard it with the bright, unbiased eye of science, in which case you stand to gain a wholesome appreciation of one of the most perfect processes in nature.

The great outdoors may be compared to a tremendous household occupied by numerous assortments of plants and animals. This household offers a variety of living conditions and a vast selection of diets for its occupants. All this out-of-doors housekeeping and much more is operated by laws of nature. These amazing laws are run in cycles that repeat and repeat, and many of them are based on systems of give-and-take.

For example, the animals depend upon the plants for their oxygen and directly or indirectly for their food. In return, the plants depend upon the animals for the carbon dioxide they need to grow and multiply. The process of decay is another aspect of the give-and-take between plants and animals. It is an economical system of using and reusing certain basic chemicals to keep the stupendous household operating from season to season.

These basic items are simple chemicals taken from the soil by growing plants. They are processed by the plants into more complex chemicals and used to build wood, foliage, seeds and fragrant flowers. Every generation of plants must remove its quota of simple chemicals from the soil. And every year the supply is replenished by the process of decay.

Supplies Food for Plants

Sooner or later, every plant and animal reaches the end of its life span, and generally its remains are left to rot on the ground. And every spot of soil is tenanted with assorted bugs and beetles and with teeming swarms of microscopic bacteria. These midgets of the soil promptly attack the remains of fallen leaves and fallen sparrows. Their substances are used to support the tiny soil tenants, and in the process their complex chemicals are broken down into simple chemicals. As plant and animal remains rot and decay, a new supply of plant food enters the ground to feed a new generation of plants that will provide oxygen and food for new generation of animals.

Nature's system of decay makes it possible for plants to reclaim and reuse their basic food chemicals. The economical system also performs neat jobs of garbage disposal and house cleaning. If the old generations were not removed, the great outdoors would become cluttered with animal corpses and fallen trees, and there would be no room for new generations.

Andy sends a World Book Atlas to Larry Blackner, age 10, of Woods Cross, Utah, for his question:

Why does a lake with no outlet get salty?

The so-called fresh water of streams and rivers contains traces of salty chemicals similar to those dissolved in the salty sea. When water evaporates these salts are left behind as solid chemicals, for they cannot float off into the air with the gaseous water vapor. The sun evaporates water from lake surfaces, but the salts in the water are left behind.

Most lakes have inlets and outlets to keep a steady supply of water flowing through them. A lake with no outlets cannot do this. Fresh water comes in bearing traces of salts. The surface water dries up, leaving these chemicals behind. The water becomes salty, and it gets saltier all the time.

ISLAND DIGEST

EVELYN CREELMAN
. . . winning girl

Comox Boy Wins Swim

And little wonder because temperature of the water was a chilly 52 degrees.

Even so, the mass swim attracted 155 entries from Vancouver Island and the mainland, as far south as Seattle.

Winning time for the race was 21½ minutes.

After it was all over, George, an amateur, refused the $15 first prize and asked that the money be donated to Courtenay-Comox Swimming Club.

Second place winner, in a time of 23½ minutes, was Peter Gregg, 20, of West Vancouver.

Eleven-year-old Scott Taylor of Seattle was youngest swimmer taking part.

Two Die In Sunday Accidents

One man died in a car crash and another drowned on Vancouver Island Sunday.

At Lake Cowichan, Peter Albany, 18, son of Chief John Albany of the Songhees Indian band, was killed immediately when his car slammed into a power pole.

And at Long Beach, near Ucluelet, Robert Emmanuel Steel, 32, of 400 South Eight Avenue, Port Alberni, drowned only a few yards from shore.

It was 6:30 a.m. when Albany hit a slight curve and lost control of his car just east of Lake Cowichan.

He shot across the road and hit the power pole head-on.

BODY TRAPPED

A wrecker had to be called to loosen the car from the pole before Albany's body could be recovered. The car door remained wrapped round the pole.

An inquest was to open tonight for viewing of the body.

Albany had been working at the Hillcrest Lumber Co. mill at Mesachie Lake since the beginning of the year. He quit the job Friday.

Since starting the job, he had lived at Lake Cowichan. He was alone at the time of the accident.

WADING

In the other fatality, RCMP are still not sure what caused Mr. Steele to suddenly disappear.

He was wading up to his armpits with a friend when he suddenly went out of sight.

The unidentified friend called for help and a local swimmer waded into the water and found Steele was found floating face down.

Local doctor H. R. McDiarmid who was on the beach at the time, attempted to revive the Port Alberni man, without avail.

Steele was married with two children, but his family was not with him at the time.

An inquiry will be held.

Trophy for Top Sailor

WATER SKIER INJURED CRASHING INTO WHARF

Baird, of 3935 Tudor, suffered lacerations, bruises and shock. He was released from King's Daughters' Hospital Sunday.

On Saturday, Baird apparently let his skis go but hung on to the tow rope as he was being taken into the wharf.

He crashed into the structure and was pulled from the water by his son.

REMEDIAL PROGRAM

Classes Continued

DUNCAN — Cowichan School Board has approved expansion of its experimental remedial program for bright students who have fallen behind.

The board accepted recommendations of school principal Andrew McMorland to keep York Road School Annex open and add a teacher to the remedial instruction staff.

Also a selected group of children will be transferred to Koksilah School from Alexander to permit more "remedial" students to attend Alexander. Seventy such students will attend there this fall.

DRYDEN, Ont. (CP—A coroner's jury Saturday attached no blame to Cyril Lobreau of Dryden, Ont., the owner and pilot of a houseboat in which 12 persons died when it overturned June 27.

Fish-Eating Beavers Being Evicted Soon

CAMPBELL RIVER — A beaver dam across Willow Creek here will be blown up in September.

Before the big bang the busy builders will be trapped and moved elsewhere.

Conservation officer Bill Taylor said today: "If we were to blow the dam right now, we'd not only lose a lot of salmon fry and trout behind the dam, but most of the fry and fingerlings in the smaller pools below would be washed away as well."

Mr. Taylor and federal fisheries officer Hugh MacDonnell examined the dam after complaints that beaver were killing fish.

The complaints proved unfounded.

Last year a trapper was sent into the same area to catch beaver and move them elsewhere.

Said Mr. Taylor: "We thought we'd got them all, but they sure moved back into their stamping grounds."

TAKING IT EASY on his first day as a free man is former sales clerk Frank Stevens, of Ganges. Mr. Stevens retired at the weekend after 37 years sales work in Mouat's Store. He started work at the store shortly after arriving from Durham, England.

He Was Loser In 85-m.p.h. Race

DUNCAN — An 85-mile-an-hour chase along the Trans-Canada Highway Saturday ended in a court appearance for Brian Donald Goodings, of Vancouver.

Goodings pleaded guilty to impaired driving and was fined $125 and had his driver's licence endorsed.

Accused was driving north toward his parents' home in Chemainus when chased by the RCMP.

He was weaving back and forth on the highway at speeds up to 85 mph. in a 50 mph. zone.

POLICE FIRE SHOTS TO DISPERSE RIOTERS

NEW DELHI (UPI)—Police today opened fire on crowds of rioters in Patna. Unofficial reports said at least five persons were injured and two may have been killed.

The rioters were protesting against rising prices, India's foreign policy, and increased tuition fees.

Singapore Quits Federation; Spurs Fear of New Crisis

Island to Renew Indonesian Ties

SINGAPORE (CP)—This island state pulled out of the 23-month-old Federation of Malaysia today and immediately became embroiled with federal prime minister, Tunku Abdul Pahman, over relations with Indonesia.

Premier Lee Kuan Yew of Singapore told a press conference Singapore wants to be friends with Indonesia, which has sworn to crush Malaysia. Singapore once carried on a flourishing trade with Indonesia and obviously wants to regain it.

Lee declared, however, that co-operation with Indonesia would be impossible unless the Indonesians recognize Singapore as a sovereign, independent nation.

In Jakarta, Indonesia Deputy Premier Subandrio said Indonesia was ready to recognize Singapore but would continue its hostile policy toward the federation.

In the federal capital of Kuala Lumpur, Rahman was asked at a press conference what would happen if Singapore established diplomatic relations with Indonesia and Red China.

HARM INTENDED

"If they do that, the obvious intention is to harm our interests," Rahman replied. "We can't allow that to happen. We would take action."

Rahman did not elaborate, but he noted that the separation agreement signed by his government and Singapore included a pledge "not to undertake to enter into any treaty or agreement with a foreign country which may be detrimental to the independence and defence of the territory of the other party."

Lee said nothing about seeking diplomatic recognition from Peking in charting a neutral course for his new nation, but said Singapore would trade with all nations, including Red China.

Rahman told Parliament in Kuala Lumpur that Singapore and Malaysia would continue to co-operate in defence and economic affairs despite secession of the federation's chief port and metropolis.

In Singapore, riot police stood guard in Malay sections of the largely Chinese port ready for any demonstrations against secession.

Singapore's 1,200,000 Chinese, 70 per cent of the population, began exploding firecrackers as soon as the break was announced.

There were no immediate reports of violence, but police were on guard against any outbreak of Malay-Chinese rioting similar to that in which 23 persons were killed in July, 1964.

Racial differences have been one of the major causes of friction between predominantly-Chinese Singapore and the rest of Malaysia in recent months. The federation has been accused of giving preferential treatment to Malays.

The split is the outcome of political rivalry between the Malaysian Chinese, who dominate the economy of the federation, and the Malays who control the federal government in Kuala Lumpur.

MALAYS MINORITY

The Chinese made up about 42 per cent of the federation's population of 11,000,000 and slightly outnumber the Malays. But the constitution gave 104 of

SECESSION SHOCKS WHITEHALL

LONDON (Reuters)—Singapore's secession from the Malaysian Federation came as a shock in British diplomatic circles today.

"In formal terms our defence agreement with Malaysia and possibly other aspects of our relations may have to be reconsidered," a Commonwealth relations office spokesman said.

He said Britain was informed in advance of Singapore's decision to secede, and added:

"We cannot anticipate our decisions. We are seking clarification of the position from our high commissioner in Kulla Lumpur (Malaysia's capital)."

New Greek Crisis

ATHENS (AP)—Centre Union party deputies today voted against allowing Stephanos Stephanopoulos to form a new government. The action plunged Greece even deeper into crisis and confronted young King Constantine with a new challenge.

Aid Cut-Off

WASHINGTON (UPI)—The United States has cut off all financial aid to both factions in the Dominican Republic until they agree on formation of a provisional government, the state department disclosed today.

LONDON (AP) — Britain has informed the Dutch they cannot have Rolls-Royce dart turbine-propeller engines for 20 Fokker Friendship transport planes they are building for Indonesia, government sources said today.

YUKON, B.C. BORDER

Forest Fire Threatens 15 Families

LOWER POST, B.C. (CP)—A major forest fire more than doubled its size during the weekend, moving within two miles of the homes of 15 families at Mile 543 of the Alaska Highway.

The families packed their belongings in cars and trucks, ready to flee if they had to.

~~Late Sunday~~ an east wind blew the fire back on itself to lessen the threat. The weather was cool with a possibility of rain, but residents feared a strong prevailing wind could cause a new swep of fire in their direction.

ALL NIGHT GUARD

The blaze spread from 12,000 to 30,000 acres Saturday, criss-crossing the Alaska Highway several times, bringing down telegraph lines and approaching within 300 yards of a microwave tower.

An Otter water bomber, several tractors and 70 men fought the flames. Wind carried sparks as much as a mile ahead, starting smaller fires, and a dozen water trucks soaked buildings through the night at Mile 543.

The blaze at dark Sunday covered an area 15 miles long and one to two miles across.

PACKED EVERYTHING

"We all packed everything we could in the cars and waited to see what would happen," said Mrs. Margot Windrum, in a telephone interview from the lodge she runs with her husband at the tiny community.

"It was two miles away, but the roaring of the fire was terrific, and the smoke was choking.

"The fire has wreaked havoc along the road," she said. "We saw bewildered animals standing in the road trying to escape the fire."

The hazard dropped across the rest of the province with the spread of cooler and moist weather.

There were eight new fires reported on the Island between Friday night and this morning. All are extinguished or under control.

B.C. Hydro Issues New Parity Bonds

VANCOUVER (CP) — Premier Bennett today announced the issue of $100,000,000 worth of five per cent parity development bonds to finance the British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority.

The premier told about 300 representatives of the financial community that Hydro development bonds will be issued in future on a five-year cycle basis.

He told the financiers at a breakfast meeting that a B.C.-packed parity bond is "the best piece of paper in the world."

The bonds are cashable at par at any time.

The issue replaces the $100,000,000 series issued Sept. 1, 1961.

Bonds are available in two forms.

Coupon bonds are tavailable in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.

Fully registered bonds are issued in denominations of $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.

The five per cent interest is payable quarterly.

The bonds are unconditionally guaranteed by the province. Half the issue matures Sept. 1, 1969, and the other half one year later.

Mr. Bennett said demand for the bonds will be such that "It'll be hard to hold back the rush" for them.

DRIFTING DEATH SHIP was sighted Sunday by U.S. Coast Guard patrol aircraft. Three bodies were found on the 125-foot Panamanian cargo vessel, Seven Seas, adrift about 100 miles south of Miami. A crewman was found alive hiding in a chain locker. The vessel was bound for Tampa.

FRIGHTENED CREWMAN WITNESS

Murder on High Seas

Eight men were on the Panamanian flag vessel Seven Seas when it left Miami Saturday bound for repairs in a Tampa dry dock. It was due to arrive today.

The seaman, Elvin Burywise, 25, was hiding in the vessel's chain locker room when the coast guard boarded the Seven Seas shortly after noon Sunday.

Burywise told them he saw a crew member shoot the first mate in the bunk. He said he then ran to the bridge to notify the captain, and found Capt. Rogelio Diaz of Miami dead.

Burywise said four men had been shot to death, but there were only three bodies. The coast guard surmised the fourth had been thrown overboard.

A coast guard patrol plane first sighted the Seven Seas at 11:45 a.m. Sunday, drifting approximately 100 miles south of Miami.

The coast guard cutter Cape Shoalwater, already on patrol in the Florida Straits nearby, rushed to the scene.

Coast guard aircraft and a boarding party immediately began a search for the vessel's missing 14-foot skiff and the three persons believed to be aboard.

Heavy Water Project Dims For City Firm

By JIM HUME
Times Business Editor

Western Deuterium Ltd., the Victoria based firm organized by Harold Husband of the Victoria Machinery Depot, is in danger of losing a $46 million contract to build a heavy water plant at Estevan, Sask.

Mr. Husband said today that negotiations between the company and officials of Atomic Energy of Canada were still continuing, but that as yet no contract for the building of the plant had been signed.

"The main problem lies in our inability to promise delivery of heavy water 31 months after we sign the contract," Mr. Husband said.

Failure to produce heavy water on time would result in heavy penalties for the company involved.

Mr. Husband stressed that mass production problems were the main stumbling block at present.

"Our process for making heavy water is new and untried," Mr. Husband said. "Basically the problem is that the process is not far enough advanced to guarantee delivery on time."

$14 A POUND

Experimental work by Western Deuterium experts indicated that heavy water could be produced at $14 a pound as compared with the $20 a pound cost estimated at the heavy water plant being built in Nova Scotia.

"The problem is in the technical feasibility of producing heavy water at that low cost in a $46 million plant," Mr. Husband said.

Saskatchewan Premier Ross Thatcher said today that a new British process which extracts heavy weater at a cost of between $7 and $8 a pound could be the reason behind the reluctance of Western Deuterium to go ahead.

"The project isn't dead yet as far as we know," he said. "But if their process is obsolete we can't blame them for dropping it."

Mr. Husband said his company was studying the feasibility of using the British method to reduce costs.

The Saskatchewan government guaranteed up to $45 million in bond financing to get the plant located at Estevan.

Mr. Husband said many of the

MARTIN

'Folly' For UN To Start

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Martin appealed today to United Nations members to drop the dispute which has tied up the general assembly and deal with important international problems at the next assembly session.

"It would be folly to go through the inflexible positions of the previous few years," Mr. Martin said at a pres conference in reference to a dispute over non-payment of assessments by such members as Russia and France.

He had summoned home Canadian Ambassador Paul Tremblay to review the agenda and prospects of the assembly getting down to work.

Chinese Against Ceasefire

HONG KONG (Reuters) — China today declared itself against a ceasefire in Viet Nam and said a peace call from Yugoslavia and India was an attempt to gain time for the United States.

China's opposition to a ceasefire was stated in the Peking People's Daily, official mouthpiece of the Peking government, the article was written by "Observer," cover-name for a leading Chinese official.

It said that the ceasefire call by President Tito of Yugoslavia and Prime Minister Shastri of India was made in the hope of hoodwinking public opinion and duping those who do not know the true position.

'Serious' Proposals Made to End Tieup

The agremnt was ratified by VANCOUVER (CP)—A federal mediator travelled between company and union rooms at a luxury waterfront hotel during the weekend, trying to harvest an agreement in the Vancouver grain strike.

Dr. G. Neil Perry, choosing his words carefully, said both sides were "studying serious proposals." He said nothing about specific progress or specific issues.

Hours ran late in a series of separate metings with the presidents of five grain companies and with leaders of the striking grain handlers.

Dr. Perry said it "would prejudice our discussions" to say whether the personal participation of the company presidents had brought the dispute nearer settlemnt since their arrival Friday.

Montreal Strike Over

MONTREAL (CP) — Some 1,000 grain-handlers in the port of Montreal today voted to return to work followilng a strike that has lasted seven weeks.

The workers voted 90.3 per cent in favor of the move, which takes effect Tuesday morning.

Increased Shoe Allowance Given to Letter Carriers

MONTREAL (CP)—The city's 4,100 postal workers were all back at work early today—the postmen carrying back-breaking loads of first-class mail sorted during the weekend.

The return to work—after a 17-day strike—followed a unanimous vote by 3,000 sorters and postmen who attended a meeting Saturday during which their leaders reported Ottawa had agreed to a $22 increase in the $38 shoe allowance for letter carriers.

This was on top of salary increases for letter carriers of $510 a year. Inside postal workers won increases of up to $550.

The agreement raised annual salaries for all postal workers to maximums from $4,470 to $4,930, which, including the $22 increase in shoe allowance, will cost the government an additional $5,000,000 a year.

Workers at the meeting Saturday cheered when union leaders announced the government was soon going to establish a system of collective bargaining.

The lack of collective bargaining for civil servants was scored by Postmaster-General Rene Tremblay during a press conference Saturday, and he blamed the strike on the lack of such a system.

GIVE BARGAINING RIGHTS

"Fundamentally, the reason for this strike was a lack of collective bargaining machinery. This is in the process of being rectified—as speedily as possible as far as the government is concerned," he said.

William Houle, Montreal president of the Postal Employees' Association, told the meeting that failure to win retroactivity to Oct. 1, 1964, for the whole increase was "unsatisfactory," but that otherwise he was happy.

The government had earlier agreed to an increase of $300 to $360 retroactive to Oct. 1 but would not bulge on its stand that the additional increase based on Judge J. C. Anderson's report would only be effective as of Aug. 1.

Judge Anderson was appointed a one-man commission to study federal government Class D salaries in the wake of the postal workers' strike which started July 22 and spread to 75 centres, including 70 per cent of the country's postal workers, and affected B.C., Ontario and Quebec. There are 35,000 other federal government employees in Class D occupations.

OVERHAUL ACT

Another victory the postal workers won was a promise by the government to overhaul the

NOT ME, SAYS JACKIE

Who Was That Woman on Yacht?

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI)—Who was that woman aboard the Sinatra yacht?

It was NOT Mrs. John F. Kennedy, a family spokesman said today.

Even Mrs. Kennedy is curious.

"I wonder who that woman was? It wasn't me," Jacqueline was quoted as asking Pamela Turnure, her private secretary.

The mixup, which baffled veteran newsmen who have long covered the meanderings of the Kennedy clan, began when a woman boarded the Sinatra yacht Saturday as it anchored off this summer resort. Sinatra personally welcomed her aboard.

She was dressed in light colored slacks, a black sweater, white sneakers and had a white kerchief on her head. She carried a white handbag.

To the trained — and untrained eye — it looked like Jacqueline.

A more careful study of the pictures today disclosed that the woman might have been Pat Lawford, Jacqueline's sister-in-law and wife of actor Peter Lawford.

A long-time friend of Sinatra's, it was reported that Pat visited the yacht this weekend.

Miss Turnure said the mysterious woman "looks like Pat to me."

'Building Curb Not Harmful'

OTTAWA (CP)—Prime Minister Pearson said last week the level of activity in the construction industry will remain unaffected by the government's action to stretch out building projects.

He read a statement at a press conference expressing surprise at interpretations placed on the government's action and adding that there is no crisis in the building industry, nor any hidden problems.

"The one problem is that, in some areas, the demands on the construction industry have been increasing even faster than had been previously indicated," he said.

"I am sure these demands can be met. But it takes time for the industry to make the necessary plans and assemble the men and machinery."

The government merely was moving some of the deadlines on certain projects.

"This is in no way restrictive. No work that has been started will be stopped. No planning will be abandoned. There will be no cutback in the possible level of activity."

Canada Slump May Be Over, Experts Hope

By JOHN BELANGER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

All segments of Canadian stock exchanges rose in light trading last week — marking what some securities analysts feel is the end to the eight-week slump in main list prices.

On the Toronto, Montreal and Canadian Stock Exchanges, industrials took fractional gains. Speculative trading picked up somewhat.

The week was abbreviated by the Civic Holiday in both cities Monday.

Gains in the industrial list were scattered throughout most groups with foods, beverages, metal working issues and financial stocks taking much of the rise.

Golds, senior base metals and western oils also advanced.

Canadian markets have been soft since mid-May when the 87-stock industrial index hit a high of 178.32. Prices slumped badly in June and July in light turnover. Last week, however, the index took its largest gain so far this year.

Active issues this week included CPR, Canadian Breweries, Atlantic Sugar, Abitibi, MacMillan Bloedel, Walker-Gooderham and Consumers' Gas.

Two factors augured badly for the market: The worsening war in South Viet Nam and a strike by postal employees in Montreal. Neither seemed to have much effect so far.

Corporate news was plentiful and most of it concerned higher six months earnings. Reporting better profits were Great Lakes Paper, Union Carbide, Bowater Paper, CAE Industries, International Minerals and Chemical, Domtar and Emco.

Insurance Conspiracy Charged

NEW YORK (AP)—The U.S. government Thursday accused several insurance groups of conspiring to monopolize the $125,000,000 - a - year aviation insurance business.

Federal court suits sought to dissolve the aviation insurance pools of two corporations and three associations, accusing them of conspiring since 1928.

As a result, the suits contended, airlines and other operators of aircraft have been denied the benefits of unrestricted competition in insuring aircraft and some insurance companies have been prevented from writing such policies.

Named defendants in one suit were United States Aviation Underwriters, Inc., manager of an insurance pool for member companies and United States Aircraft Insurance Group, an association of the same companies.

Accused in a second suit were Associated Aviation Underwriters, an association of insurance companies which manages an aviation insurance pool for member companies; Chubb and Son, Inc., and Marine Office of America, joint agents for some member companies of the association; and representatives of other member companies.

Men Stage Walkout

CASTLEGAR (CP) — Seventeen truck drivers staged a four-hour wildcat strike at the High Arrow damsite four miles west of here Friday night.

A spokesman for Columbia hydro construction said the men walked off their jobs when they found two other truck drivers had been laid off.

He said the men were laid off because loading equipment feeding the trucks malfunctioned and there was no work.

The men returned to their jobs after discussions with company industrial relations officials.

BUSINESS VIEWS

If There Are Bumps It's Not the Asphalt

By JIM HUME
Business Editor

"Don't blame the Bumps on the Blacktop" is the title of an article in the latest issue of Imperial Oil Review, an article devoted to the defence of asphalt over concrete for highway construction.

Hume

At the present time asphalt covers more than nine of every 10 miles of paved road in Canada and Dr. Norman McLeod, who has specialized in road surfacing for many years, says it can't be beaten for long wear and easy maintenance.

He goes further than that and adds that "in Canada there is no such thing as bad asphalt, only asphalt badly used."

Some of the points he makes in the battle between asphalt and concrete are that:

- If properly used it always makes a long-lasting, first class road.
- If properly designed and constructed such a road will last from 15 to 25 years before it needs resurfacing.
- It is almost always cheaper to construct and maintain than concrete.

Next time you hit a pot-hole on a reasonably new road telephone the workcrew and tell them to polish up on their mixing techniques, for it's in the mixing that the secret of good asphalt lies.

You need a little asphalt, some aggregate and a dash of air. The air is most important.

Miscalculate the amount of air by as little as one-per-cent and part of the asphalt will "bleed" on to the surface making the road unusually slippery when it rains.

Skimp on the asphalt and before long the road surface will start wearing away and cracking.

GONE WRONG

When engineers complain to Dr. McLeod that asphalt is bad he takes a look at the job they're doing and, like a detective, quietly but firmly tells the experts where they have gone wrong.

If V-shaped cracks appear in the wheel paths he points out that the asphalt mix has probably been laid down over a wet or overly-dusty base course. The dampness or the dust separates the top layer from the base course thus preventing a direct bond between the asphalt surface and the layer beneath.

If the engineers complain that they wanted black asphalt but are getting a brown product when they mix it, Dr. McLeod tersely replies that they are not drying the aggregate properly.

And, for their complete erudition, he always adds, "I have never, never found asphalt to be in the wrong."

Dr. McLeod says modern universities do not teach enough about the qualities of asphalt to fledgling engineers.

"They get hardly any instruction on asphalt pavements," he gloomily comments.

ALL SADNESS

He has another complaint that fills him with sadness.

"Some lightly travelled roads are overbuilt," he says. "It is unnecessarily expensive to give every road a thick asphalt mix surface . . . secondary roads need only to be laid with gravel, primed with liquid asphalt then recovered with a thin layer of asphalt binder and stone-chips."

Next time we see a slick spot on the road or a premature crack he will be remembered. Might even pull over and tell the engineer to watch his mix—if he is considerably smaller than we are.

Firms Plan Ship Charter

SEATTLE (AP) — Four Washington and five Oregon lumber firms have joined in a co-operaive to charter their own ships to get their products to the east coast.

As it is now, a spokesman for the new lumber carriers co-operative said Friday, lumbermen can't find cargo space on coastal vessels because of steadily decreasing ship departures from northwest ports.

The situation has given the northwest lumber industry a "very bad name" with eastern customers, an official of one firm said.

CREDIT UNION ASSETS RISE

HAMILTON (CP)—Total assets of Canadian credit unions rose 17 per cent in 1964 to $2,255,477,000 from $1,927,749,000 a year earlier, the International Credit Union yearbook shows.

Made public Friday, the yearbook shows the number of credit unions in Canada rose to 4,671 from 4,590, while membership climbed to 3,431,546 from 3,150,145.

Retail Sales Show Hike

OTTAWA (CP) — Retail sales were estimated at $1,8991,338,000 in May this year, an increase of 5.7 per cent over retail sales in May last year, the bureau of statistics reported.

Cumulative sales for the first five months of this year were estimated at $8,269,710,0000, up 4.8 per cent over the comparable figure for 1964.

Increases were reported both in the month and in the cumulative totals for the year in all provinces.

The increases for the month, with five-month increases in brackets, were: Atlantic provinces, 1.5 per cent (4.3 per cent); Quebec, 5.1 (4.8); Ontario, 7.0 (5.5); Manitoba, 4.0 (2.0); Saskatchewan, 6.0 (2.1); Alberta, 6.0 (2.8), and British Columbia, 6.7 (6.9).

The bureau said all business covered except shoes stores reported greater sales in May this year over last year, with the greatest increase in variety stores, 13.1 per cent.

In the January - May period this year, the only line of business to record reduced sales was in retail lumber and building materials.

B.C. Faces Shortage Of Power

VANCOUVER (CP) — Dr. Gordon Shrum, co-chairman of B.C. Hydro and Power Authority, said today B.C. is starting a three-year shortage of electric generating ability.

At a meeting to announce a $100,000,000 bond issue, Dr. Shrum said B.C. will be short of generating ability until the Peace River development starts supplying power in 1968.

He said present facilities for generating electric power will not be sufficient this year to maintain a full 10 per cent reserve during peak-load periods.

In 1966 and 1967, peak-load requirements will take all the generating reserve and more, he said.

Dr. Shrum said the authority "doesn't know at present where we'll get that peak power.

BUY POWER

"We hope to buy some power from Bonneville (in Washington State) and perhaps some from Aluminum Company of Canada (at Kemano.)"

He said lack of power at peak load periods may cause "brown-outs," in which some electric facilities like traffic lights won't work.

"We've never had this before in B.C.," he said.

Dr. Shrum spoke to the meeting outlining Hydro's progress on the Peace River project, one of the development projects for which the government agency wants the $100,000,000 to be financed by the bonds.

He said costs on the project are running "well below feasibility estimates."

H. L. Keenlyside, Hydro's other co-chairman, said work on the Columbia River project is ahead of schedule, and progress is "of a very satisfactory nature."

He said the difficulties being encountered are less than anticipated.

ARROW DAM

Mr. Keenlyside said Hydro has treated "fairly and even generously" the 2,000 persons in the Arrow Dam area who must be moved to make room for the giant project.

He said 400 properties have been acquired, and Hydro has resorted to expropriation five times.

In the two expropriation proceedings completed, estimates of property worth have been upheld, he said.

ALUMINUM DIVIDEND 83 CENTS

MONTREAL (CP)—Consolidated sales and revenues of Aluminium Ltd. for the first six months of 1965 were $420,000,000 compared with $366,000,000 a year earlier, the company said today.

Net income, before preferred dividends was $27,100,000 against $26,200,000. Profits available for common shares were 83 cents a share compared with 80 cents for the corresponding period last year.

Accounts for Aluminum Company of Canada, Ltd. were consolidated with those of the parent firm, Alcan said.

Terms Listed In Probe Of Atlantic

TORONTO (CP)—Ontario Attorney-General Arthur A. Wishart has announced terms of the recently - announced royal commission into the affairs of troubled Atlantic Acceptance Corp. Ltd.

Terms were not announced when the commission was appointed. Mr. Justice Samuel H. S. Hughes is the royal commissioner.

He has been empowered to "investigate, inquire into and report upon:

1. "The events involved in and the causes of the recent failure of Atlantic Acceptance.

2. "The effect the failure has had on the money market in Ontario and on the affairs of any person, company, corporation or organization.

3. "The existing legislation relating to loan and trust companies and to corporations ingaged in the finance business and the money market generally and to consider what, if any, additional legislation may be required in regard thereto."

Mr. Wishart said Mr. Justice Hughes is also empowered to examine anyone who has had any connection with the firm, "including British Mortgage and Trust Co."

GRAIN PRICES

WINNIPEG (CP)—Most prices were firm to higher near the close of moderate trade today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange.

There was some buying in rye, which gained about a cent. Gains were attributed to aggressive wheat demand which touched off speculation that rye would also be in demand.

Oats and barley were firm in light routine trade.

Oilseeds were firm to higher. A parcel lot sale of rapeseed to Japan was reported.

Export loadings of Canadian wheat included: Russia, 2,000,000 bushels; Poland, 1,270,000; China, 700,000; Britain, 550,000; Venezuela, 400,000; India, 375,000; West Germany, 140,000; Formosa, 100,000, and Guatemala, 50,000.

Lakehead prices for class two, IWA and domestic wheat were all unchanged.

CHICAGO (AP)—Demand was fairly brisk for wheat futures in the early afternoon today and gains ranged to well over a cent a bushel but all other commodities on the board of trade were weak.

Brokers credited a good deal of the support for wheat to speculators who, they said, may have been impressed by rather pessimistic reports about the crop in Europe.

Corn and soybeans came under selling pressure at the start as the trade became generally bearish on reports of additional rainfall during the weekend. Advices said the soil in much of the major producing area now is well soaked.

MARKET SUMMARIES

Speculation Spree Features Trading

Speculative trading moved to the forefront and overshadowed other aspects of the Toronto market in moderately heavy mid-afternoon stock exchange dealings today.

The speculative spree was led by Radiore, which traded 916,750 shares and was unchanged at $1.30. The stock opened at 91 cents a share after the opening was delayed for five minutes this morning, and sank to 83 cents.

It rebounded in a splurge of trading in the first hour. Louvicourt traded 313,500 shares and gained 11 to 33 cents, while White Star churned up 195,608 shares and rose 3 to 62 cents. Obaska rose 5 to 24 cents on 352,000 shares.

Industrials bounced higher.

AT VANCOUVER trading was light to noon today as losses edged out gains.

Consolidated Skeena was up one cent at 75 cents after hitting a high for the year of 79 cents. Pine Point gained $1.25 to $50.50 while Utica dropped nine cents to $1.83 and Fort St. John fell five cents to $1.70.

Major trader was Sileurian, which dropped one cent to 66 cents of 17,500 shares.

AT MONTREAL stocks were beginning to rise with the exception of banks and utilities toward 2 p.m. today trading was moderate.

Industrial volume was 68,900 and mines and oils 708,600.

Volume for the day was estimated at 4,500,000 shares, compared with 4,210,000 Friday.

Aircrafts, airlines and gold were the strong spots in the list.

Boeing and Douglas advanced about a point and United Aircraft was up about half a point. Eastern Air Lines spurted 3 points. Braniff, KLM and Northeastern Airlines gained more than a point.

Among the golds, American South African advanced more than 3 points.

RCA, up nearly a point, appeared headed for the top of the day's most active list. Eastern Air Lines and Fairchild Camera also were active.

The averages slipped into the minus column, depressed by losses of a point or so by Du Pont and General Electric.

The motors eased after having been up a bit. General Motors was down about half a point.

Eastman Kodak added nearly 2 points.

AT LONDON the Financial Times daily index of 30 London industrial stocks was 324.0, off 0.9.

Seven-Week Strike Ends At Western

VANCOUVER (CP)—Approximately 60 employees of Western Gypsum Products Ltd. returned to work today after a seven-week strike.

Norm Larkman, president of Local 385 of the United Cement, Lime and Gypsum Workers International Union (CLC), said the agreement provides an average 31½-cent raise over two years.

He said wage increases vary according to a system of job evaluation and are retroactive to March 1.

Base rate for probationary labor will be increased annually to $2.25 and $2.35 from the present $2.15. Top wage for skilled labor will be increased annually to $2.88 and $3.06 from the present rate of $2.65.

The agreemnt was ratified by a vote of 43 to 7 by union members Sunday night.

Nigel Puttock, president of Western Gypsum, said regular customer service to the greater Vancouver area, Vancouver Island and the B.C. interior will be resumed within three days.

Four More Injured In Violent Crashes

One Man Remains Critical

Death brushed close to four persons in two spectacular accidents on Victoria district streets Sunday.

Two cars met in head-on collision on Patricia Bay Highway.

Sidney RCMP said Verley's auto was in collision with a car driven north on the highway by John Corbett, Patricia Bay Highway, early Sunday morning.

Corbett was treated for minor injuries at Resthaven Hospital and later released.

Police said the crash occurred just south of the intersection of Beacon Avenue and the highway.

ENGINE FLEW OUT

The impact of the collision flung the motor from the mountings in the rear of Varley's foreign-built car. The engine landed in a nearby ditch.

The Americans were hurt Sunday afternoon on rain-slicked city streets when their rented motorcycle was in collision with a bus.

The collision occurred at Yates and Fort at the entrance to the Dardanelles as the bus was proceeding toward town.

TRAPPED UNDER WHEEL

But in doing so, the rear double wheels of the bus trapped the right leg of the girl between them, swinging her around with them as they turned.

She suffered a compound fracture and lacerations. Driver Worthington received a broken left leg.

Both cyclists ended up underneath the bus. A wrecker had to be employed to free Miss Marsh.

When the bus swung around it slammed into the curb but no passengers were injured.

Law Hits Back For Victims Of Bullying

Jail Term, Fine Levied at Pair

Stiff sentences and stern lectures were handed two "bully boys" who appeared on assault charges today in city magistrate's court.

Ronald Lamontagne, 18, of Duncan was sent to jail for three months.

He pleaded guilty a week ago to punching David Gregory in the mouth at the White Spot Drive-in August 1.

David Gregory is the son of Victoria Police Chief J. F. Gregory, 3240 Uplands Pl.

Lamontagne was also ordered to pay $70 damages to the complainant whose dentures were broken and fined $15 for being intoxicated in a public place.

'DISGRACEFUL'

"It is disgraceful a decent young couple can't go to a drive-in without being subjected to obscenities and assault," Magistrate William Ostler told him.

"These bully-boy tactics must stop."

He pleaded guilty to the charge a week ago.

Marsh also was ordered to pay $85 damages as he broke the man's upper and lower dentures.

NO EXCUSE

Magistrate Ostler told him there was "no justification whatsoever" for his conduct of street rowdyism.

"It is the duty of this court to take steps to reverse the trend of contempt for law and order in this community.

"It is an alarming thing to see, both for this court and for the public," the magistrate said.

Topics of the Day

A program of municipal entertainment for National Youth Orchestra members Sunday evening includes toasting hotdogs on the beach and dinner at the YMCA.

Receptions and entertainment chairman Ald. Robert Baird said the youngsters will leave the Royal Theatre at 5 p.m. and attend a dinner for 110 persons at the "Y".

At 7:30 they will board buses for Willows Beach—or alternatively in case of rain—go to the student union building at University of Victoria for entertainment by the Alma Mater Society.

Pistol Pointing Charged In Detention Home Strife

Victoria city police have charged an acting night supervisor with two counts of pointing a firearm.

The charges followed a disturbance at Greater Victoria juvenile detention home a week ago.

Charges against Kenneth Russell, Chandler Hotel, are the latest in a series of events surrounding juvenile detention home superintendent Charles Etchells who, with Russell, was suspended from duty Saturday.

Russell, who is a stepson of Mr. Etchells, will appear in city police court Wednesday in answer to the charges.

VARIED REPORTS

There was a disturbance and it is alleged that a youth snatched up a piece of ping pong table, was disarmed and then grabbed a can-opener to make threats against the supervisor, who was alone on duty at the time.

A further report alleges that a shot was fired.

City manager Dennis Young said in view of what had happened the juvenile detention home committee had no alternative but to suspend pending study and investigation.

Mr. Etchells today was going over details of a report to be delivered to the detention home committee.

ON VACATION

The superintendent was away on vacation when the incident occurred. He had left the home in charge of Charles Ball, night superintendent, to whom Russell, a regular supervisor, was responsible.

Regular committee members are Mrs. Wilson; Coun. Gerald Horne, chairman, Esquimalt; Coun. J. D. Watts, Oak Bay; Coun. Doug Crosby, Saanich.

Mr. Etchells said he saw no reason for the suspension order and has placed the matter in the hands of lawyer Dermod Owen-Flood.

NOT PRESENT

The superintendent was not called to the Saturday meeting to be suspended. He was notified by Mr. Young of the order when the manager went to the detention home, Saturday night.

Mr. Etchells said he was ordered out of the detention home, although he could still live in the adjoining apartment.

He said he was not a city employee and therefore was not responsible to Mr. Young. He also denied that he had gone on vacation without informing anyone, that the committee had been told July 7.

Mr. Young today said Mr. Etchells' report covering matters last week should be delivered to the detention home committee, not to him.

He pointed out, also, that it was the committee's decision that Mr. Etchells be suspended, not his own.

Youths Fined For Uproar After Drinking

Alcohol caused the downfall of two youths who pleaded guilty today in city magistrate's court to causing disturbances over the weekend.

Eric Leslie Longland, 19, of 4051 Granville Ave., was fined $75 for shouting and swearing in front of the Government St. liquor store Saturday night.

He was also fined $35 for being a minor in possession of alcohol. Court was told he attempted to hide a bottle of beer behind a lamp standard when police interviewed his companion.

Edward Arnold Erdman, 18, of 4524 West Saanich Rd., was also fined $75 for swearing in the Tally-Ho parking lot Saturday night.

In addition he was fined another $50 for entering a licensed premises while a minor. Court was told he was sitting in the men's side of the Tally-Ho, 3020 Douglas, with two beers in front of him.

Potato Prices Down Slightly Due to Imports

A spokesman for the Coast Vegetable Marketing Board said both white, rose and red potatoes were being purchased for $80 a ton, down from $120 a ton paid two weeks ago.

He said prices hit a peak in April of $180 a ton for the California crop, then dropped to $168 a ton in June when the B.C. crop came on the market.

He said the Alberta crop expected soon could push prices even lower this month.

Prices paid throughout B.C. usually follow the Vancouver trends, he said.

Calm Day, Calm Race; 65 Boats Crawling

Annual regatta of the Esquimalt Squadron, Royal Canadian Navy Sailing Association, on the weekend turned into an endurance test for skippers and crews.

A practically non-existent wind and strong, adverse tides turned most of the races into drifting matches.

There was a record entry of 65 boats. Buoys in the harbor at Munro Head became as crowded as the highway on a Sunday afternoon as skippers vainly tried to pass them, crowding each other, falling back, being forced sideways by the tide.

The last of the three-race series, held Sunday morning, was called off after boats had vainly tried to force their way out of the harbor. All of the three races found the larger yachts being forced into a shorter course than the planned eight-mile one because of the weather conditions.

FRUSTRATION

The weekend started off with a 12-mile race from Cadboro Bay to Munro Head. Here again, lack of wind brought frustration to skippers. Finally, the finish line was drawn at Brotchie Ledge.

Only ones to finish were:

C Class—Doxy, Peter Coombs, RVYC, first; Blue Goose, C. R. Miko, RCNSA, second.

Thunderbirds—Lemolo, Rod McBride, RVYC, first; Westerly, Jim Johnson, RCNSA, second. (Ned Ashe, this year's winner of the Juan de Fuca race, was among the huge fleet that capitulated to the weatherman halfway through).

Winers of the series racing were as follows:

Thunderbirds—Lemolo, Rod McBride, RVYC, first; May D II, Ned Ashe, RVYC, second.

Cal 20s—Windless Too, H. M. Young, RVYC, first.

X Class—Sid Halls, RVYC, first; B. McGee, RVYC, second.

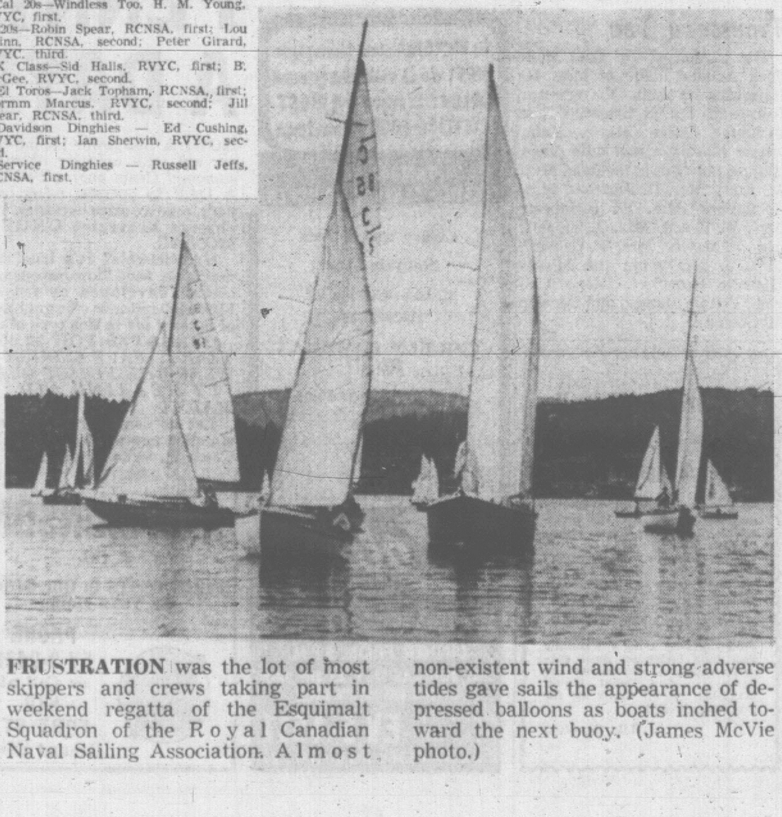
Service Dinghies — Russell Jeffs, RCNSA, first.



FRUSTRATION was the lot of most skippers and crews taking part in weekend regatta of the Esquimalt Squadron of the Royal Canadian Naval Sailing Association. Almost non-existent wind and strong adverse tides gave sails the appearance of depressed balloons as boats inched toward the next buoy. (James McVie photo.)

Funeral Held For Colquitz Staff Doctor

Funeral service was held today for Dr. Leonard d'Easum, 67, 1494 Beach Drive, a former medical superintendent of the Colquitz Mental Hospital.

He died Saturday at home.

Dr. d'Easum retired in January, 1964, after 17 years as medical superintendent of the hospital.

He was a prominent athlete in New Westminster during high school and later at the University of Toronto.

During the First World War he served with the Princess Patricia Canadian Light Infantry and was wounded at Vimy. In the Second World War he served as a medical officer with the RCAF.

Survivors include the widow, Margery; a daughter, Mrs. G. M. de Rosenroll, Norfalk, Va., and a son, Geoffrey of Agassiz, B.C.

MUSICAL RIDE FILM SHOWING AT CIVIC ELECTION MEETING

The only "all-candidates"' meeting prior to Victoria civic election Aug. 12 will be tonight.

The eight men and one woman seeking the 18-months unexpired term left by the late Ald. Austin Curtis will speak in order of lots drawn under JC supervision.

First part of the meeting, from 7:30 to 8 p.m., will be devoted to a film The RCMP Musical Ride, following which the candidates will speak.

MOTHER IRKED

Rescued Man Faces Blast

The fiery, grey-haired Scotswoman said today: "I'm going to try and persuade him to let that blessed boat go.

"I've been worried sick all weekend."

The 63-year-old mother of six had good cause for worry after her son was reported missing Friday night off Vancouver Island's west coast.

Her father and two of her sons have already been claimed by the sea—one last month at Bamfield.

SAME AREA

It was in almost the same spot that John—her eldest—disappeared in thick fog Friday.

After he radioed for help the batteries aboard his 42-foot home-made craft went dead.

With no way of signalling his position or knowing in which direction to steer, he drifted helplessly.

It was Saturday night before he was found by the coast guard vessel Ready, 35 miles southwest of Cape Beale, near Bamfield.

GOOD CONDITION

The 42-year-old man was in good condition.

Said his mother at their home, 3066 Albany, today: "I've not heard from him since he was found. He doesn't realize the agony I've been through.

"To him it's just one of those things. He's an adventurer.

"I suppose I should have faith."

Although she holds out little hope of talking John away from the sea she will try and persuade him to join deepsea ships.

HE'LL LAUGH

She added with a sigh: "I don't suppose I'll persuade him. He'll just laugh and say I worry too much."

John sailed from Victoria July 1 in the Bon-Accord, a boat bought for him by his mother and rigged out by himself.

He intends spending the fishing season around the Bamfield-Ucluelet area.

Youngest member of the seafaring family, George, of Alberni, was found unconscious in his boat off Bamfield last month.

He died shortly afterwards in hospital.

Another of Mrs. Ryles' sons, Marshall, died two years ago off the north of Scotland. He was master of the ship.

Eviction Order Sent When Lease Unsigned

The reluctance of the owners of the Underseas Gardens to sign a new lease is the reason for their eviction order, the "landlord" said today.

Bob Wright, Oak Bay Marina manager, said the notice to quit was given after months of frustrating negotiations between Marina and Garden officials. Sign-or-get-out date is Aug. 28.

"The new lease does not increase the rental or change the financial situation one bit," Mr. Wright said this morning. "The old lease called for payment of a percentage of the take, the new lease calls for the same percentage. But Mr. White (Charles White, president of the Underseas Gardens) appears unprepared to sign the lease. It is most unfortunate and we made the move with regret."

FIGURE DENIED

Mr. Wright denied statement attributed to William Starkey, manager of the Gardens, that the annual payment made to the marina was $25,000.

"It is untrue that the sub-lease agreement costs the Gardens $25,000 annually," he said "The fact is that during the last two years of operation the yearly average was less than half of that amount. And I repeat, the lease agreement is based on a percentage with no minimum requirement."

Asked if he had any plans for development of the area if the Undersea Gardens should locate elsewhere, Mr. Wright said he would "cross that bridge when we come to it."

Mr. Starkey said the Undersea Gardens had officially aplid for an unassigned water lot about 200 feet from their present location.

Granting of such a lot could take months to process.

If successful it would place the sunken aquarium along the breakwater just off Marina property.

Ask The Times

Q. Where in Victoria can I get a "demo" record made? J. S.

A. One of the city's recording studios is that of Gary Wilcox, 2080 Allenby.

'Demo" records are frequently used by musical groups to send to record companies, for an audition.

Q. Where do I apply for a visa to the United States?

A. U.S. Consul at 1030 West Georgia, Vancouver B.C.

Anyone wishing a question answered is invited to send the problem along to the Times, addressed to "Ask the Times" Editor. Questions and answers will be published daily.

All questions should deal with matters of fact and be of general interest. The Times does not undertake to solve conundrums or legal problems. Nor will it attempt to put a value on old coins, stamps or antiques. These should be submitted to a dealer.

FISHERMEN MISSING

Chinese Claim Ships Attacked

TOKYO (AP)—China charged today that United States warships and military planes attacked Chinese fishing vessels in its territorial waters twice in the last 22 days and that six fishermen and one vessel are missing.

The New China News Agency said in a broadcast dispatch, monitored in Tokyo, that the incidents occurred in the South China Sea southwest of Hainan Island. That would be in the 150-mile-wide strip of the sea between the Chinese island and North Viet Nam.

"Three U.S. warships suddenly entered the fishing ground fired flare shells and then heavily bombarded and strafed the Chinese fishing boats at about 11 p.m. July 19," the agency said. "The boat No. 2140 was hit and its whereabouts, with the six Chinese fishermen who were aboard it, remains unknown."

STRAFE SHIPS

"At about 8:30 p.m. on Aug. 1, a U.S. military airplane dived on two Chinese steamboats, Nos. 208 and 214, and strafed them three times, while they were fishing in the sea of Yulin habor off Hainan Island. At 8:12 a.m. Aug. 3, when the Chinese steamboats were returning to port, another U.S. military plane followed them, circling low over the steamboats and taking photographs.

"These wanton bombardments and strafing attacks against Chinese fishing boats have been carried out at a time when the U.S. imperialists are intensifying and expanding their war of aggression against Viet Nam.

"They are piratical acts, openly sabotaging the peaceful work of fishermen at sea, and are deliberate provocations against the Chinese people."

School attendance figures for Africa include 83 per cent for South Africa, 49 per cent for Kenya and 11 per cent for the Sudan.

BRIDGE RESULTS

North-South: Evelyn Lamont and Freda Small, Ricki Nickells and Joe Lukas, Maria Collm and Leslie Stewart, Bill Simpson-Baikie and Jack Goldie and Eric Horwood and Walter Allen.

Playing East-West: Phil Hagel and Tony Marsh, Florence Curran and E. G. Robertson; tied for third and fourth were Will Brown-Cave and Les Isaacson and Marjorie Fortye and Marianne Powell; fifth place went to Minna Loomer and George Morgan.

A total of $84 was raised for the charity.

Winners of the weekly duplicate bridge tournament held Saturday in the Broughton Building club rooms were: Marjorie Fortye and Erice Goodwin, Don Auld and Tony Marsh, Dorothy and Steve Jennings, May Errington and Ruby Randelsome, Denise and Fraser McColl, and Laura Tingley and Dorothy Mulcahy. George Morgan was game director.

Volunteers' Quick Action Halts Fire

Prompt action of three volunteer workers stopped a fire Saturday from spreading to buildings on the Luxton Fair grounds off Happy Valley Road.

The fire started when wood shavings were being spread about the fair's horse ring by a tractor.

Alex Chidlow, driver, a luxton 4-H Ctlf Club member working on the fair grounds, jumped to safety.

John Williams of Glen Lake Road, Robert Campbell and M. G. Puszka, both of Happy Valley Road, helped him put the fire out with gravel.

Mrs. W. W. Moran, wife of the fair's manager, said the flames were right under the gas tank and it was "a miracle the tank didn't explode."

Cold in Paris

PARIS (AP)—Saturday's high of 57.8 degrees was the coldest Aug. 7 since records were begun in 1973, officials reported. The previous low for the date was 62.6 degrees in 1914.

9 IN MEMORIAM

ADAMS — In loving memory of William Adams who passed away August 9th, 1963.

"Held by memories jeweled chain"

—Ever remembered by daughters Mabel and Lily.

CORNESS—In loving memory of a dear husband, dad and grandpa, George F. Corness, Aug. 9, 1964.

One year has passed since that sad day,
When one we loved was called away;
God took him home—it was His will;
Within our hearts he liveth still.

—Wife Rose, daughters Wynne, Esther, Mae and families.

PERRY—In loving memory of my dear husband, Jack Perry, who passed away Aug. 9, 1962.

I have lost my soul's companion,
A life linked with my own.
And day by day I miss him more
As I walk thru life alone.
God gave me strength to bear it
And courage to take the blow,
But what it meant to lose you, dear,
No one will ever know.

—Sadly missed by his loving wife Doll, Shawnigan Lake, B.C.

BRIDGE LESSON

By JACOBY AND SON

What does a bridge player mean when he says, "We were fixed!"?

The expression is used by a duplicate player to describe a hand on which he and his partner received a bad score through no fault of their own.

Sometimes a fix results from especially good play by the opponents but mostly a fix results because an opponent has particularly good luck.

South was rather desperate. He wanted to get a top score for himself if he possibly could and when his partner raised him from one to two spades, South reasoned that all other South players would content themselves with a bid of game and that there just might be a slam. Anyway, South saw no danger in bidding three hearts to see what his partner would do. He knew that his partner would not pass since his partner was a good player and good players treat a bid of a new suit after a suit has been raised as a one round force.

South expected that his partner would merely bid three spades, in which case South would bid game and hope that his call would stop a heart lead, but North jumped to four spades.

Now South pursued his top by asking for aces and bidding the slam. The slam was a laydown since North held perfect cards, including the right doubleton. South had to lose one heart, but could ruff his third heart in dummy.

South had his top score. Poor East and West had been fixed.

Blaze Nears Homes

LOWER POST, B.C. (CP)—A major forest fire more than doubled its size during the weekend, moving within two miles of the homes of 15 families at Mile 543 of the Alaska Highway.

The families packed their belongings in cars and trucks, ready to flee if they had to.

Late Sunday an east wind blew the fire back on itself to lessen the threat. The weather was cool with a possibility of rain, but residents feared a strong prevailing wind could cause a new sweep of fire in their direction.

ALL NIGHT GUARD

The blaze spread from 12,000 to 30,000 acres Saturday, criss-crossing the Alaska Highway several times, bringing down telegraph lines and approaching within 300 yards of a microwave tower.

An Otter water bomber, several tractors and 70 men fought the flames. Wind carried sparks as much as a mile ahead, starting smaller fires, and a dozen water trucks soaked buildings through the night at Mile 543.

The blaze at dark Sunday covered an area 15 miles long and one to two miles across.

PACKED EVERYTHING

"We all packed everything we could in the cars and waited to see what would happen," said Mrs. Margot Windrum, in a telephone interview from the lodge she runs with her husband at the tiny community.

"It was two miles away, but the roaring of the fire was terrific, and the smoke was choking.

"The fire has wreaked havoc along the road," she said. "We saw bewildered animals standing on the road trying to escape the fire."

The hazard dropped across the rest of the province with the spread of cooler and moist weather.

There were eight new fires reported on the Island between Friday night and this morning. All are extinguished or under control.

B.C. Hydro Issues New Parity Bonds

VANCOUVER (CP) — Premier Bennett today announced the issue of $100,000,000 worth of five per cent parity development bonds to finance the British Columbia Hydro and Power Authority.

The premier told about 300 representatives of the financial community that Hydro development bonds will be issued in future on a five-year cycle basis.

He told the financiers at a breakfast meeting that a B.C.-packed parity bond is "the best piece of paper in the world."

The bonds are cashable at par at any time.

The issue replaces the $100,000,000 series issued Sept. 1, 1961.

Bonds are available in two forms.

Coupon bonds are available in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.

Fully registered bonds are issued in denominations of $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.

The five per cent interest is payable quarterly.

The bonds are unconditionally guaranteed by the province. Half the issue matures Sept. 1, 1969, and the other half one year later.

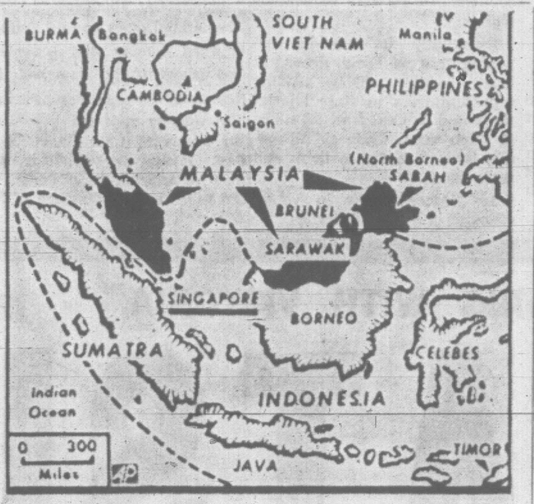
Mr. Bennett said demand for the bonds will be such that "It'll be hard to hold back the rush" for them.

POLICE FIRE SHOTS TO DISPERSE RIOTERS

NEW DELHI, (UPI)—Police today opened fire on crowds of rioters in Patna. Unofficial reports said at least five persons were injured and two may have been killed.

The rioters were protesting against rising prices, India's foreign policy, and increased tuition fees.

Among the injured was Bihar State's inspector general of police, the region's top-ranking law enforcement official.



SINGAPORE today broke from the Federation of Malaysia and became an independent state. Other former British territories in the federation are Malaya, Sarawak and Sabah (North Borneo), all distinguished in black. (AP Newsmap.)

NEW CRISIS

Singapore Quits Malyasia Group

SINGAPORE (CP)—This island state pulled out of the 23-month-old Federation of Malaysia today and immediately became embroiled with federal prime minister, Tunku Abdul Pahman, over relations with Indonesia.

Premier Lee Kuan Yew of Singapore told a press conference Singapore wants to be friends with Indonesia, which has sworn to crush Malaysia. Singapore once carried on a flourishing trade with Indonesia and obviously wants to regain it.

Lee declared, however, that co-operation with Indonesia would be impossible unless the Indonesians recognize Singapore as a sovereign, independent nation.

In Jakarta, Indonesia Deputy Premier Subandrio said Indonesia was ready to recognize Singapore but would continue its hostile policy toward the federation.

In the federal capital of Kuala Lumpur, Rahman was asked at a press conference what would happen if Singapore established diplomatic relations with Indonesia and Red China.

HARM INTENDED

"If they do that, the obvious intention is to harm our interests," Rahman replied. "We can't allow that to happen. We would take action."

Rahman did not elaborate, but he noted that the separation agreement signed by his government and Singapore included a pledge "not to undertake to enter into any treaty or agreement with a foreign country which may be detrimental to the independence and defence of the territory of the other party."

Lee said nothing about seeking diplomatic recognition from Peking in charting a neutral course for his new nation, but said Singapore would trade with all nations, including Red China.

Rahman told Parliament in Kuala Lumpur that Singapore and Malaysia would continue to co-operate in defence and economic affairs despite secession of the federation's chief port and metropolis.

In Singapore, riot police stood guard in Malay sections of the largely Chinese port ready for any demonstrations against secession.

Singapore's 1,200,000 Chinese, 70 per cent of the population, began exploding firecrackers as soon as the break was announced.

There were no immediate reports of violence, but police were on guard against any outbreak of Malay-Chinese rioting similar to that in which 23 persons were killed in July, 1964.

Racial differences have been one of the major causes of friction between predominantly-Chinese Singapore and the rest of Malaysia in recent months. The federation has been accused of giving preferential treatment to Malays.

The split is the outcome of political rivalry between the Malaysian Chinese, who dominate the economy of the federation, and the Malays who control the federal government in Kuala Lumpur.

MALAYS MINORITY

The Chinese made up about 42 per cent of the federation's population of 11,000,000 and slightly outnumber the Malays. But the constitution gave 104 of

WHO WAS THAT LADY?

HYANNIS PORT, Mass. (UPI)—Who was that woman aboard the Sinatra yacht?

It was NOT Mrs. John F. Kennedy, a family spokesman said today.

Even Mrs. Kennedy is curious.

"I wonder who that woman was? It wasn't me," Jacqueline was quoted as asking Pamela Turnure, her private secretary.

The mixup, which baffled veteran newsmen who have long covered the meanderings of the Kennedy clan, began when a woman boarded the Sinatra yacht Saturday as it anchored off this summer resort. Sinatra personally welcomed her aboard.

She was dressed in light colored slacks, a black sweater, white sneakers and had a white kerchief on her head. She carried a white handbag.

To the trained — and untrained eye — it looked like Jacqueline.

A more careful study of the pictures today disclosed that the woman might have been Pat Lawford, Jacqueline's sister-in-law and wife of actor Peter Lawford.

A long-time friend of Sinatra's, it was reported that Pat visited the yacht this weekend.

Miss Turnure said the mysterious woman "looks like Pat to me."

Three Bodies Found

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—The banana boat Seven Seas, known as "a happy ship," was a floating coffin today after a violent human explosion left at least three of her crew shot dead, four missing and the eighth man cowering in a locker room.

"The crew was a cheerful crowd, like a family," the wife of the 125-foot vessel's owner said as the Seven Seas came through rough seas under United States Coast Guard tow toward Key West.

"There had never been a fight among them," Mrs. Raul Garcia said. "We don't know where the guns could have come from. Not even the captain carried one.'"

But three and possibly four crew members had been shot to death, three apparently had fled the bloody vessel in a 14-foot skiff and only one man was alive on board when the ship was found adrift in the Florida Straits Sunday between Florida and Cuba.

Pending arrival of the ship, the coast guard declined to speculate on whether it was mutiny.

A boarding party from the coast guard cutter Cape Shoalwater climbed onto the deserted desk and had found three bodies when the survivor, Elvin Burywaise, 25, emerged from the locker room in a forward hold.

Burywaise said he saw the ship's first mate, Aldrick Hinds, shot to death in his bunk by a crew member Saturday night as the vessel was bound from Miami to a Tampa drydock for repairs.

Terrified, Burywaise said he raced to the bridge to warn the captain, Rogelio Diaz, but found him also dead, lying in a pool of blood.

Burywaise said he ran to the dark, smelly locker room and bolted himself inside in fear for his own life. He said he heard other bursts of gunfire indicating two more men were shot.

INVESTIGATORS WAIT

Murder on the high seas is the business of the FBI. Mutiny comes under coast guard jurisdiction.

Hinds was a Honduran. Other crew members were Jose Abad, a Cuban, the chief engineer; Franco Solomon, a Honduran, second engineer; Antonio Fornier, a Cuban; Roberto Ramirez, a Cuban, and Gerald Davison, a Honduran.

BULLETIN

KEY WEST, Fla. (UPI) — The Coast Guard today reported a white skiff, believed to be from the death ship Seven Seas, has been sighted with three men aboard heading south toward Cuba.

The skiff was sighted by two residents of Cay Sal, about 45 miles north of Cuba. A cutter, two airplanes and a helicopter were dispatched to try to intercept it.

DRIFTING DEATH SHIP was sighted Sunday by U.S. Coast Guard patrol aircraft. Three bodies were found on the 125-foot Panamanian cargo vessel, Seven Seas, adrift about 100 miles south of Miami. A crewman was found alive hiding in a chain locker. The vessel was bound for Tampa.

'Folly' For UN To Start

OTTAWA (CP)—External Affairs Minister Martin appealed today to United Nations members to drop the dispute which has tied up the general assembly and deal with important international problems at the next assembly session.

"It would be folly to go through the inflexible positions of the previous few years," Mr. Martin said at a press conference in reference to a dispute over non-payment of assessments by such members as Russia and France.

He has summoned home Canadian Ambassador Paul Tremblay to review the agenda and prospects of the assembly getting down to work.

Heavy Water Project Dims For City Firm

By JIM HUME
Times Business Editor

Western Deuterium Ltd., the Victoria based firm organized by Harold Husband of the Victoria Machinery Depot, is in danger of losing a $46 million contract to build a heavy water plant at Estevan, Sask.

Mr. Husband said today that negotiations between the company and officials of Atomic Energy of Canada were still continuing, but that as yet no contract for the building of the plant had been signed.

"The main problem lies in our inability to promise delivery of heavy water 31 months after we sign the contract," Mr. Husband said.

Failure to produce heavy water on time would result in heavy penalties for the company involved.

Mr. Husband stressed that mass production problems were the main stumbling block at present.

"Our process for making heavy water is new and untried," Mr. Husband said. "Basically the problem is that the process is not far enough advanced to guarantee delivery on time."

$14 A POUND

Experimental work by Western Deuterium experts indicated that heavy water could be produced at $14 a pound as compared with the $20 a pound cost estimated at the heavy water plant being built in Nova Scotia.

"The problem is in the technical feasibility of producing heavy water at that low cost in a $46 million plant," Mr. Husband said.

Saskatchewan Premier Ross Thatcher said today that a new British process which extracts heavy weater at a cost of between $7 and $8 a pound could be the reason behind the reluctance of Western Deuterium to go ahead.

"The project isn't dead yet as far as we know," he said. "But if their process is obsolete we can't blame them for dropping it."

Mr. Husband said his company was studying the feasibility of using the British method to reduce costs.

The Saskatchewan government guaranteed up to $45 million in bond financing to get the plant located at Estevan.

Mr. Husband said many of the

Increased Shoe Allowance Given to Letter Carriers

MONTREAL (CP)—The city's 4,100 postal workers were all back at work early today—the postmen carrying back-breaking loads of first-class mail sorted during the weekend.

The return to work—after a 17-day strike—followed a unanimous vote by 3,000 sorters and postmen who attended a meeting Saturday during which their leaders reported Ottawa had agreed to a $22 increase in the $38 shoe allowance for letter carriers.

This was on top of salary increases for letter carriers of $510 a year. Inside postal workers won increases of up to $550.

The agreement raised annual salaries for all postal workers to maximums from $4,470 to $4,930, which, including the $22 increase in shoe allowance, will cost the government an additional $5,000,000 a year.

Workers at the meeting Saturday cheered when union leaders announced the government was soon going to establish a system of collective bargaining.

The lack of collective bargaining for civil servants was scored by Postmaster-General Rene Tremblay during a press conference Saturday, and he blamed the strike on the lack of such a system.

GIVE BARGAINING RIGHTS

"Fundamentally, the reason for this strike was a lack of collective bargaining machinery. This is in the process of being rectified—as speedily as possible as far as the government is concerned," he said.

William Houle, Montreal president of the Postal Employees' Association, told the meeting that failure to win retroactivity to Oct. 1, 1964, for the whole increase was "unsatisfactory," but that otherwise he was happy.

The government had earlier agreed to an increase of $300 to $360 retroactive to Oct. 1 but would not bulge on its stand that the additional increase based on Judge J. C. Anderson's report would only be effective as of Aug. 1.

Judge Anderson was appointed a one-man commission to study federal government Class D salaries in the wake of the postal workers' strike which started July 22 and spread to 75 centres, including 70 per cent of the country's postal workers, and affected B.C., Ontario and Quebec. There are 35,000 other federal government employees in Class D occupations.

OVERHAUL ACT

Another victory the postal workers won was a promise by the government to overhaul the

ROYAL COMMISSION

Thatcher Told Cut Inefficiency

REGINA (CP) — A well-run business firm could tell the Saskatchewan government a thing or two about efficiency, a royal commission said today.

The commission, headed by Mr. Justice F. W. Johnson, made public a 1,040-page report, the result of a year-long study of how the government conducts its day-to-day business.

The report said the government needs a large dose of "modern management science" to streamline its operations. Savings could amount to as much as $15,000,000 a year, it said.

The commission was set up by Premier Ross Thatcher's Liberal government shortly after Mr. Thatcher took office in mid-1964. A major election campaign promise of the Liberals was that they would streamline government operations.

TAKE YEARS

The commission said it will take some years to carry out most or all of its 177 specific recommendations.

The commission suggested that a new government department, under a cabinet minister, be set up to supervise day-to-day government operations.

The new department would co-ordinate the programs of existing government departments such as health and education departments. It would provide advice to the existing government departments on how to manage their programs day-by-day.

It would co-ordinate the construction of government buildings, taking over the functions of the present public works department, and co-ordinate the hiring of civil servants.

BRAINPOWER POOLS

The new department, to be called the department of central government services, also would help set up pools of brainpower and talent to tackle the government's programs.

A government program that would make use of such a pool of talent and brainpower might be, for example, a new medical care insurance scheme.

The royal commission said it was "surprised and disturbed at the lack of program planning in government."

The commission said inefficiency and lack of long-range planning are making the government clumsy and slow in meeting the needs of the province's citizens.

SAVE $12 MILLIONS

The commission said the day-by-day administration of government programs and services in Saskatchewan now costs about $25,000,000. This could be halved if the government spends $800,000 in applying modern management techniques, the commission said.

It said the new department of central government services could provide computer services for other departments. The new department could handle purchases of equipment and supplies such as typewriters, pencils, file-cards, paper, automobiles and trucks.

The commission recommended that a management adviser be appointed to continue the work of the commission on a permanent basis.

"It is not good enough to leave reassessment of management techniques and methods to an occasional royal commission," it said.

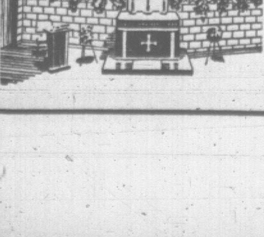
Camp Seeks New Site

Sunshine camp property at Sooke will be sold and the camp relocated.

Dr. Hugh Borsman, board president of the family and Children's Services, said the camp will be established at a more remote site and with swimming facilities.

He said the decision to move the camp to another site was based on two years of careful study.

The water was too cold for swimming and the surrounding area was rapidly become residential, he explained.



Facts About FUNERAL SERVICE That Every Family should know!

GEN. TAYLOR

SAYS TAYLOR

Bombing Hanoi No Help

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, retiring U.S. ambasador to Saigon, contends the United States does not need to bomb Hanoi to win the war in Viet Nam.

"We need the leadership in Hanoi to make agreements" on a peace settlement, Taylor said.

The general's thinking followed the line of other U.S. officials, who have said that China is not likely to enter the war unless the very existence of the Hanoi government is threatened.

So far, American warplanes have steered clear of both Hanoi and the nearby industrial port complex of Haiphong.

Defending the effectiveness of the air strikes, Taylor admitted that the raids had not stopped Communist infiltration from North to South Viet Nam. But he said they were having a "depressive" effect on Red attempts to bolster the strength of the Viet Cong guerrillas.

On the whole, the results of the raids were "reasonably" good, Taylor said in a television interview.

Group Pickets South Africa Prison Boss

STOCKHOLM (Reuters)—Demonstrators protested the presence of South Africa's prison commissioner, Gen. Johannes Steyn, as the third United Nations congress on crime prevention opened today.

About 20 demonstrators outside the congress building carried placards saying:

"Gen. Steyn — Your prisons are a crime against human rights," and "Gen. Steyn—Stop torturing political prisoners."

Steyn, who arrived shortly after the nine-day congress opened, walked into the building without answering reporters' questions.

Lightning Kills Four Under 18

By THE CANADIAN PRESS

Four young persons, all under 18, were killed by lightning while on camping trips in Ontario during the weekend. Another youth was electrocuted while repairing his car.

Dennis, 8, and Donna Palmateer, 7, were killed Saturday when lightning struck their tent during a thunder shower while they were camping in the Sharbot Lake area, 50 miles northwest of Kingston. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Palmateer of Belleville, escaped unhurt.

Two United States Boy Scouts were killed and another injured Saturday when lightning struck the canoe they were using as shelter from a rainstorm on a small island in Fish Lake 30 miles southwest of Sudbury.

Dead are James Robert Tritton, 17, and Charles Leviom both of Shaker Heights, Ohio. James Markus, 12, was flown to hospital with burns on his leg, neck and eyes.

CANOE TRIP

Provincial police said the drill was faulty and the ground was still wet following a heavy rain in the area.

Lightning Kills Golfers

LOUISVILLE, Ga. (AP) — Lightning killed two golfers Sunday during a sudden storm at the Louisville golf course. The men had taken shelter under a metal shed when lightning struck apparently jumped from the tree to the shed and then to an umbrella the men were holding.

THE ISSUE IS OVER-SPENDING VERSUS LOWER TAXES!

VICTORIA'S MILL RATE IS UP approx. 10% this year, despite the MANY LARGE PROPERTIES ADDED to the tax rolls and the $2,000,000 GIFT from the McPherson Estate.

THE INCREASING DISPARITY of the city mill rate (62.9) compared with the much lower mill rates in the neighboring municipalities tends to depress city property values—EXAMPLE: Nearly all senior city employees find our taxes too high and so buy homes in the municipalities. Most people have just paid their taxes and the 10% increase still hurts.

IF TAXPAYERS REMAIN INDIFFERENT, taxes will continue to spiral upwards—UNTIL taxpayers wake up, and use their votes to show disapproval.

Colt League Final Goes Down to Wire

Oregon's champions kept alive their hopes of winning the regional Colt League baseball title this morning by blanking Hawaii's Kaneoha Colts 5-0 at Royal Athletic Park.

The poised youngsters from Tri-Cities, Wash., thus forced a deciding game that was scheduled to get under way at noon.

Mike Sheeran's three-hit shutout stopped the previously-unbeaten Hawaiians this morning.

Rain, which fell steadily Sunday afternoon, kept the two finalists in Victoria for an extra day after officials were forced to postpone Sunday's scheduled windup in the double-loss elimination tourney.

Since the winner must be ready to step into action Thursday in the divisional tournament at Ukiah, Calif., officials of the regional meet were ready with alternate plans in case rain again washed out this morning's game.

It had been agreed in an emergency meeting Sunday night that if the game was unable to start promptly at 10 this morning, the clubs would leave Victoria at 10:30 and decide the title Tuesday at Richland, Wash.

The Kaneoha kids went into the final round needing only one victory to sew up a berth in the divisional playoff.

Tri-Cities became the other finalist Saturday night by blanking Victoria 9-0 after the local club had hopes alive with a pulsating 1-0 triumph over Penticton.

The Victorians played their best game of the tourney to oust Penticton but they couldn't find the pitching or the batting to cope with the Oregon champs in the evening tussle.

It was the second straight shutout win for Tri-Cities, which again looked like the most solid club in the rain-plagued meet. But in between their two shutouts, the Tri-Cities lads ran into Hawaii and in that one their poise and polish vanished when the fleet Hawaiians started dashing around the basepaths and turned a 5-0 deficit into a 7-6, extra-inning triumph.

Thus, the question going into the final was whether or not the bigger Tri-Cities lads could retain their composure against the daring runners from the Islands.

MIC THE MASTER

They looked capable of doing just that in the romp past Victoria, which couldn't muster pitching skill or defensive strength to stay in contention. And the Oregon champs sent Mic Hunt to the mound. The cool righthander breezed along to a two-hit win for his second shutout in his two games.

Hunt's mates made things easy by pounding out seven hits, stealing seven bases and capitalizing on five wild pitches, seven bases on balls, five errors, a balk and a few mental mixups in the Victoria defence.

KNOWLES DOUSES FIRE

It was a vastly different Victoria squad from the one which had eliminated Penticton, which had its best scoring chance in the sixth inning.

John Knowles, who had won a no-hitter over the interior club in Victoria's opening game, came on with the bases loaded and none out. He struck out two batters to end that threat and repeated the two-strikeout escape in the seventh after a base on balls and passed ball had put the tieing run on second base.

Brian Paul started on the mound against Tri-Cities and Knowles, who had only five innings of pitching eligibility remaining for the tourney, came on in the second with four runs in.

He allowed one run in his five innings and Brian Craig was the victim of a four-run, Tri-Cities uprising in the seventh.

PRACTICE HELPS NICKLAUS

Take This Tip From the Top

Two strokes behind after 54 holes in the $125,000 Philadelphia golf classic Saturday, he went out and practised for about an hour and a half.

"I was hitting the ball lower than I wanted to and worked on getting it up higher," he said Sunday after overtaking the leaders for his second straight victory in the Philadelphia tournament.

The practice paid off with the $24,300 first prize, boosting his 1965 earnings to $114,000 and just $14,340 off the single-season money record set by Arnold Palmer in 1963. He can surpass it this week in the PGA championship.

Deadlocked with three others at nine under par with two holes to play he rammed home a 45-foot putt for an eagle three on the 515-yard par five 17th hole. Nicklaus made a key shot on the 17th. His drive was in the rough behind trees. He used a wedge to loft the ball onto the green, 45 feet past the cup, from where he putted in for the win.

Nicklaus carded a 71-65-73-68—277 over the par 36-36—72 Whitemarsh Valley Country Club course. His 11-under-par 72 hole total gave him a one stroke win over Joe Campbell and Doug Sanders. Randy Glover was fourth with 280. Gary Player and Tony Lema were next at 281.

Not All Kicking Needed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Buffalo Bills are getting a boot out of a Billy Joe but the American Football League champions could do without some of Pete Gogolak's kicking.

Gogolak, who has been kicking about his contract and has threatened to play out his option, booted three field goals in his soccer-style fashion, and Joe rambled 38 yards for a touchdown Sunday as the Bills opened their exhibition schedule with a 23-0 victory over Boston Patriots.

Joe gained 61 yards in seven carries against the Patriots and also grabbed three passes for 25 yards.

Cookie Gilchrist, a former Canadian Football League star, scored two touchdowns on short runs but Denver lost to Kansas City Chiefs 30-24. In other AFL exhibition games, Don Trull stole Joe Namath's thunder, as Houston Oilers defeated New York Jets 21-16 and Kent McCloughan led Oakland Raiders to a 10-3 victory over San Diego Chargers.

Washington Redskins humbled Philadelphia Eagles 37-0 in the only National League exhibition game.

Larks Just Miss Upsetting Tricats

HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton Tiger-Cats minus Bernie Faloney turned out to be better than Faloney minus the Ticats—but just barely.

Wearing the unfamiliar uniform of Montreal Alouettes, the 33-year-old quarterback came within less than four minutes of humiliating the team that traded him away last season. But the defending Eastern Football Conference champions rallied for an 18-9 victory Saturday night in the regular schedule opener for both clubs.

Joe Zuger and Frank Cosentino, Faloney's understudies before an eight-player deal that sent Bernie to Montreal, floundered against a formidable Alouette defence that included three more former Tiger-Cats. Cosentino engineered two late touchdowns that snatched victory from the underdog visitors in the game's dying minutes.

Up to that point, Faloney was making the most of a Montreal offensive alignment in which perennial all-star George Dixon was the only effective halfback.

Dixon's one-handed grab of a Faloney pass resulted in a 28-yard touchdown play in the first quarter after Don Sutherin's field goal had given Hamilton an early lead. Montreal stretched the lead to 9-3 before the quarter ended on a field goal by Bill Bewley, playing his first game after a three-year retirement.

COSENTINO CLICKS

Zuger, replaced by Cosentino at quarterback when he was unable to move the club in the first quarter, reduced the margin to 9-5 with singles in the second and third quarters but the Hamilton offence continued to sputter until Cosentino's passes suddenly began to click in the fourth.

Moving the club 76 yards in 10 plays, the 27-year-old backup man for Faloney in five of his seven years in Hamilton eventually found Stan Crisson with a six-yard end-zone pass at 11:38 for the winning touchdown.

Halfback Johnny Counts scampered over from 11 yards out with the clinching score 15 seconds before the final whistle after the Alouettes lost the ball on a third-down gamble deep in their own territory. Sutherin kicked the only successful convert of the night to close out the scoring.

Faloney completed seven of his 18 passes for 102 yards. Several others were dropped by jittery receivers. The combined Hamilton total was 105 yards as Zuger and Cosentino completed eight of 17 attempts. Both sides intercepted once.

SMOGY DEW SCORES . . . . . . AT EX PARK

Longden in Limelight

VANCOUVER—The world's winningest jockey is scheduled to ride at Exhibition Park on Wednesday.

B.C. Jockey Club officials announced Saturday that Johnny Longden would arrive in Vancouver today and would accept mounts for Wednesday's card.

Longden has announced that he will retire when he has ridden his 6,000th winner.

At Del Mar track in California last week he rode his 5,996th victory.

Smogy Dew, a Washington State-owned filly, won the $5,260-added "Stepping Stone Handicap" before a crowd of 7,834 at Exhibition Park Saturday.

Smogy Dew moved into the lead on the final bend and won by a neck over the fast-closing Gladys Ann.

The winner ran the mile and 70 yards in 1:42 1/5, just two-fifths of a second off the track record.

Welcome Pardner managed to crack the track record for six and one-half furlongs in the fifth race with a time of 1:17, one-fifth of a second better than the record set by Veteran Observer.

Lions' Top Tune? It's 'Hello Willie'

Fleming Sparks Patented Attack

By BILL WALKER
(Times News Editor)

EMPIRE STADIUM—All's right with the world in the home of the Grey Cup football champions—and will be at least until Monday night next.

The B.C. Lions saw to that with a vengeance on Saturday night as they whipped Edmonton Eskimos 38-13 before 32,055 fans.

This was the first home start for the Lions after last year's 34-24 victory over the Hamilton Tiger-Cats in the Grey Cup final.

And it followed a 23-21 defeat in the season's opener by the Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

The word in that one was "thrashed," with the inference being that the Lions were "fat" from last year's cup win and fit to be had.

But such was not to be on Saturday.

They were fit, yes, but fat, no!

And in victory they simply rewrote a chapter (that is fast becoming a book) out of last year's success story.

LIONS' SYSTEM

The patent then was:
Kapp to Fleming;
Fleming by himself;
Swift up the middle;
Kapp on a keeper.

Saturday there were the usual two bucks and a kick to start things off.

Then it was "Hello Willie" after a well-known musical of similar name.

Joe Kapp hit Willie Fleming with a 45-yard pass and it was Bob Swift up the middle for one yard and the touchdown.

PESKY TYPES

The Eskimos still argued and even as late as the 12-minute mark of the third quarter were much alive although trailing 14-7.

Enter Grey Cup hero Bill Munsey.

He intercepted a Randy Kerbow pass on the 45 and bulled his way over the defenders to the nine.

Kapp kept, and kept again and the Lions were leading 21-7.

Norm Fieldgate made another interception and Fleming took it from there on a 12-yard pass from Kapp.

BULLOCKS SCORES

Reserve quarterback Steve Shafer engineered the final major with newcomer Amos Bullocks doing the honors.

For Edmonton, Bill Tobin smashed over from the one for the first half score and Kerbow kept after an 80-yard march in the second half.

The other point was on a 65-yard kick in the first quarter.

And they were good in this one;

Good enough to win handily;

Good with a sound defensive line;

And good with a hard-charging offensive unit.

FLEMING TERRIFIC

But best of all from a spectator's standpoint, on this night they had the best halfback in Canadian football.

Fleming was terrific, and in the words of the trade . . . "did everything asked."

He made 99 yards in eight carries.

He set up two touchdowns.

He scored one.

But best of all, he ran all over the field as only Willie Fleming can do—and there's no prettier sight in Canadian football.

AERIAL SUCCESSES

On the other hand the Eskimos did probe the Lions' pass defence succesfuly for 20 completions in 36 attempts and caught the Lion defenders napping on two trick plays.

One was a long pass off a double reverse and the other a long gainer off a fake kick which helped to set up a touchdown.

In a close game they could have spelled trouble.

At any rate the real showdown is soon due.

ESKS' DEFENCE SURPRISES

Lions were suprised by a staunch Eskimo defensive line but they effectively skirted it for a total ground gain of 250 yards.

Fleming ran 99 yards and covered 70 yards on passes. Edmonton's Tommy-Joe Coffey never missed a chance all night taking 11 passes for 138 yards.

Fans witnessed 10 B.C. penalties at a cost of 112 yards, as well as a sparring match that sent Edmonton's Charlie Brown and B.C.'s Greg Findlay out of the game.

ROCKS PLAY TONIGHT

'Big Letdown' Does It Again

COQUITLAM — This has been the year of the "big letdown" in more ways than one for Victoria Shamrocks of the Inter-City Lacrosse League.

The unhappy Irish have rarely lived up to pre-season notices this season. As a result, they're out of the playdowns.

One of the reasons is the mid-game letdowns that have haunted coach Jim McNeill all season.

A case in point was offered Saturday night. Victoria led 3-2 after the first quarter, and looked good doing it. Then came the letdown.

SCHOOL'S OUT

Coquitlam Adanacs rammed in six goals in the second quarter, five in the third, and simply waltzed to a 14-4 victory.

The two clubs tangle again tonight in Victoria's Memorial Arena, re-scheduling last Wednesday's postponement.

Jack Barclay was the game's top scorer with three goals and two assists. Ken Oddy, Bill Bradley and Rod Kilduff each scored twice for Coquitlam. Playing-coach Gordie Gimple scored one goal and added three assists. Mike Gates added one goal and two assists.

TWO FOR REG

Reg Foster scored twice for Victoria. Tom Black and Bill Gray scored the others.

Alf Shuker stopped 34 shots for Victoria. Coquitlam used two goalies successfully, Merv Schweitzer played 30 minutes and didn't allow a goal. Joe Comeau stopped 15 shots in his 30 minutes in the Coquitlam net.

Blue Boys Best In Softball Ranks

Blue Boys, who will play in the Canadian tournament in Calgary August 13-15, defeated Vancouver Fraser Arms 3-0 to reach the final; Eldorados eliminated Nanaimo with a 4-1 win in their semi-final bout.

Sparked by a two-hit shutout by Howie Chang, Nanaimo eliminated Victoria's Century Inn from the championships Saturday night.

Bob Squires scored Nanaimo's winning run with a home run over 250-foot mark at the right field foul line. A fifth inning single by Earl Robinson provided an insurance marker.

Ron Clarke's single in the third inning drove home the winning run for Blue Boys. Victoria narrowed the lead to one run in the sixth inning but failed to score in the seventh.

Lions' Top Tune? It's 'Hello Willie'

Fleming Sparks Patented Attack

By BILL WALKER
(Times News Editor)

EMPIRE STADIUM—All's right with the world in the home of the Grey Cup football champions—and will be at least until Monday night next.

The B.C. Lions saw to that with a vengeance on Saturday night as they whipped Edmonton Eskimos 38-13 before 32,055 fans.

This was the first home start for the Lions after last year's 34-24 victory over the Hamilton Tiger-Cats in the Grey Cup final.

And it followed a 23-21 defeat in the season's opener by the Winnipeg Blue Bombers.

The word in that one was "thrashed," with the inference being that the Lions were "fat" from last year's cup win and fit to be had.

But such was not to be on Saturday.

They were fit, yes, but fat, no!

And in victory they simply rewrote a chapter (that is fast becoming a book) out of last year's success story.

LIONS' SYSTEM

The patent then was:

Kapp to Fleming;
Fleming by himself;
Swift up the middle;
Kapp on a keeper.

Saturday there were the usual two bucks and a kick to start things off.

Then it was "Hello Willie" after a well-known musical of similar name.

Joe Kapp hit Willie Fleming with a 45-yard pass and it was Bob Swift up the middle for one yard and the touchdown.

PESKY TYPES

The Eskimos still argued and even as late as the 12-minute mark of the third quarter were much alive although trailing 14-7.

Enter Grey Cup hero Bill Munsey.

He intercepted a Randy Kerbow pass on the 45 and bulled his way over the defenders to the nine.

Kapp kept, and kept again and the Lions were leading 21-7.

BULLOCKS SCORES

Reserve quarterback Steve Shafer engineered the final major with newcomer Amos Bullocks doing the honors.

For Edmonton, Bill Tobin smashed over from the one for the first half score and Kerbow kept after an 80-yard march in the second half.

The other point was on a 65-yard kick in the first quarter.

And they were good in this one;

Good enough to win handily;

Good with a sound defensive line;

And good with a hard-charging offensive unit.

FLEMING TERRIFIC

But best of all, from a spectator's standpoint, on this night they had the best halfback in Canadian football.

Fleming was terrific, and in the words of the trade . . . "did everything asked."

He made 99 yards in eight carries.

He set up two touchdowns.

He scored one.

But best of all, he ran all over the field as only Willie Fleming can do—and there's no prettier sight in Canadian football.

AERIAL SUCCESSES

On the other hand the Eskimos did probe the Lions' pass defence succesfuly for 20 completions in 36 attempts and caught the Lion defenders napping on two trick plays.

One was a long pass off a double reverse and the other a long gainer off a fake kick which helped to set up a touchdown.

In a close game they could have spelled trouble.

At any rate the real showdown is soon due.

ESKS' DEFENCE SURPRISES

Lions were suprised by a staunch Eskimo defensive line but they effectively skirted it for a total ground gain of 250 yards.

Fleming ran 99 yards and covered 70 yards on passes. Edmonton's Tommy-Joe Coffey never missed a chance all night taking 11 passes for 138 yards.

Fans witnessed 10 B.C. penalties at a cost of 112 yards, as well as a sparring match that sent Edmonton's Charlie Brown and B.C.'s Greg Findlay out of the game.

COQUITLAM—This has been the year of the "big letdown" in more ways than one for Victoria Shamrocks of the Inter-City Lacrosse League.

The unhappy Irish have rarely lived up to pre-season notices this season. As a result, they're out of the playdowns.

A case in point was offered Saturday night. Victoria led 3-2 after the first quarter, and looked good doing it. Then came the letdown.

SCHOOL'S OUT

Coquitlam Adanacs rammed in six goals in the second quarter, five in the third, and simply waltzed to a 14-4 victory.

The two clubs tangle again tonight in Victoria's Memorial Arena, re-scheduling last Wednesday's postponement.

Jack Barclay was the game's top scorer with three goals and two assists. Ken Oddy, Bill Bradley and Rod Kilduff each scored twice for Coquitlam. Playing-coach Gordie Gimple scored one goal and added three assists. Mike Gates added one goal and two assists.

TWO FOR REG

Reg Foster scored twice for Victoria. Tom Black and Bill Gray scored the others.

Alf Shuker stopped 34 shots for Victoria. Coquitlam used two goalies successfully, Merv Schweitzer played 30 minutes and didn't allow a goal. Joe Comeau stopped 15 shots in his 30 minutes in the Coquitlam net.

Schultz Tops Salmon Derby

Win Rose placed second in the event with an eight-pound, four-ounce coho. Other winners were Roy Rendle, Bob Redgrave, Ken Smith, Mrs. Caldwell, Frank Jenvey, Sid Upton, Bud Watson and A. Johns.

Morrisons Claim Junior Ball Title

Morrison pitcher Rollie Clark, who had been charged with a 6-5 loss in the first game, won the title-clinching contest with a five-hit pitching performance.

Colt League Final Goes Down to Wire

Oregon's champions kept alive their hopes of winning the regional Colt League baseball title this morning by blanking Hawaii's Kaneoha Colts 5-0 at Royal Athletic Park.

The poised youngsters from Tri-Cities, Wash., thus forced a deciding game that was scheduled to get under way at noon.

Mike Sheeran's three-hit shutout stopped the previously-unbeaten Hawaiians this morning.

Rain, which fell steadily Sunday afternoon, kept the two finalists in Victoria for an extra day after officials were forced to postpone Sunday's scheduled windup in the double-loss elimination tourney.

Since the winner must be ready to step into action Thursday in the divisional tournament at Ukiah, Calif., officials of the regional meet were ready with alternate plans in case rain again washed out this morning's game.

It had been agreed in an emergency meeting Sunday night that if the game was unable to start promptly at 10 this morning, the clubs would leave Victoria at 10:30 and decide the title Tuesday at Richland, Wash.

The Kaneoha kids went into the final round needing only one victory to sew up a berth in the divisional playoff.

Tri-Cities became the other finalist Saturday night by blanking Victoria 9-0 after the local club had hopes alive with a pulsating 1-0 triumph over Penticton.

The Victorians played their best game of the tourney to oust Penticton but they couldn't find the pitching or the batting to cope with the Oregon champs in the evening tussle.

It was the second straight shutout win for Tri-Cities, which again looked like the most solid club in the rain-plagued meet. But in between their two shutouts, the Tri-Cities lads ran into Hawaii and in that one their poise and polish vanished when the fleet Hawaiians started dashing around the basepaths and turned a 5-0 deficit into a 7-6, extra-inning triumph.

MIC THE MASTER

They looked capable of doing just that in the romp past Victoria, which couldn't muster pitching skill or defensive strength to stay in contention. And the Oregon champs sent Mic Hunt to the mound. The cool righthander breezed along to a two-hit win for his second shutout in his two games.

Hunt's mates made things easy by pounding out seven hits, stealing seven bases and capitalizing on five wild pitches, seven bases on balls, five errors, a balk and a few mental mixups in the Victoria defence.

KNOWLES DOUSES FIRE

It was a vastly different Victoria squad from the one which had eliminated Penticton, which had its best scoring chance in the sixth inning.

John Knowles, who had won a no-hitter over the interior club in Victoria's opening game, came on with the bases loaded and none out. He struck out two batters to end that threat and repeated the two-strikeout escape in the seventh after a base on balls and passed ball had put the tieing run on second base.

Brian Paul started on the mound against Tri-Cities and Knowles, who had only five innings of pitching eligibility remaining for the tourney, came on in the second with four runs in.

He allowed one run in his five innings and Brian Craig was the victim of a four-run, Tri-Cities uprising in the seventh.

PRACTICE HELPS NICKLAUS

Take This Tip From the Top

Two strokes behind after 54 holes in the $125,000 Philadelphia golf classic Saturday, he went out and practised for about an hour and a half.

"I was hitting the ball lower than I wanted to and worked on getting it up higher," he said Sunday after overtaking the leaders for his second straight victory in the Philadelphia tournament.

The practice paid off with the $24,300 first prize, boosting his 1965 earnings to $114,000 and just $14,340 off the single-season money record set by Arnold Palmer in 1963. He can surpass it this week in the PGA championship.

Deadlocked with three others at nine under par with two holes to play he rammed home a 45-foot putt for an eagle three on the 515-yard par five 17th hole. Nicklaus made a key shot on the 17th. His drive was in the rough behind trees. He used a wedge to loft the ball onto the green, 45 feet past the cup, from where he putted in for the win.

Nicklaus carded a 71-65-73-68—277 over the par 36-36—72 Whitemarsh Valley Country Club course. His 11-under-par 72 hole total gave him a one stroke win over Joe Campbell and Doug Sanders. Randy Glover was fourth with 280. Gary Player and Tony Lema were next at 281.

Not All Kicking Needed

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Buffalo Bills are getting a boot out of a Billy Joe but the American Football League champions could do without some of Pete Gogolak's kicking.

Gogolak, who has been kicking about his contract and has threatened to play out his option, booted three field goals in his soccer-style fashion, and Joe rambled 38 yards for a touchdown Sunday as the Bills opened their exhibition schedule with a 23-0 victory over Boston Patriots.

Joe gained 61 yards in seven carries against the Patriots and also grabbed three passes for 25 yards.

Cookie Gilchrist, a former Canadian Football League star, scored two touchdowns on short runs but Denver lost to Kansas City Chiefs 30-24. In other AFL exhibition games, Don Trull stole Joe Namath's thunder, as Houston Oilers defeated New York Jets 21-16 and Kent McCloughan led Oakland Raiders to a 10-3 victory over San Diego Chargers.

Washington Redskins humbled Philadelphia Eagles 37-0 in the only National League exhibition game.

Larks Just Miss Upsetting Tricats

HAMILTON (CP) — Hamilton Tiger-Cats minus Bernie Faloney turned out to be better than Faloney minus the Ticats—but just barely.

Wearing the unfamiliar uniform of Montreal Alouettes, the 33-year-old quarterback came within less than four minutes of humiliating the team that traded him away last season. But the defending Eastern Football Conference champions rallied for an 18-9 victory Saturday night in the regular schedule opener for both clubs.

Joe Zuger and Frank Cosentino, Faloney's understudies before an eight-player deal that sent Bernie to Montreal, floundered against a formidable Alouette defence that included three more former Tiger-Cats. Cosentino engineered two late touchdowns that snatched victory from the underdog visitors in the game's dying minutes.

Up to that point, Faloney was making the most of a Montreal offensive alignment in which perennial all-star George Dixon was the only effective halfback.

Dixon's one-handed grab of a Faloney pass resulted in a 28-yard touchdown play in the first quarter after Don Sutherin's field goal had given Hamilton an early lead. Montreal stretched the lead to 9-3 before the quarter ended on a field goal by Bill Bewley, playing his first game after a three-year retirement.

COSENTINO CLICKS

Zuger, replaced by Cosentino at quarterback when he was unable to move the club in the first quarter, reduced the margin to 9-5 with singles in the second and third quarters but the Hamilton offence continued to sputter until Cosentino's passes suddenly began to click in the fourth.

Moving the club 76 yards in 10 plays, the 27-year-old backup man for Faloney in five of his seven years in Hamilton eventually found Stan Crisson with a six-yard end-zone pass at 11:38 for the winning touchdown.

Halfback Johnny Counts scampered over from 11 yards out with the clinching score 15 seconds before the final whistle after the Alouettes lost the ball on a third-down gamble deep in their own territory. Sutherin kicked the only successful convert of the night to close out the scoring.

Faloney completed seven of his 18 passes for 102 yards. Several others were dropped by jittery receivers. The combined Hamilton total was 105 yards as Zuger and Cosentino completed eight of 17 attempts. Both sides intercepted once.

SMOGY DEW SCORES . . . . . . AT EX PARK

Longden in Limelight

VANCOUVER—The world's winningest jockey is scheduled to ride at Exhibition Park on Wednesday.

B.C. Jockey Club officials announced Saturday that Johnny Longden would arrive in Vancouver today and would accept mounts for Wednesday's card.

Longden has announced that he will retire when he has ridden his 6,000th winner.

At Del Mar track in California last week he rode his 5,996th victory.

Smogy Dew, a Washington State-owned filly, won the $5,260-added "Stepping Stone Handicap" before a crowd of 7,834 at Exhibition Park Saturday.

Smogy Dew moved into the lead on the final bend and won by a neck over the fast-closing Gladys Ann.

The winner ran the mile and 70 yards in 1:42 1/5, just two-fifths of a second off the track record.

Welcome Pardner managed to crack the track record for six and one-half furlongs in the fifth race with a time of 1:17, one-fifth of a second better than the record set by Veteran Observer.

(Results on page 14.)
